Callid Keefe-Perry, 2014-09-10 Way to Water has two primary intentions to trace the development of the nascent field of theological inquiry known as theopoetics and to make an argument that theopoetics provides both theological and practical resources for contemporary people of faith who seek to maintain a confessional Christian life that is also intellectually critical Beginning with the work of Stanley Hopper in the late 1960s and addressing the early scholarship of key theopoetics authors like Rubem Alves and Amos Wilder this text explores how theopoetics was originally developed as a response to the American death of God movement and has since grown into a method for engaging in theological thought in a way that more fully honors embodiment and aesthetic dimensions of human experience Most of the extant literature in the field is addressed to allow for a cumulative and comprehensive articulation of the nature and function of theopoetics The text includes an exploration of how theopoetic insights might aid in the development of tangible church practices and concludes with a series of theopoetic reflections Water Conflicts Mark Zeitoun, Naho Mirumachi, Jeroen Warner, 2020 The book breaks from the existing mold by deploying lively concepts and theory that shine a line on the dynamic interactions between states that are obliged to share a water resource whether or not they want to The Concept of Water Rupert D. The Waiting Water Alexander Sorenson,2024-09-15 The Waiting Water addresses one of the most recurrent and troubling motifs in German Realist literature death by drowning Characters find themselves before bodies of water presented with the familiar realm above the surface and the unobservable uncanny domain beneath it With somber regularity they then disappear into the depths Alexander Sorenson explores the role that these hidden deaths in water play within a literary movement that set out precisely to reveal universal truths about human life The poetics of submergence he argues revolve around two concepts fundamental to Poetic Realism order and sacrifice Focusing on texts by Adalbert Stifter Gottfried Keller Marie von Ebner Eschenbach and Theodor Storm along with material from earlier and later epochs The Waiting Water shows that the pervasive symbolism of drowning scenes in German Realism which typically occur in zones of narrative invisibility on the social periphery reveals the extent to which realist narrative uses the natural environment to work through deeply embedded and hidden tensions that troubled the social and moral life of the age
