Seeking The Centre The Australian Desert In Literature Art And Film:

Seeking the Centre Roslynn D. Haynes, 1998 The desert has a hypnotic presence in Australian culture simultaneously alluring and repellent The Centre is distant and unknown to most Australians yet has become a symbol of the country This exciting book highly illustrated in full colour reveals the singular impact that the desert both geographical and metaphorical has had on Australian culture At the heart of the book is the profound relationship that Aboriginal Australians have with the desert and the complex ways in which they have been seen by white people in this context

Roads, Tourism and Cultural History Rosemary Kerr, 2018-12-20 Roads and road tourism loom large in the Australian imagination as distance and mobility have shaped the nation's history and culture but roads are more than simply transport routes they embody multiple layers of history mythology and symbolism Drawing on Australian travel writing diaries and manuscripts tourism literature fiction poetry and feature films this book explores how Australians have experienced and imagined roads and road touring beyond urban settings from Aboriginal songlines to modern day road trips It also tells the stories of iconic roads including the Birdsville Track Stuart Highway and Great Ocean Road and suggests alternative approaches to heritage and tourism interpretation of these important routes The ongoing impact of the colonial past on Indigenous peoples and contemporary Australian society and culture including representations of the road and road travel is explored throughout the book The volume offers a new way of thinking about roads and road tourism as important strands in a nation's cultural fabric

Animated Landscapes Chris Pallant, 2017-02-23 The first comprehensive study of animated landscapes across media

The Planetary Clock Paul Giles, 2021 Ranging over various aesthetic forms literature film music in the period since 1960 this volume brings an antipodean perspective into conversation with the art and culture of the Northern Hemisphere to reformulate postmodernism as a properly global phenomenon

Rewriting God Elaine Lindsay, 2021-11-22 Women are rarely if ever mentioned in commentaries upon Australian Christianity and spirituality Only exceptional women are recognized as authorities on religious matters Why is this so Does it matter Don't people from the same religious tradition share similar experiences of the divine regardless of their gender Rewriting God asks whether women have been writing about the divine and whether their insights are different from those contained in malestream accounts of Australian Christianity and spirituality An analysis of the writings of popular theologians and religious commentators over the last twenty years suggests that the most popular form of spirituality among Australian theologians is Desert Spirituality An analysis of women's autobiographical writings however suggests that the desert is irrelevant to many women's spiritual experiences This book through a close investigation of the fictions of Thea Astley Elizabeth Jolley and Barbara Hanrahan attempts to posit alternative forms of women's spirituality and to signal ways in which this spirituality is already being expressed From the evidence gathered here it becomes obvious that traditional expressions of Australian Christianity and spirituality are gender specific and that they have functioned to deny women's religious experiences and to silence their claims to equality in the sight and service of the divine It becomes obvious too that women have been developing their own forms of religious expression and that these may be expected to supplant gradually withering images of Desert Spirituality Whether this new imagery will strengthen Australian Christianity or whether it merely marks a decline in the authority of Christianity remains a moot point

Before Environmental Law Benjamin J Richardson, 2023-10-05 This landmark open access book unveils the history of defending Australia's natural environment and examines the subject's legal and political contexts from the birth of the nation in 1901 until the advent of the so called modern era of environmental regulation in the late 1960s It rejects the mythology that Australia lacked environmental law before the late 1960s in revealing how many of today's environmental laws from pollution control to nature conservation emerged from precedents or events much earlier in the 20th century This history however reveals a discrepancy between lawmakers greater efficacy to exploit rather than protect the environment a discrepancy that grew as nature's backlash intensified in a rapidly degrading continent colonised to build the Australian nation In exploring these dynamics the book offers a rich tapestry of case studies illustrated with historic photographs that show the origins of Australia's environmental laws and how they borrowed from international precedents or furnished lessons for other nations Through its multi disciplinary enquiry the book offers scholars and students of environmental law legal history and the environmental humanities a unique story about the failures and successes in the making of environmental law The ebook editions of this book are available open access under a CC BY NC ND 4.0 licence on bloomsburycollections.com

