Shooting Script A Novel

Bob Herzberg

Shooting Script A Novel:

Shooting Scripts Bob Herzberg, 2005-04-07 In their heyday pulp westerns were one of America's most popular forms of entertainment. Often selling for less than 50 cents, the paperback books introduced generations to the exploits of Billy the Kid and Jesse James, brought to life numerous villains usually named Black something (e.g. Black Bart and Black Pete) and created a West that existed only in the minds of several talented writers. It was only natural that filmmakers would look to the pulps for stories, adapting many of the works for the big screen and shaping the Western film genre. The adaptations of seven of the pulps' best writers—Ernest Haycox, Luke Short, Frank Gruber, Norman A. Fox, Louis L. Amour, Marvin H. Albert, and Clair Huffaker—are analyzed here. Insightful and humorous, the work looks at how the pulp novels and the movie adaptations reflected the times in which they were produced. It examines the clichés that became a part of the story: the rescue of the heroine, the gunfights, the evil banker or rancher ready to steal the land of the good law-abiding citizens, and the harlot with a heart of gold. A critical examination of how the books were interpreted or frequently misinterpreted by filmmakers is included, along with commentary on the actors and directors who put the pulps on screen. The Shooting Script Laurence Klavan, 2006-04-25 In the sequel to the acclaimed thriller The Cutting Room, Roy Milano, self-described movie detective, stumbles into a murder case centering on an uncompleted film from 1972, a film that inspires cinema buffs to kill for that elusive footage. Script Culture and the American Screenplay Kevin Alexander Boon, 2008-01-10 By considering the screenplay as a literary object worthy of critical inquiry, this volume breaks new ground in film studies. Though the history of the screenplay is as long and rich as the history of film itself, critics and scholars have neglected it as a topic of serious research. Script Culture and the American Screenplay treats the screenplay as a literary work in its own right, presenting analyses of screenplays from a variety of frameworks, including feminism, Marxism, structuralism, philosophy, and psychology. In distancing the text of screenplays from the on-screen performance typically associated with them, Kevin Alexander Boon expands the scope of film studies into exciting new territory with this volume. Script Culture and the American Screenplay is divided into two parts. Part 1 provides a general background for screenplay studies, tracing the evolution of the screenplay from the early shot lists and continuities of George M. Cohan and Thomas Harper Ince to the more detailed narratives of contemporary works. Part 2 offers specific, primarily thematic, critical examinations of screenplays, along with discussions of the original screenplay and the screenplay adaptation. In all, Boon explains that screenplay criticism distinguishes itself from traditional film studies in three major ways. The primary focus of screenplay criticism is on the screenplay rather than the film; the focus of screenplay studies is on the screenwriter rather than the director; and screenplay criticism, like literary criticism, is written to illuminate a reader's understanding of the text. Boon demonstrates that whether we are concerned with aesthetics and identifying rules for distinguishing the literary from the non-literary, or whether we align ourselves with more contemporary theories which recognize texts as distinguishable in their interrelationships and marked difference.

screenplays constitute a rich cache of works worthy of critical examination Film scholars as well as students of film creative writing and literary studies will appreciate this singular volume DIALECTIC OF NOVEL-SCRIPT-FILM ADAPTATION

The Films of Harold Pinter Steven H. Gale, 2001-03-29 The Films of Harold Pinter is a collection of ten original essays on the screenplays of master British dramatist and screenwriter Harold Pinter Written by noted Pinter and film specialists the book explores individual Pinter masterpieces such as The French Lieutenant's Woman The Go Between Accident and The Pumpkin Eater Along with offering explications of the films themselves it also provides insights into Pinter's creative process and the differences between the novel drama and film Despite having written twenty three film scripts and concentrating his recent artistic attention almost exclusively on screenwriting Pinter's work for the screen has been paid sparse critical attention over the years This book leaves little doubt however that Harold Pinter has made important contributions to the cinema not the least of which has to do with the primary characteristics of his screenplays in almost every case he has produced a script that is a work of art in its own right one that can stand on its own

Basics Film-Making 03: Directing Fiction Robert Edgar, 2017-11-02 Basics Film Making Directing Fiction introduces the essential aspects of the directorial process focusing on the requirements of short films while also drawing on classic examples from the world of feature films It looks at the tricky balancing act of art and business offering guidelines and basic principles rather than instructions Divided into the three key stages of the film making process pre production production and postproduction the book provides students with a framework to begin directing their own productions The chapters are interspersed with case studies investigating the working practices of leading professionals such as Robert Rodriguez and Mike Leigh

The Turn to Gruesomeness in American Horror Films, 1931-1936 Jon Towlson, 2016-09-27 Critics have traditionally characterized classic horror by its use of shadow and suggestion Yet the graphic nature of early 1930s films only came to light in the home video DVD era Along with gangster movies and sex pictures horror films drew audiences during the Great Depression with sensational content Exploiting a loophole in the Hays Code which made no provision for on screen gruesomeness studios produced remarkably explicit films that were recut when the Code was more rigidly enforced from 1934 This led to a modern misperception that classic horror was intended to be safe and reassuring to audiences The author examines the 1931 to 1936 happy ending horror in relation to industry practices and censorship Early works like Murders in the Rue Morgue 1932 and The Raven 1935 may be more akin to The Texas Chain Saw Massacre 1974 and Hostel 2005 than many critics believe

Books in Motion, 2005-01-01 Books in Motion addresses the hybrid interstitial field of film adaptation The introductory essay integrates a retrospective survey of the development of adaptation studies with a forceful argument about their centrality to any history of culture any discussion that is of the transformation and transmission of texts and meanings in and across cultures The thirteen especially composed essays that follow organised into four sections headed Paradoxes of Fidelity Authors Auteurs Adaptation Contexts Intertexts Adaptation and Beyond Adaptation variously illustrate that claim by problematising the notion of fidelity highlighting the role played by adaptation in relation to changing concepts of authorship and auteurism exploring the extent to which the intelligibility of film adaptations is dependent on contextual and intertextual factors and making a claim for the need to transcend any narrowly defined concept of adaptation in the study of adaptation Discussion ranges from adaptations of established classics like A Tale of Two Cities Frankenstein Henry V Le temps retrouv Mansfield Park Pride and Prejudice The Dead or Wuthering Heights to contemporary popular texts films like Bridget Jones s Diary Fools The Governess High Fidelity The Hours The Orchid Thief Adaptation the work of Doris D rrie the first Harry Potter novel film or the adaptations made by Alfred Hitchcock Stanley Kubrick and Walt Disney This book will appeal to both a specialised readership and to those accessing the dynamic field of adaptation studies for the first time Nightmare in Enchanting Deep Woods Jawaharlal Shanmugam,2021-08-30 The fiction is an environmental thriller cum romantic drama set in an enchanting atmosphere SWAPNA Any good news VIJAY blissfully Yes Clinched a new exciting project SWAPNA Wow Fantastic She gives a high five to Vijay and both of them get into the main hall Hariharan and Mythili look cheerful seeing their would be son in law VIJAY Uncle going to do a prestigious documentary film project on Jharkhand The project came out of the blue HARIHARAN Great Beautiful state Nature s paradise VIJAY The client is UCBPP HARIHARAN Oh Fantastic Going to do a big project for a world famous organization Cheers Viji Keep it up Beyond the Epic Gene D.
