McClennen, 2004 The history of exile literature is as old as the history of writing itself Despite this vast and varied literary tradition criticism of exile writing has tended to analyze these works according to a binary logic where exile either produces creative freedom or it traps the writer in restrictive nostalgia The Dialectics of Exile Nation Time Language and Space in Hispanic Literatures offers a theory of exile writing that accounts for the persistence of these dual impulses and for the ways that they often co exist within the same literary works Focusing on writers working in the latter part of the twentieth century who were exiled during a historical moment of increasing globalization transnational economics and the theoretical shifts of postmodernism Sophia A McClennen proposes that exile literature is best understood as a series of dialectic tensions about cultural identity Through comparative analysis of Juan Goytisolo Spain Ariel Dorfman Chile and Cristina Peri Rossi Uruguay this book explores how these writers represent exile identity Each chapter addresses dilemmas central to debates over cultural identity such as nationalism versus globalization time as historical or cyclical language as representationally accurate or disconnected from reality and social space as utopic or dystopic McClennen demonstrates how the complex writing of these three authors functions as an alternative discourse of cultural identity that not only challenges official versions imposed by authoritarian regimes but also tests the limits of much cultural criticism The Late Novels of Eudora Welty Jan Nordby Gretlund, Karl-Heinz Westarp, 1998 The Late Novels of Eudora Welty offers readings of two of the works considered to be Welty's most exciting both in innovative technique and postmodern existential statement Fourteen new essays by internationally distinguished critics of Southern literature provide focused appraisals of Welty's last two novels Losing Battles 1970 a provocative experiment in narration and Pulitzer Prize winning The Optimist's Daughter 1972 a profound comment on our time Truth and Vision in Katherine Anne Porter's Fiction Darlene Harbour

Unrue, 2008-12-01 My stories are fragments of a larger plan Katherine Anne Porter once wrote And on another occasion she praised a critic who perceived that all her work from the very beginning was part of an unbroken progression all related In Truth and Vision in Katherine Anne Porter's Fiction Darlene Unrue examines the encompassing themes that underlie Porter's shorter fiction and that combined to create the haunting events of her complex metaphorical novel Ship of Fools Porter believed that men and women are compelled toward discovering the truth about their existence but that the nature of our world makes those truths difficult to discern In her writing Unrue finds Porter explored not only this basic human need to confront the truth but also the bewilderment and suffering that are so often the results of failing to fulfill that need Often in Porter's fiction the movement toward truth is obstructed by the hollow beliefs and illusions that abound in the world by the seductions of ideology and dogmatic religion by romantic love or the vision of a golden past Clinging to such illusions using them to lend a false coherence to their lives Porter's characters are led away from the hard realization that truth requires accepting the existence of the unknowable at the center of life and that what is knowable lies within themselves Drawing on essays reviews letters and notes as well as on the intricate fabric of the fiction this study traces Porter's pursuit of the truth

through the creation of a body of fiction in which from fragments of life she could assemble an honest vision of the world

Katherine Anne Porter and Mexico Thomas F. Walsh, 2014-10-14 In 1920 an unknown journalist named Katherine Anne Porter first sojourned in Mexico When she left her familiar country for the last time in 1931 she was the celebrated author of Flowering Judas and Other Stories and had accumulated a wealth of experiences and impressions that would inspire numerous short stories essays and reviews as well as the opening section of her only novel Ship of Fools In this perceptive study of Porter's Mexican experiences Thomas Walsh traces the important connections between those events and her literary works Separating fact from the fictions that Porter constantly created about her life he follows the active role that she played in Mexican political and intellectual life even to the discovery of a plot to overthrow the Mexican government which eventually figured in Flowering Judas Most important Walsh discerns how the great swings between depression and elation that characterized Porter's emotional life influenced her alternating visions of Mexico In such works as Xochimilco Porter saw Mexico as an earthly Eden where hopes for a better society could be realized but in other stories including The Fiesta of Guadalupe she depicts Mexico as a place of hopeless oppression for the native peoples Mexico Porter once said gave her back her Texas past Given the unhappiness of that past her feelings toward Mexico would always be ambivalent but her Mexican experiences influenced all her subsequent works to some degree even those pieces not specifically Mexican in setting Walsh's study then is an essential key for anyone seeking greater understanding of the life or works of Katherine Anne Porter

