Media Work, Mothers and Motherhood Susan Liddy, Anne O'Brien, 2021-04-20 This interdisciplinary and international volume offers an innovative and critical exploration of the impact of motherhood on the engagement of women in media and creative industries across the globe Diverse contributions critically engage with the intersections and overlap between the social categories of worker and mother and the work of media production and maternal caregiving Conflicting ideas about and expectations of mothers are untangled in the context of the working world of radio film television and creative media industries The book teases out commonalities between experiences that are evident

across a number of countries from Hollywood to Bollywood as well as examining the differences between class religion maternal status and cultural frameworks that surround working mothers in various nation states It also offers some possibilities for ways forward that can improve the lives of women workers who are also mothers A timely and valuable contribution to international debates on equality mothers and motherhood in audiovisual industries this book will be of interest to scholars and students of media communication cultural studies and gender programmes engaged with work inequalities and motherhood studies and activists funders policymakers and practitioners Adapting Nathaniel Hawthorne to the Screen Laurence Raw, 2008 Raw explains how some filmmakers have tackled the difficulty of Hawthorne's material by treating it as being firmly situated in American life of the mid nineteenth century while others have used Hawthorne's work to comment on various aspects of twentieth century American life This latter device is particularly evident in the many versions of The Scarlet Letter including a 1950 television broadcast that aired two months after senator Joseph McCarthy's speech about card carrying members of the Communist Party and 1960s and early 70s versions supporting countercultural values Precocious Charms Gaylyn Studlar, 2013-01-15 In Precocious Charms Gaylyn Studlar examines how Hollywood presented female stars as young girls or girls on the verge of becoming women Child stars are part of this study but so too are adult actresses who created motion picture masquerades of youthfulness Studlar details how Mary Pickford Shirley Temple Deanna Durbin Elizabeth Taylor Jennifer Jones and Audrey Hepburn performed girlhood in their films She charts the multifaceted processes that linked their juvenated star personas to a wide variety of cultural influences ranging from Victorian sentimental art to New Look fashion from nineteenth century children's literature to post World War II sexology and from grand opera to 1930s radio comedy By moving beyond the general category of woman Precocious Charms leads to a new understanding of the complex pleasures Hollywood created for its audience during the half century when film stars were a major influence on America's cultural imagination The Last Palace Norman Eisen, 2019-09-03 A sweeping yet intimate narrative about the last hundred years of turbulent European history as seen through one of Mitteleuropa's greatest houses and the lives of its occupants When Norman Eisen moved into the US ambassador's residence in Prague returning to the land his mother had fled after the Holocaust he was startled to discover swastikas hidden beneath the furniture in his new home These symbols of Nazi Germany were remnants of the residence's forgotten history and evidence that we never live far from the past From that discovery unspooled the twisting captivating tale of four of the remarkable people who had called this palace home Their story is Europe's and The Last Palace chronicles the upheavals that transformed the continent over the past century There was the optimistic Jewish financial baron Otto Petschek who built the palace after World War I as a statement of his faith in democracy only to have that faith shattered Rudolf Toussaint the cultured compromised German general who occupied the palace during World War II ultimately putting his life at risk to save the house and Prague itself from destruction Laurence Steinhardt the first postwar US ambassador whose quixotic struggle to keep the palace out of

Communist hands was paired with his pitched efforts to rescue the country from Soviet domination and Shirley Temple Black an eyewitness to the crushing of the 1968 Prague Spring by Soviet tanks who determined to return to Prague and help end totalitarianism and did just that as US ambassador in 1989 Weaving in the life of Eisen s own mother to demonstrate how those without power and privilege moved through history The Last Palace tells the dramatic and surprisingly cyclical tale of the triumph of liberal democracy
