Short Circuit Strengthening Local Economies For Security In An Unstable World:

Short Circuit R. J. Douthwaite, 1996 With the deregulation of international trade and a free movement of capital the world economy is more unstable than ever This work is written from a perspective which suggests that the world economy is liable to collapse and as such it cannot be relied upon to provide all the goods food fuel and services required to live The book argues that each community should develop an independent economy capable of restoring full employment to its area and ensuring the supply of goods and services should the mainstream economy collapse It demonstrates how this could be done by supplying details of local energy generation currency banking and food supply systems as well as detailing case studies of local communities at work in Denmark Germany the Netherlands Australia the USA Britain and Ireland Green

Economics Molly Scott Cato, 2012-05-16 The world as we know it needs a new economics Climate change financial crisis and out of control globalization all the major problems facing the world have their root in the dominant economic system The globalised marketplace is the prevailing force in our lives undermining the real importance of our human communities and our planet Green Economics argues that society should be embedded within the ecosystem and that markets and economies are social structures that should respond to social and environmental priorities This highly readable text provides an introduction to green economics including views on taxation welfare money economic development and employment through the work of its inspirational figures including Schumacher Robertson and Douthwaite It also explores the contributions and insights of schools of thought critical of the dominant neo classical economic paradigm including ecofeminism views from the global South and the perspective of indigenous peoples Examples of effective green policies that are already being implemented across the world are presented as well as policy prescriptions for issues including climate change localization citizens income economic measurement ecotaxes and trade Energy, Governance and Security in Thailand and Myanmar

(Burma) Adam Simpson, 2016-04-29 Across the world states are seeking out new and secure supplies of energy but this search is manifesting itself most visibly in Asia where rapid industrialisation in states such as China and India is fomenting a frantic scramble for energy resources Due to entrenched societal inequities and widespread authoritarian governance however the pursuit of national energy security through transnational energy projects has resulted in devastating impacts on the human and environmental security of local populations These effects are particularly evident in both Thailand and Myanmar Burma which located at the crossroads of Asia are increasingly engaged in the cross border energy trade Based on extensive fieldwork and theoretical analysis this ground breaking book proposes a new critical approach to energy and environmental security and explores the important role that both local and transnational environmental movements are playing in the absence of effective and democratic governments in providing activist environmental governance for energy projects throughout the region By comparing the nature of this activism under two very different political regimes it delivers crucial theoretical insights with both academic and policy implications for the sustainable and equitable development of the

