Dehejia, 2013-06-01

Parul is a Professor a dyed in the wool academic who is shaped by the life denying philosophy of Shankara's Advaita Vedanta Parul on the other hand is a sensual earthy woman who believes in the veracity of love and the reality of the many beautiful things that life offers A chance meeting between the two leads not only to a romantic relationship spread over eleven purnimas but becomes a dialogue between two philosophical systems the Advaita of Shankara and the Madhurya of the Bhagvata Purana As romantic moments between the two unfold intellectuality interacts with sensuality questioning the validity of each and as Chaitra moves to Magh a transformation takes place As Harsha Dehejia weaves this romantic story where meetings by the Parijataka and conversations underneath the Champa are not only moments of shringara but introspections on the meaning of life we hear and feel the sensuality of love as it merges seamlessly with the intellectuality of a philosophic discourse In this heart throbbing romantic relationship there is the spiritual quest of ultimate reality along with the pleasures of the sound of the wind and the song of a bird Metaphysical thoughts and tender feelings evocative colours and resonant sounds intoxicating aromas and patterned textures myths and metaphors intermingle in the hushed conversations of two people in love

Playing the Race Card Linda Williams,2020-10-06 The black man suffering at the hands of whites the white woman sexually threatened by the black man Both images have long been burned into the American conscience through popular entertainment and today they exert a powerful and disturbing influence on Americans understanding of race So argues Linda

Williams in this boldly inquisitive book where she probes the bitterly divisive racial sentiments aroused by such recent events as O J Simpson s criminal trial Williams the author of Hard Core explores how these images took root beginning with melodramatic theater where suffering characters acquire virtue through victimization The racial sympathies and hostilities that surfaced during the trial of the police in the beating of Rodney King and in the O J Simpson murder trial are grounded in the melodramatic forms of Uncle Tom s Cabin and The Birth of a Nation Williams finds that Stowe s beaten black man and Griffith s endangered white woman appear repeatedly throughout popular entertainment promoting interracial understanding at one moment interracial hate at another The black and white racial melodrama has galvanized emotions and fueled the importance of new media forms such as serious integrated musicals of stage and film including The Jazz Singer and Show Boat It also helped create a major event out of the movie Gone With the Wind while enabling television to assume new moral purpose with the broadcast of Roots Williams demonstrates how such developments converged to make the televised race trial a form of national entertainment When prosecutor Christopher Darden accused Simpson s defense team of playing the race card which ultimately trumped his own team s gender card he feared that the jury s sympathy for a targeted black man would be at the expense of the abused white wife The jury s verdict Williams concludes was determined not so much by facts as by the cultural forces of racial melodrama long in the making Revealing melodrama to be a key element in American culture Williams argues that the race images it has promoted are deeply ingrained in our minds and that there can be no honest discussion about race until Americans recognize this predicament