The Politics of Cultural Memory Jim Aulich, Lucy Burke, Simon Faulkner, 2020-05-15 This edited collection explores the political dimensions of cultural memory work in its varied forms of representation from public monuments to literary texts Addressing the different ways that cultural texts represent the past in the present the collection demonstrates that cultural memory is something actively made the site of a struggle over meanings that can serve a range of political and cultural purposes The collection offers essays that discuss the politics of cultural memory both in theory and in practice and features work by some of the leading scholars in the field including Susannah Radstone Graham Dawson Felicity Collins and Therese Davis Contributors explore the ways in which memory comes to be articulated through particular cultural practices from film and photography to literature and public monuments all of which have their own codes and conventions modes of address and audiences As such this volume brings together scholars working in a range of disciplines literary studies history art history film studies and in so doing seeks to establish a dialogue between different disciplines and methodologies and to explore cultural memory work in a range of different intellectual fields cultural forms and political and historical contexts for instance the Holocaust Northern Ireland Australia Palestine and the former Soviet Bloc The collection will be of interest to students researchers and scholars working in the area of cultural memory studies for whom it will represent an invaluable collection of current work in the field It will also interest scholars working in the particular areas with which it engages for instance postcolonial studies Holocaust studies Eastern European Studies Irish Studies Art History and English Studies      The Great Conversation Belden C. Lane, 2019 In the face of climate change species loss and vast environmental destruction Belden C Lane's spiritually centered environmentalism suggests that we must look to teachers in nature to understand how to save ourselves Pairing anecdotes of personal encounters with nature with the teachings of spiritual leaders from a range of religious traditions this book invites us to participate once more in the great conversation among all creatures and the earth itself      The Cambridge Companion to Australian Poetry Ann Vickery, 2024-06-30 This volume investigates Australian poetry's centrality to debates around colonialism nationalism diversity embodiment local global relations and the environment      Opera, Emotion, and the Antipodes Volume II Jane Davidson, Michael Halliwell, Stephanie Roche, 2020-12-29 There can be little doubt that opera and emotion are inextricably linked From dramatic plots driven by energetic producers and directors to the conflicts and triumphs experienced by all associated with opera's staging to the reactions and critiques of audience members emotion is omnipresent in opera Yet few contemplate the impact that the customary cultural practices of specific times and places have upon opera's ability to move emotions Taking Australia as a case study this two volume collection of extended essays demonstrates that emotional experiences discourses displays and expressions do not share universal significance but are at least partly produced defined and regulated by culture Spanning approximately 170 years of opera production in Australia the authors show how the emotions associated with the specific cultural context of a nation steeped in egalitarian aspirations and marked by increasing levels of multiculturalism have adjusted to changing cultural and social contexts across time Volume I adopts an historical predominantly nineteenth century perspective while Volume II applies historical musicological and ethnological approaches to discuss subsequent Australian operas and opera productions through to the twenty first century With final chapters pulling threads from the two volumes together Opera Emotion and the Antipodes establishes a model for constructing emotion history from multiple disciplinary perspectives      Witnessing the Past Sigrun Meinig, 2004      Dislocating the Frontier Deborah Bird Rose, Richard Davis, 2006-03-01 The frontier is one of the most pervasive concepts underlying the production of national identity in Australia Recently it has become a highly contested domain in which visions of nationhood are argued out through analysis of frontier conflict DISLOCATING THE FRONTIER departs from this contestation and takes a critical approach to the frontier imagination in Australia