Love and Space in Contemporary African Diasporic Women's Writing Jennifer Leetsch,2021-07-16 This book sets out to investigate how contemporary African diasporic women writers respond to the imbalances pressures and crises of twenty first century globalization by querying the boundaries between two separate conceptual domains love and space The study breaks new ground by systematically bringing together critical love studies with research into the cultures of migration diaspora and refuge Examining a notable tendency among current black feminist writers poets and performers to insist on the affective dimension of world making the book ponders strategies of reconfiguring postcolonial discourses Indeed the analyses of literary works and intermedia performances by Chimamanda Adichie Zadie Smith Helen Oyeyemi Shailja Patel and Warsan Shire reveal an urge of moving beyond a familiar insistence on processes of alienation or rupture and towards a new reparative emphasis on connection and intimacy to imagine possible inhabitable worlds Novels of Botswana in English, 1930-2006 S. Lederer,2014-06-16 Mary Lederer provides a valuable critical historical survey of the genesis and development of the English novel in Botswana This book comes as a timely correction of the notion that Botswana has no sustained fiction written in English thus filling a gap that has existed for a long time in the literature of that country The Columbia Granger's Index to African-American Poetry Nicholas Frankovich,David Larzelere,1999 Responding to the enormous interest in African American literature Columbia University Press is publishing a Granger s R index devoted exclusively to poetry by African Americans To compile the Index to African American Poetry a team of consultants indentified the best most widely available anthologies and volumes of collected and selected works The result this new index includes more than 11 000 poems by 659 poets Dictionary of African Filmmakers Roy Armes,2008-07-11 Chiefly short biographies and filmographies The Music in African American Fiction Robert H. Cataliotti,2019-09-16 This is the first comprehensive historical analysis of how black music and musicians have been represented in the fiction of African American writers It also examines how music and musicians in fiction have exemplified the sensibilities of African Americans and provided paradigms for an African American literary tradition The fictional representation of African American music by black authors is traced from the nineteenth century William Wells Brown Martin Delany Pauline E Hopkins Paul Laurence Dunbar through the early twentieth century and the Harlem Renaissance James Weldon Johnson Langston Hughes Claude McKay Zora Neale Hurston to the 1940s and 50s Richard Wright Ann Petry James Baldwin Ralph Ellison and the 1960s and the Black Arts Movement Margaret Walker William Melvin Kelley Leroi Jones Amiri Baraka Henry Dumas In the century between Brown and Baraka the representation of music in black fiction went through a dramatic metamorphosis Music occupied a representative role in African American culture from which writers drew ideas and inspiration The music provided a way out of a limited situation by offering a viable option to the strictures of racism Individuals who overcome these limitations then become role models in the struggle toward equality African American musical forms for both artist and audience also offerd a way of looking at the world survival and resistance The black musician became a ritual leader This study delineates how black writers have captured the spirit of the music that played such a pivotal role in African American culture Ph D dissertation State University of New York at Stony Brook 1993 revised with new preface and index