South's natural resources Local Environmental Sustainability S Buckingham, K Theobald, 2003-02-17 The importance of local programmes in driving sustainable development has been enshrined in Local Agenda 21 arguably the most influential output of the 1992 Rio Earth Summit. Its importance has been reiterated more recently by the Johannesburg Summit in 2002. Local Environmental Sustainability sets the context for local environmental sustainability and in particular considers how local government can promote sustainable development by building partnerships with different groups and organisations in the local community. Using case studies individual chapters focus on different types of regional and local initiatives, the partnerships that have made them possible and the key issues in making them effective. Local Environmental Sustainability provides a blueprint for both local governments and local communities to work together effectively for a more sustainable future. An important new study focusing on the links between local environmental initiatives and the provision of sustainable services. Includes case studies showing how local government initiatives can work in the community. Considers the relationship between local programmes and the implementation of Local Agenda 21 Seeking Sustainability in an Age of Complexity Graham Harris, 2007-06-14 Seeking Sustainability in an Age of Complexity explains the difficulties of sustainability and why collapse can occur. In the last twenty years the theory of complexity has been developed. Complex systems science (CSS) speaks to natural systems and particularly to ecological, social and economic systems and their interaction. Due to the growing concern over the huge changes occurring in the global environment such as climate change, deforestation, habitat fragmentation and loss of biodiversity, Graham Harris sets out what has been learned in an attempt to understand the implications of these changes and suggests ways to move forward. This book discusses a number of emerging tools for the management of unruly complexity which facilitate stronger regional dialogues about knowledge and values which will be of interest to ecologists, sociologists, economists, natural resource managers and scientists in State and local governments and those involved in water and landscape management The WTO and the Environment James Watson, 2013-05-20 This book is a review of the development of the WTO dispute resolution procedure and the power and influence it has gained over the practices of the member countries as well as in other international treaties. The book addresses the development of environmental competency in the WTO and examines the arguments of those who oppose WTO rule making with impacts on the environment. The WTO's interactions with multilateral environmental agreements are considered and recent WTO cases including the 2011 US-Mexico tuna dispute and the US sea turtles decision are analysed in detail. In examining how an international organisation which was established with a specific purpose in mind has come to interact in fields beyond its original remit, James Watson demonstrates how the dispute resolution system at the WTO has come to work in a judicialised manner operating with an informal system of precedent. This has led to the contracting parties placing more reliance on the decisions of the dispute panels and appeal body when considering policy options with WTO rulings increasingly influencing the behaviour of national legislatures in regard to the environment. The book goes on to make concrete recommendations based on existing practise in the WTO dispute resolution procedure which could enhance decision making in environmental cases heard by the WTO The book argues that this could be achieved with straightforward amendments to the WTO based on existing practices endorsed under the WTO for other policy considerations The WTO and the Environment will be of particular interest to academics and students of International and Environmental law The Practical Playbook II J. Lloyd Michener, Brian C. Castrucci, Don W. Bradley, Edward L. Hunter, Craig W. Thomas, Catherine Patterson, Elizabeth Corcoran, 2019-04-23 The definitive guide to the secret sauce of improving public and population health Nontraditional collaborations have produced some of the most sweeping health improving results in recent memory But whether it s public private cross discipline or interagency the formula for identifying these partnerships not to mention making them work remains very much in progress The Practical Playbook II is the first resource to elucidate what works and what doesn t when it comes to collaborating for change in and around health It brings together voices of experience and authority to answer this topic s most challenging questions and provide guideposts for applying what they ve learned to today s thorniest problems Readers will find answers to common and advanced questions around multisector partnerships including Identifying sectors and actors that can help to collaborate to improve health Best practices for initial engagement Specifics related to collaborations with government business faith communities and other types of partners The role of data in establishing and running a partnership Scaling up to maximize impact and remain sustainable The role of financing Implications for policy Written in practical terms that will resonate with readers from any background and sector The Practical Playbook II is the resource that today s helping professions need and a roadmap for the next generation of health improving partnerships A Region in Transition John Tomaney, Neil Ward, 2017-07-05 The UK has now joined a Europe wide trend towards more devolved forms of government e g Scotland Wales and Northern Ireland Assemblies In the context of this general trend towards regionalism as a focus for public policy and as a source of cultural and political identity an interdisciplinary team from Newcastle University combine to analyze how this affects the North East of England There has been comparatively little published on the contemporary development of English Regions and the North East is a particularly important case study as throughout the 1990s it has experienced a range of social economic and political changes This book will contribute to key contemporary policy debates which will affect all of the English regions and should be read by all social scientists interested in European regional development Globalization: Culture and identity Roland Robertson, Kathleen E. White, 2003 Environment and Social Theory John Barry, 2007-01-24 This thematic rather than theorist centred approach is an essential guide to the way in which the environment and social theory relate to one another including examinations of the works of the key theorists including Marx Mill Habermas and Adorno Planet Dialectics Wolfgang Sachs, 2015-03-12 All effects of human action will inevitably be played out within our planet s limits any hope of infinity is an illusion And yet as Wolfgang Sachs warned almost twenty years ago environmental concerns have been assimilated into the rhetoric dynamics and power structures of development This classic collection of trenchant and elegant explorations addresses the crisis of the Western world's relations with nature and social justice Examining the notions of efficiency speed globalization and development Sachs shows that sustainability truly conceived is incompatible with the worldwide rule of economism Planet Dialectics reveals that the Western development model is fundamentally at odds with both the quest for justice among the world's people and the aspiration to reconcile humanity and nature The Case Against the Global Economy Jerry Mander, 2014-02-25 The greatest political debate of our time is about the blind rush towards a single global economy its consequences for jobs democracy human well being and cultural diversity and its impact on the natural world that sustains us Its effects will be profound and irreversible but globalization itself is not inevitable In The Case Against the Global Economy 24 leading economic agricultural cultural and environmental authorities drawn from across the world argue that free trade and economic globalization are producing exactly the opposite results to those promised From a detailed analysis of the new global economy its structures and its full social and ecological implications they show how it is undermining our liberty our security and our well being and is devastating the planet First published in the USA in 1996 in an edition focused on North America the book won the American Political Science Association award for the Best Book in Ecological and Transformational Politics This completely revised and updated international edition presents a passionate and persuasive case for the need to reverse course away from globalization and towards a revitalized democracy local self sufficiency and ecological health After the Market Malcolm Brown, 2004 The market economy is dominant in people's lives today and undermines much Christian comment and church practice This book critiques much of the churches recent work on economic issues and proposes a renewed theological seriousness for mission in the economy Informal Employment in Advanced Economies Colin C. Williams, Jan Windebank, 2002-09-11 Re Placing Informal Employment challenges many of the popular myths surrounding informal economic activities and offers a radical reassessment of their extent growth location and nature The book uses case studies from the UK France Italy the Netherlands the US and Canada to challenge the popular belief that informal employment is growing throughout the advanced economies the myth that this work is undertaken mostly by marginalized groups the dominant view that we should replace informal with formal employment through enforcement of regulations Examining policy options and their consequences the authors show that conventional approaches only increase inequalities and that a radical alternative solution is essential A Europe of Neighbours? Andrew Queen Morton, 1999 Consuming Symbolic Goods Wilfred Dolfsma, 2013-09-13 The phenomenon of consumption has increasingly drawn attention from economists While the sole purpose of production is consumption as Adam Smith has claimed economists have up to recently generally ignored the topic This book brings together a range of different perspectives on the topic of consumption that will finally shed the necessary light on a largely neglected theme such as Why is the consumption of symbolic goods different than that of goods that are not constitutive of individuals identity How does the consumption of symbolic goods affect social processes and economic phenomena Will taking consumption of symbolic goods seriously impact economics itself The book discusses these issues theoretically and through analyses of such cases as food religion fashion empirically as well It also discusses the possible role in the future of consumption This book was previously published as a special issue of Review of Social Economy