The authors of this book work with frontier theory in comparative and unsettling modes The essays reveal diverse aspects of frontier images and dreams as manifested in performance decolonising domains language and cross cultural encounters      The Eighties Frank Bongiorno, 2017-01-12 Winner of the ACT Book of the Year Award Shortlisted for the Ernest Scott Prize and CHASS Australia Prize It was the era of Hawke and Keating Kylie and INXS the America's Cup and the Bicentenary It was perhaps the most controversial decade in Australian history with high flying entrepreneurs booming and busting torrid debates over land rights and immigration the advent of AIDS a harsh recession and the rise of the New Right It was a time when Australians fought for social change on union picket lines at rallies for women's rights and against nuclear weapons and as part of a new environmental movement. And then there were the events that left many scratching their heads. John for Canberra the Australia Card. Cliff Young. In The Eighties Frank Bongiorno brings all this and more to life. He sheds new light on both the ordinary and extraordinary things that happened to Australia and Australians during this liveliest of decades. The definitive account of an inspired, infuriating decade. George Megalogenis. A very impressive achievement. The Monthly. Meaty and entertaining. The Australian. Endurance Deb Anderson, 2014-11-05. Endurance presents stories of ordinary Australians grappling with extraordinary circumstances, providing insight into their lives, their experiences with drought, and their perceptions of climate change. The book opens with the physical impacts, science, politics, and economics of drought and climate change in rural Australia. It then highlights the cultural and historical dimensions, taking us to the Mallee wheat belt where researcher Deb Anderson interviewed farm families from 2004 to 2007 as climate change awareness grew. Each story is grouped into one of three themes: Survival, Uncertainty, and Adaptation. Illustrated with beautiful colour photographs from Museum Victoria, Endurance will appeal to anyone with an interest in life stories, rural Australia, and the environment. The Public Image of Chemistry Joachim Schummer, Bernadette Bensaude-Vincent, Brigitte van Tiggelen, 2007. Stem cells have the ability to differentiate into cells that are found throughout the body. This fundamental property of stem cells suggests that they can potentially be used to replace degenerative cells within the body and regenerate the functional capacity of organ systems that have deteriorated because of disease or aging. This authoritative textbook provides an overview of the latest advances in the field of stem cell biology, spanning topics that include nuclear reprogramming, somatic cell cloning, and determinants of cell fate; embryonic stem cells for hematopoietic and pancreatic repair; adult stem cells for cardiovascular, neural, renal, and hepatic repair; and manufacturing of stem cells for clinical use. Social Science and Sustainability Iain Walker, Heinz Schandl, 2017-06. Sustainability policies shape the ways that society and the economy interact with the environment, natural resources, and ecosystems, and address issues such as water, energy, and food security, and climate change. These policies are complex and are at times obscured by contestation, uncertainty, and sometimes ignorance. Ultimately, sustainability problems are social problems and they need to be addressed through social and policy change. Social Science and Sustainability draws on the wide-ranging experience of CSIRO's social scientists in the sustainability policy domain. These researchers have extensive experience in addressing complex issues of society-nature relationships, usually in interdisciplinary collaboration with natural scientists. This book describes some of the evidence-based concepts, frameworks, and methodologies they have developed, which may guide a transition to sustainability. Contributions range from exploring ways to enhance livelihoods and alleviate poverty to examining Australians' responses to climate change, to discussing sociological perspectives on sustainability and how to make policy relevant. Researchers, policy makers, and decision makers around the globe will find this book a valuable and thought-provoking contribution to the sustainability literature. It is also suited to academics and students in postgraduate-level courses in social sciences and sustainability or in courses in applied sociology applied social psychology and other applied social sciences Aereality

