Santelli, 2002-01-01 Foundations of Economic Personalism is a series of three book length monographs each closely examining a significant dimension of the Center for Economic Personalism's unique synthesis of Christian personalism and free economic market theory In the aftermath of the momentous geo political and economic changes of the late 1980s a small group of Christian social ethicists began to converse with free market economists over the morality of market activity This interdisciplinary exchange eventually led to the founding of a new academic subdiscipline under the rubric of economic personalism These scholars attempt to integrate economic theory history and methodology with Christian personalism's stress upon human dignity humane social structures and social justice This final volume in the series systematically applies the praxeological from the first volume and theoretical from the second volume foundations of the personalist tradition to free market economic theory Unlike the previous two this work defends economic liberty in theologically sensitive terms that reference the personalist tradition without compromising the disciplinary integrity of either economics or social ethics

Gorgoglione,2011-02-25 The Worth of the Individual, the Value of Work, and the Power of the Mind Joseph T. Allmon,2010-10-11 This volume contains the unpublished writings of the late Joe Allmon edited by his son Warren Joe Allmon grew up poor in Depression era Mississippi and became a Baptist minister like his father But he suffered a crisis of faith as a young man and switched careers to become a human resources executive applying many of the counseling skills he had developed in the ministry His life in corporate America however was unusual As the writings collected here eloquently demonstrate he was always in the process of becoming something else and expanding whatever mold he was in Joe Allmon was a Baptist minister who became a Unitarian He was a white southerner who became dedicated to equality of opportunity regardless of race He was a corporate executive who unpretentiously quoted Shakespeare and the Bible wrote poetry and could read Greek and Hebrew He was a Mississippian who had deep admiration for northeastern culture and Ivy league education He was a Republican devotee of laissez faire who wound up proudly voting for liberal Democrats His life was in a way dedicated constantly to struggle to be smarter more educated more cultured never poor again and to leave the world a slightly better place Although he spent almost 20 very influential years living in New York Joe was rooted in the South His strongest memories were always of Mississippi He was shaped by the regions complex history and sometimes contradictory qualities poverty beauty cruelty grace religion gentility ignorance tradition conservatism and the struggle for a better life His life spanned and contributed to a remarkable social and cultural transformation of this region The writings in this volume are divided into three sections First is a selection of the scores of sermons he delivered from his time as a divinity student at Theological Seminary to his service as a Naval chaplain The second includes speeches Joe gave from the 1950s to the 1980s Most of these were given as part of his job as a human resources executive but this included not just personnel matters such as compensation recruiting and training but also serving as a general spokesperson for the company to various public audiences Toward the end of his career Joe was not only invited to talk as a representative of the corporation but also as a respected commentator on business related topics in his own right A number of the speeches are also connected to his not for profit involvements including his association for 50 years with Unitarian Universalism At the end of the volume is a short section that includes a short fragment of a novel and the small number of poems and pieces of prose In their emphasis on individual merit and effort combined with equal opportunity and an intellectual approach to human resources the business speeches are valuable for their own sake What holds them together with the rest is that they all focus on a limited set of themes the worth of the individual regardless of race or background the value of work and the power of the mind Joe Allmon strongly believed in these three things and he applied them to almost everything he did from his paying job to his volunteer work to his family life The worth of the individual For Joe every person was inherently important and worthy of respect and being listened to no matter what their background or point of view He loved to talk to people and he loved to listen He loved to hear peoples stories where they were coming from why they thought what they did He loved conversation and the learning that he said always resulted He thought that everyone had something interesting to say and that you could always learn something from talking to someone no matter who they were The value of work Like many of his generation which grew up in the Great Depression Joe knew the importance of hard work Although his family was not among the poorest of the poor th

SOW YOUR FALLOW GROUND Charles Simms, 2012-01-20 Sow Your Fallow Ground begins the discussion of how you choose what action to take for social justice You must be the judge of why to take action but the reasons to do so are fully explained in the Bible The reason we have the power to choose is our ability to imagine the future effects of immediate choices still we often neglect that God-given ability Sow Your Fallow Ground is about communication in light of the science of human action the communication that separates humankind from lesser life forms These concepts merge easily with the authentic Bible in spite of the belief by many that the Bible and natural science are mutually exclusive The science of praxeology which is the common name for human action teaches us how we make hundreds of choices every day How we make those choices is a value free science still without some kind of rudder compass or guiding star we drift into every kind of faulty behavior from unhealthy addictions to economic booms busts and wars There is a very important connection between the infallible Bible human action science neither humanism nor psychology and economics as a single subject Like the biblical Trinity or a three-legged stool they are different aspects of the same thing the choices we make
