Shooting Montezuma A Hollywood Monster Story:

Shooting Montezuma Jan Merlin, 2001-12-01 Jan Merlin film star and Emmy winning writer exposes the reader to a perspective that only first hand experience can provide Literally scripted about an odd movie in which the audience is to guess who was acting in disguise behind masks the book reveals how a film is ingeniously made and how it affects those involved in it With celebrated stars a legendary director and an egotistic make up artist extraordinaire the company goes on location to Brazil Scandals feuds power plays all surround the production of a major film with a gimmick and the secret about it they find unable to keep For those who revel in the magic of movies this novel will intrigue for those who know the tricks of the trade this will confirm their suspicions See February 2004 copy of VIDEO WATCHDOG for an intensive interview with Mr Merlin about the LIST OF ADRIAN MESSENGER and how his work in that film led to this novel s creation John Huston

as Adaptor Douglas McFarland, Wesley King, 2017-01-28 John Huston as Adaptor makes the case that adaptation is the salient element in Huston s identity as a filmmaker and that his early and deep attraction to the experience of reading informed his approach to film adaptation Thirty four of Huston s thirty seven films were adaptations of literary texts and they stand as serious interpretations of literary works that could only be made by an astute reader of literature Indeed Huston asserted that a film director should be above all else a reader and that reading itself should be the intellectual and emotional basis for filmmaking The seventeen essays in this volume not only address Huston as an adaptor but also offer an approach to adaptation studies that has been largely overlooked How an adaptor reads the works to which he is drawn and how his literary interpretations can be brought to the screen without relegating film to a subservient role are some of the issues addressed by the contributors An introductory chapter identifies Huston as the quintessential Hollywood adaptor and argues that his skill at adaptation is the mark of his authorial signature The chapters that follow focus on fifteen of Huston s most important films including The Maltese Falcon 1941 The Treasure of the Sierra Madre 1948 The African Queen 1951 The Night of the Iguana 1964 Under the Volcano 1984 and The Dead 1987 and are divided into three areas aesthetics and textuality history and social context and theory and psychoanalysis By offering a more comprehensive account of the centrality of adaptation to Huston s films John Huston as Adaptor offers a greater understanding of Huston as a filmmaker