William Fox, 2009-05-01 William Fox's writing for the last several years has been focused on how we construct aerial views either physically by flying or in our imaginations In Aereality he flies over earthworks in Nevada and Utah soars through the world's largest open pit mine and surveys Los Angeles circumnavigating large swaths of true American urban sprawl On the East Coast he examines the elevated art of the Hudson River Valley and New York City And finally in Australia Fox examines the history and current practice of both Euro Australian and Aboriginal aerial views and searches for the cognitive roots of our aerial imagination Accompanying Fox throughout his travels is a rolling cast of enlightened fliers geographers museum curators landscape photographers anthropologists and artists He traverses the sky in prop planes helicopters and hot air balloons all with the ultimate goal of knowing and experiencing the earth from the air Astronomy Across Cultures

Helaine Selin, 2012-12-06 Astronomy Across Cultures A History of Non Western Astronomy consists of essays dealing with the astronomical knowledge and beliefs of cultures outside the United States and Europe In addition to articles surveying Islamic Chinese Native American Aboriginal Australian Polynesian Egyptian and Tibetan astronomy among others the book includes essays on Sky Tales and Why We Tell Them and Astronomy and Prehistory and Astronomy and Astrology The essays address the connections between science and culture and relate astronomical practices to the cultures which produced them Each essay is well illustrated and contains an extensive bibliography Because the geographic range is global the book fills a gap in both the history of science and in cultural studies It should find a place on the bookshelves of advanced undergraduate students graduate students and scholars as well as in libraries serving those groups Islands, Identity and the Literary Imagination

Elizabeth McMahon, 2016-07-09 Australia is the planet's sole island continent This book argues that the uniqueness of this geography has shaped Australian history and culture including its literature Further it shows how the fluctuating definition of the island continent throws new light on the relationship between islands and continents in the mapping of modernity The book links the historical and geographical conditions of islands with their potent role in the imaginaries of European colonisation It prises apart the tangled web of geography fantasy desire and writing that has framed the Western understanding of islands both their real and material conditions and their symbolic power from antiquity into globalised modernity The book also traces how this spatial imaginary has shaped the modern man who is imagined as being the island's mirror The inter relationship of the island fantasy colonial expansion and the literary construction of place and history created a new man the dislocated and alienated subject of post colonial modernity This book looks at the contradictory images of islands from the allure of the desert island as a paradise where the world can be made anew to their roles as prisons as these ideas are made concrete at moments of British colonialism It also considers alternatives to viewing islands as objects of possession in the archipelagic visions of island theorists and writers It compares the European understandings of the first and last of the new worlds the Caribbean archipelago and the Australian island continent to calibrate the different ways these disparate geographies unified and fractured the concept of the planetary globe In particular it examines the role of the island in this process specifically its capacity to figure a graspable globe in the mind The book draws on the colonial archive and ranges across Australian literature from the first novel written and published in Australia by a convict on the island of Tasmania to both the ancient dreaming and the burgeoning literature of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders in the twenty first century It discusses Australian literature in an international context drawing on the long traditions of literary islands across a range of cultures The book s approach is theoretical and engages with contemporary philosophy which uses the island and the archipelago as a key metaphor It is also historicist and includes considerable original historical research

Return to Uluru Mark McKenna, 2021-03-02 A killing A hidden history A story that goes to the heart of the nation When Mark McKenna set out to write a history of the centre of Australia he had no idea what he would discover One event in 1934 the shooting at Uluru of Aboriginal man Yokunnuna by white policeman Bill McKinnon and subsequent Commonwealth inquiry stood out as a mirror of racial politics in the Northern Territory at the time But then through speaking with the families of both killer and victim McKenna unearthed new evidence that transformed the historical record and the meaning of the event for today As he explains Every thread of the story connected to the present in surprising ways In a sequence of powerful revelations McKenna explores what truth telling and reconciliation look like in practice Return to Uluru brings a cold case to life It speaks directly to the Black Lives Matter movement but is completely Australian Recalling Chloe Hooper s The Tall Man it is superbly written moving and full of astonishing unexpected twists Ultimately it is a story of recognition and return which goes to the very heart of the country At the centre of it all is Uluru the sacred site where paths fatefully converged Mark McKenna has exposed the wounded heart of Australia Never has a history of our country so assumed the power of sacred myth Return to Uluru is a spellbinding story of death and resurrection that is Australian to its core James Boyce Mark McKenna sets the highest standard for truth telling of the kind that Australians so urgently need if they are to live in this country with honour I feel sure that this book will become an Australian classic not the first of its kind but certainly the most powerful narrative I have read of frontier injustice and its resonance in our lives today