The New Conspirators Tom Sine, 2009-10-25 If you have faith as small as a mustard seed Jesus says in the Gospel of Matthew nothing will be impossible for you That sounds good but does it work in a world where seeds are genetically altered by an impatient few and hard to come by for countless others In a world where the gulf between the very rich and the profoundly poor is constantly growing can a mustard seed faith make any difference And can such a little bit of faith be sustained in a world whose future is so uncertain on so many fronts Tom Sine says yes and he has the audacity to try to prove it in his latest book In The New Conspirators Tom surveys the landscape of creative Christianity where streams of renewal are flowing freely from diverse sources The emerging church Contemporary monastic movements The missional church The mosaic movement Individuals and communities of faith are coalescing in and drawing energy from these four streams to retrofit the church as it leads serves and gives witness to the kingdom of God in the turbulent times facing us Read the book and you'll want to and be prepared to join God's conspiracy to create a better future

Everybody's Talkin' Barry Monush, 2009 The movies of the 1960s ran the gamut from glossy studio product to a less linear and less inhibited style of filmmaking. It was the decade during which censorship codes were demolished and the studio contract system fell apart. Every genre was strongly represented from domestic dramas to spectacles, musicals, soap operas and westerns. Some of the most diverse, daring, colourful, outrageous and enduring of all motion pictures were released from 1965 to 1969. Screen World editor Barry Monush tells the reader why his top selections stood out among the other releases of those five years. The text is accompanied by illustrations of movie ads, tie-in book covers, soundtrack albums, sheet music and other oddities. In addition, each film's entry includes a plot synopsis, the opening date, the studio and a creative staff and cast listing. From The Sound of Music to Alfie, In the Heat of the Night to The Lion in Winter, Bob Carol Ted Alice to Planet of the Apes, Easy Rider and Midnight Cowboy, here is a pop culture feast for film buffs and all fans of that interesting point in time that was the late 1960s.

A Companion to the American Short Story Alfred Bendixen, James Nagel, 2020-08-24. A COMPANION TO THE AMERICAN SHORT STORY. A Companion to the American Short Story traces the development of this versatile literary genre over the past two centuries. Written by leading critics in the field and edited by two major scholars, it explores a wide range of writers from Edgar Allan Poe and Edith Wharton at the end of the nineteenth century to important modern writers such as Ernest Hemingway, William Faulkner, F. Scott Fitzgerald and Richard Wright. Contributions with a broader focus address groups of multiethnic Asian and Jewish writers. Each chapter places the short story into context, focusing on the interaction of cultural forces and aesthetic principles. The Companion takes account of cutting-edge approaches to literary studies and contributes to the ongoing redefinition of the American canon, embracing genres such as ghost and detective fiction, cycles of interrelated short fiction and comic social and political stories. The volume also reflects the diverse communities that have adopted this literary form and made it their own, featuring entries on a variety of feminist and multicultural traditions. This volume presents an important new consideration of the role of the short story in the literary history of American literature.

Latin American Women and the Literature of Madness Elvira Sánchez-Blake, Laura Kanost, 2015-05-14. At the turn of the millennium, narrative works by Latin American women writers have represented madness within contexts of sociopolitical strife and gender inequality. This book explores contemporary Latin American realities through madness narratives by prominent women authors including Cristina Peri Rossi (Uruguay), Lya Luft (Brazil), Diamela Eltit (Chile), Cristina Rivera Garza (Mexico), Laura Restrepo (Colombia) and Irene Vilar (Puerto Rico). Close reading of these works reveals a pattern of literary techniques, a poetics of madness employed by the writers to represent conditions that defy language, make sociopolitical crises tangible and register cultural perceptions of mental illness through literature. Ship of Fools, 2020.
