Chapter 2 AP World History Summary Each civilization faces challenges from politics to environment and everything in between. This chapter explains how each society became urbanized even though it was very tough. Nubia, China, Olmec, and Chavin are connected though each are separated by millions of miles and geological isolation. In China, dynasties rule all over the land; the Shang dynasty begins China's history with the rise of power of it's clans. It contains the earliest recorded writing documents, and they introduced bronze during 2000 B.

C. E. The region was ran by a warrior aristocracy who loved warfare, hunting, exchanging, feasting, and wine revelry; the King of Shang always traveled for courts of his subordinates to reinforce their loyalty. Nomadic people that owned desert regions, or steppe lands were given demonstration power also. After Egypt took charge, Nubia became Kush and adapted the Egyptian culture. Nubia decided to help local Palestine who struggled with the Assyrians in 701 B. C. E. ; this was a mistake because the Assyrians invaded and overthrown Egypt so that made a downfall for Nubia. After a while, Nubia became in control again, they still kept the Egyptian language, however Sub-Saharan culture replaced the Egyptian culture when Meroe became better suited for agriculture and trade. On the other side of the world, the Olmec civilization is completely isolated from the world.

It's located in Mesoamerica which is one of the most impressive early civilizations. The King's Power was used to make people build large scale irrigation and drainage works, and by the 1000 B. C. E. they have become a civilization. In addition to the geological isolation, Olmec have frequent volcanic eruptions and earth quakes, and mountains that separate the region into micro environments. Evolution developed into urbanization and appearance of powerful political and religious elites. The people were very advanced for their time; they made he calendar and based their urban centers to reflect astronomical observations. The Olmec civilization influenced the Mayans and considered the most influential earliest Mesoamerican civilization. The most impressive early Urban South American civilization is Chavin. It's home to the most dense population. Maize increased the food supply of the coast and interior foothills, thus, allowing greater leverage for civilization. They have a form of political integration and trade dependency on it's neighbors that may have relied on military force.

Their religion was based on praising their royal ancestors and gods that can take on animal form. The most praised animal is the jaguar; human sacrifices were made at temple platforms. These civi

Events That Changed the Course of History: The Story of the Grand Canyon's Establishment 100 Years Later Hannah Litwiller, 2017 The Grand Canyon is one of America's loveliest landmarks That's a pretty noncontroversial statement right Wrong at least if you lived 100 years ago Teddy Roosevelt the Wild West loving wanted the Grand Canyon to be a national park an untarnished natural beauty that every American could have the chance to admire Yet a lot of people just didn't think the Grand Canyon was that charming The isolation and barrenness appalled some early visitors What was pretty about the jagged cliffs and bare rock with their garish colors and terrifying abysses It wasn't just aesthetics that made the Grand Canyon's path to becoming a national park rocky Minors wanted to keep searching for potential fortunes in the nooks and crannies of the canyon A handful of independent minded settlers who had made makeshift houses near the rim to enjoy the peace and solitude weren't excited about the prospect of tourists Railroads had already built their own hotels and didn't want the National Park Service to benefit from an influx of visitors But somehow these hurdles were overcome because the Grand Canyon became a national park on February 26 1919