Surviving the Future David Fleming, Shaun Chamberlin, 2016-08-04 Surviving the Future is a story drawn from the fertile ground of the late David Fleming's extraordinary Lean Logic A Dictionary for the Future and How to Survive It That hardback consists of four hundred and four interlinked dictionary entries inviting readers to choose their own path through its radical vision Recognizing that Lean Logic's sheer size and unusual structure can be daunting Fleming's long time collaborator Shaun Chamberlin has selected and edited one of these potential narratives to create Surviving the Future The content rare insights and uniquely enjoyable writing style remain Fleming's but are presented here at a more accessible paperback length and in conventional read it front to back format The subtitle Culture Carnival and Capital in the Aftermath of the Market Economy hints at Fleming's vision He believed that the market economy will not survive its inherent flaws beyond the early decades of this century and that its failure will bring great challenges but he did not dwell on this We know what we need to do We need to build the sequel to draw on inspiration which has lain dormant like the seed beneath the snow Surviving the Future lays out a compelling and powerfully different new economics for a post growth world One that relies not on taut competitiveness and eternally increasing productivity putting the grim into reality but on the play humor conversation and reciprocal obligations of a rich culture Building on a remarkable breadth of intellectual and cultural heritage from Keynes to Kumar Homer to Huxley Mumford to MacIntyre Scruton to Shiva Shakespeare to Schumacher Fleming describes a world in which as he says there will be time for music This is the world that many of us want to live in yet we are told it is idealistic and unrealistic With an evident mastery of both economic theory and historical precedent Fleming shows that it is not only desirable but actually the only system with a realistic claim to longevity With friendliness humor and charm Surviving the Future plucks this vision out of our daydreams and shows us how to make it real Step into the world of David Fleming you'll be so glad you did Rob Hopkins cofounder of the Transition Network

Trust and Antitrust in Asian Business Alliances John B. Kidd, Frank-Jürgen Richter, 2003-12-14 This book reviews the deep historical roots of Asian business ethics and firmly places these into the modern context From this analysis the various authors review the role of trust in alliances in general and in operational detail in several countries in South and East Asia Malaysia Japan Singapore and Korea are featured Finally we note the need to develop trust looking at the obstacles of understanding these aspects

Re-Thinking the Future of Work Colin C. Williams, 2007-02-28 How will work be organised in the future With its global perspective and critical approach Re Thinking the Future of Work provides not only an overview and examination of the array of competing visions but also a radical rethink about the direction of change

Bazaars, Conversations and Freedom Rajni Bakshi, 2017-09-08

Long before the financial meltdown and the red alert on climate change some far sighted innovators diagnosed the fatal flaws in an economic system driven by greed and fear Across the global North and South diverse people financial wizards economists business people and social activists have been challenging the free market orthodoxy They seek to recover the virtues of bazaars from the tyranny of a market model that emerged about two centuries ago This widely praised book is a chronicle of their achievements From Wall Street icon George Soros and VISA card designer Dee Hock we get an insider critique of the malaise Creators of community currencies and others like the father of microfinance Bangladesh's Muhammad Yunus explore how money can work differently The doctrine of self interest is re examined by looking more closely at Adam Smith through the eyes of Amartya Sen Mahatma Gandhi's concept of Trusteeship gathers strength as the socially responsible investing phenomenon challenges the power of capital Pioneers of the open source and free software movement thrive on cooperation to drive innovation The Dalai Lama and Ela Bhatt demonstrate that it is possible to compete compassionately and to nurture a more mindful market culture This sweeping narrative takes you from the ancient Greek agora Indian choupal and Native American gift culture on to present day Wall Street to illuminate ideas subversive and prudent about how the market can serve society rather than being its master In a world exhausted by dogma Bazaars Conversations and Freedom is an open quest for possible futures This fully updated and revised UK version of the 2009 Vodafone Crossword Book Award winner for non fiction is a rare and epic narrative about those who have been quietly forging solutions and demonstrating that a more compassionate market culture is both possible and desirable
