The Soundscapes of Australia Fiona Richards, 2018-01-17 Australia offers tremendous scope for understanding the relationship between music spirituality and landscape This major generously illustrated new volume examines in fifteen chapters some of the ways in which composers and performers have attempted to convey a sense of the Australian landscape through musical means The book embraces the different approaches of ethnomusicology gender studies musical analysis performance studies and cultural history Ranging across the country from remote parts of the Northern Territory to the bustling east coast cities from Tasmanian wilderness to tropical Queensland the book includes references to art and literature as well as music Issues of national identity belonging and aboriginalization are an integral part of the book with indigenous responses to place examined alongside music from the western orchestral chamber and choral repertoires The book provides valuable insight into a wide range of music inspired by Australia from the Yanyuwa people to Jewish communities in Victoria from Peter Sculthorpe's opera Quiros to the work of European expats living in Australia before the Second World War from historic Ealing film scores to contemporary sound installations The work of many significant composers is discussed in detail among them Ross Edwards Barry Conyngham David Lumsdaine Anne Boyd and Fritz Hart Throughout the book there is a sense of the vibrancy and diversity of the music inspired by the sights and sounds of the Australian landscape

The Cinema of Britain and Ireland Brian McFarlane, 2005 A fresh concise but wide ranging introduction to and overview of British and Irish cinema this volume contains 24 essays each on a separate seminal film from the region Films under discussion include Pink String and Sealing Wax Room at the Top The Italian Job Orlando and Sweet Sixteen

In the Vernacular, 2009-04 Collecting important works from one of Australia's leading scholars of media culture and policy this study brings sharper focus upon both historical and industrial contexts Engaging with the global debate on multiethnic societies by focusing on creativity at the margins this survey argues that industrial and social trends in media communications and culture are outstripping the academic frameworks that were erected to deal with them

drama the soap opera From Denver to Delhi Moscow to Manchester audiences eagerly await the next episode of As the World Turns The Rich Also Weep or Eastenders But the popularity of soap operas in Britain and the US pales in comparison to the role that they play in media cultures in other parts of the world To Be Continued investigates both the cultural specificity of television soap operas and their reception in other cultures covering soap production and soap watching in the U S Asia Europe Australia and Latin America The contributors consider the nature of soap as a media text the history of the serial narrative as a form and the role of the soap opera in the development of feminist media criticism To Be Continued presents the first scholarly examination of soap opera as global media phenomenon British cinema of the 1950s Ian Mackillop, Neil Sinyard, 2018-07-30 This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY NC ND open access license Offers a startling re evaluation of what has until now been seen as the most critically lacklustre period of the British film history Covers a variety of genres such as B movies war films women s pictures and theatrical adaptations as well as social issues which affect film making such as censorship Includes fresh assessment of maverick directors Pat Jackson Robert Hamer and Joseph Losey and even of a maverick critic Raymond Durgnat Features personal insights from those individually implicated in 1950s cinema Corin Redgrave on Michael Redgrave Isabel Quigly on film reviewing and Bryony Dixon of the BFI on archiving and preservation Presents a provocative challenge to conventional wisdom about 1950s film and rediscovers the Festival of Britain decade One Day I'll Remember This Helen Garner, 2020-11-03 In this second volume of diaries from one of Australia s greatest writers we see Garner in love asking herself questions about relationships individuality morality and contentment For readers of Lisa Taddeo s Three Women and avid Garner fans this volume illuminates the inner life of a writer with all its turmoil and joy British Cinema of the 1950s Sue Harper, Vincent Porter, 2003 In this definitive and long awaited history of 1950s British cinema Sue Harper and Vincent Porter draw extensively on previously unknown archive material to chart the growing rejection of post war deference by both film makers and cinema audiences Competition from television and successive changes in government policy all forced the production industry to become more market sensitive The films produced by Rank and Ealing many of which harked back to wartime structures of feeling were challenged by those backed by Anglo Amalgamated and Hammer The latter knew how to address the rebellious feelings and growing sexual discontents of a new generation of consumers Even the British Board of Film Censors had to adopt a more liberal attitude The collapse of the studio system also meant that the screenwriters and the art directors had to cede creative control to a new generation of independent producers and film directors Harper and Porter explore the effects of these social cultural industrial and economic changes on 1950s British cinema Transatlantic Crossings Sarah Street, 2002-01-01 Transatlantic Crossings is the first major study of the distribution and exhibition of British films in the USA Charting the cross cultural reception of many British films Sarah Street draws on a wide range of sources including studio records film posters press books and statistics While the relative strength of Hollywood made it difficult for films that crossed the Atlantic

Streets research demonstrates that some strategies were more successful than others She considers which British films made an impact and analyzes conditions that facilitated a positive reception from critics censors exhibitors and audiences Case studies include Nell Gwyn 1926 The Private Life of Henry VIII 1933 The Ghost Goes West 1935 Henry V 1946 Black Narcissus 1947 The Red Shoes 1948 Ealing comedies The Horror of Dracula 1958 Tom Jones 1963 A Hard Days Night 1964 Goldfinger 1964 The Remains of the Day 1993 Four Weddings and a Funeral 1994 and Trainspotting 1996 Against a background of the economic history of the British and Hollywood film industries Transatlantic Crossings considers the many fascinating questions surrounding the history of British films in the USA their relevance to wider issues of Anglo American relations and to notions of Britishness on screen

Reel Men Chelsea Barnett, 2019-02-19 Set against the shifting social and political backdrop of a nation throwing off the shackles of one war yet faced with the instability of the new world order Reel Men probes the concept of 1950s masculinity itself asking what it meant to be an Australian man at this time Offering a compelling exploration of the Australian fifties the book challenges the common belief that the fifties was a dead era for Australian filmmaking Reel Men engages with fourteen Australian feature films made and released between 1949 and 1962 and examines the multiple masculinities in circulation at this time Dealing with beloved Australian films like Jedda 1955 Smiley 1956 and The Shiralee 1957 and national icons of the silver screen including Chips Rafferty Charles Bud Tingwell and Peter Finch Reel Men delves into our cultural past to dismantle powerful assumptions about film the fifties and masculinity in Australia

New Australian Cinema Brian McFarlane, Geoff Mayer, 1992-06-26 The institutions and products of the Australian film industry have been extensively surveyed yet few analyses consider the sources of the film revival that took place in the 1970s and 1980s This book represents a body of thinking about Australian cinema that asks where the origins of films lie The book begins by tracing the indebtedness of Australian cinema to the classical narrative style of Hollywood film making with its firm grasp of melodrama It continues by comparing the problems faced by the high British cinema of the 1940s and 1950s with those faced by Australia in the 1970s and 1980s in the attempts by both countries to establish national film industries New Australian Cinema will increase the scope of the discussion about the revival of Australian cinema and help us to make cultural sense of the films themselves
