Shooting Rats Other Plays And Poems:

Shooting Rats, Other Plays and Poems Peter Turrini, 1996 This volume contains some of the more controversial and personal works produced by Peter Turrini who has come to be recognized today as one of the leading Austrian dramatists His first drama Shooting Rats was written in 1967 when Turrini fed up with life as an advertising copy editor fled into exile on an isolated Greek island The play with its theme of alienation from the consumer society was an instant success and has since appeared on stages throughout Europe Infanticide 1972 continues the theme of alienation intensified to the point of murder Turrini explores the heart of an unfortunate young woman who paradoxically is driven to kill her infant child in order to feel like a human being In Death and the Devil 1990 Turrini confronts his audience with the most controversial of his plays A disillusioned priest sets out on a journey seeking to discover Sin His self crucifixion and death end the quest in a highly symbolic and for some scandalous fashion The final play The Siege of Vienna 1995 like a number of his other dramas treats contemporary social conditions in Austria The poems of A Few Steps Back 1980 are much more personal than Turrini s dramas They show the man behind the writer and reveal the autobiographical element that runs through all of the writings of this socially engaged author

Tales from the Vienna Woods and Other Plays Ödön von Horváth, 2002 d n von Horv th 1901 1939 is one of the most important theatre writers in the 1930s His reputation rests largely on the four plays in this collection which he called Volksst cke popular plays although he had no desire to embrace this tradition uncritically Reflected in these plays is the sympathy for the situation of the exploited classes as well as the concern for the way language is used for deception and self deception The hollow characters come across as potentially receptive to fascism A latent brutality is unmasked a lack of genuine feeling all lying hidden under a veneer of facile sentimentality collection of seventeen articles offers an investigation of some of the most important voices from Austria's theatre world between 1945 and 2001. They are for the most part critical voices engaged in the constantly evolving redefinition of a political state and its private citizens undermining the status quo and the general complacency. They include both writers, producers and directors for the written word must take shape on stage and the real debate of drama takes place in a public space. Therefore this volume attempts to include issues of staging and reception where possible. Taken as a whole this volume is intended to show the incredible richness and variety of the theatre scene in Austria.

Women's Words, Women's Works Udo H. G. Borgert, 2001. This book contains five plays with a 46 page introduction by editor Udo Borgert and Andrea Bandhauer. Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc. Portland, OR.

The Massive File on Zwetschkenbaum Albert Drach, 1996. A novel set in Austria and based on the misfortunes of a young Talmud scholar whose story is allegedly recorded by the author as a young attorney between the two World Wars. The protagonist is an antihero who for the most trifling of offenses becomes enmeshed in the legal machinery which grinds on relentlessly although all authorities feel the charges should be dropped. Hence the massive file is created. Drach pillories the mindless bureaucracy of the legal system, the bumbling medical profession and the general corruption of the times along with the prevalent anti-Semitism. Austria in Literature Donald G. Daviau, 2000. From a symposium at the University of California, Riverside in 1997. Contributions in German were published as a special issue of Modern Austrian literature 31:3-4, 1998. English contributions are contained in this volume. Twenty-one essays consider the national image of Austria both historically and in the current period. They examine the view of Austria projected in the writings of American, Austrian and German authors ranging from the late 19th century to the present. Attention is given to factors such as the country's natural beauty, the tradition of the monarchy and pressing political and social problems. Name index only. Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc. Chasing After the Wind Barbara Frischmuth, 1996. Barbara Frischmuth, among the most widely recognised and respected Austrian writers today, is recognised not only for her descriptive skill but also for being a moderate feminist. In these four short tales she presents realistic portraits of women caught up in relationships determined largely by social conventions, internalised roles and sometimes just plain bad luck. Taking her title from Ecclesiastes, 'All is vanity and a chasing after the wind', she presents psychologically sound studies of women protagonists' futile efforts to break out of the dead-end situations in which they have been trapped.

The Slackers and Other Plays Peter Turrini, 1992. Turrini's theatre works extend far beyond their Austrian origins in expressing the hopes, frustrations and hypocrisies of life in the modern world. The plays contained in this volume, A Crazy Day, Joseph and Mary, A Social Engagement and The Slackers, offer English-speaking readers a representative sampling of Turrini's work. As varied as they may seem, two unifying threads run through them all: Turrini's use of language to admonish society and his articulation of the element of tragedy which informs and defines modern man in his isolation.
