French woman writer Violette Leduc heralded as a great by Beauvoir Sartre Genet Camus erodes the divide between body and text in erotic literature In The Pleasures of the Text Elizabeth Locey sets herself the task of pinning down the often slippery ways in which pleasure is mapped onto the body of the reader and she confronts and challenges the philosophical debate between pornography and erotica George Sand and the Nineteenth-century Russian Love-triangle Novels

Dawn D. Eidelman, 1994 Mauprat features Edmee a self actualizing woman as hero protagonist Here the notion of fiction of relationship emerges as male Russian authors created tragic idealized woman characters who could never really live up to the terrible perfection with which they were endowed Latin Erotic Elegy and the Shaping of Sixteenth-Century

English Love Poetry Linda Grant, 2019-08-29 Interdisciplinary in approach and methodologically sophisticated this book explores the dynamic reception of Latin erotic elegy in Renaissance love poetry The Erotic Word David M.

Carr, 2005-02-24 Historically the Bible has been used to drive a wedge between the spirit and the body In this book David Carr argues that it can and should do just the opposite Sexuality and spirituality Carr contends are intricately interwoven when one is impoverished the other is warped Reading and Writing Experimental Texts Robin Silbergleid, Kristina

Quynn, 2017-10-03 This collection of essays offers twelve innovative approaches to contemporary literary criticism The contributors women scholars who range from undergraduate students to contingent faculty to endowed chairs stage a critical dialogue that raises vital questions about the aims and forms of criticism its discourses and politics as well as the personal institutional and economic conditions of its production Offering compelling feminist and queer readings of avant garde twentieth and twenty first century texts the essays included here are playful performative and theoretically savvy Written for students scholars and professors in literature and creative writing Reading and Writing Experimental Texts provides examples for doing literary scholarship in innovative ways These provocative readings invite conversation and community reminding us that if the stakes of critical innovation are high so are the pleasures

Erotic Coleridge A. Taylor, 2005-12-09

Erotic Coleridge charts Coleridge's prolific creation of love poems from early flirtatious verse to poems about marital incompatibility the blank faces of young women fearing for their reputations the obliterating seductions of young women the exaltation of falling in love the spoken and sung voices of women the pain of jealousy and late meditations on how to live with the waning of love In his prose he responds to Parliamentary debates about punishing adulteresses and gives advice about how marriage can warp the soul In his sensual exuberance and his ethics of reverencing the individuality of other persons Coleridge attends closely to the lives of women

Voices of Exile in Contemporary Canadian Francophone Literature

Elizabeth Dahab,2010-12-01 Over the last four decades the largest French speaking state in North America QuZbec has nested more than a dozen vibrant modes of French expression created by members of the varied cultural communities that have settled there Voices of Exile in Contemporary Canadian Francophone Literature examines the works of several first generation Canadian authors originating from Lebanon Iraq Egypt and the Maghreb who produced a trilingual literature that reflects the diversity of their cultural backgrounds By casting a critical eye on the works of Saad Elkhadem Naim Kattan Abla Farhoud Wajdi Mouawad and HZdi Bouraoui F Elizabeth Dahab explores themes styles and structures that characterize the oeuvre of those authors Dahab demonstrates that their mode is exile and in so doing she reveals the ways in which these writers seek to shape their art using a host of innovative techniques that engage their renewed cultural identity The Art of Love Peter L. Allen,2015-09-30 Two major French medieval literary works that claim to teach their readers the art of love are virtually torn apart by the contradictions and conflicts they contain In Andreas Capellanus s late twelfth century Latin De amore the author instructs his friend Walter in the amatory art in the first two books but then harshly repudiates his own teachings and love itself in a third and final book In Jean de Meun s encyclopedic continuation of the Romance of the Rose written in French in the 1270s a succession of allegorical figures alternately promote and excoriate the lover s amatory pursuits Jean s romance moreover virtually rewrites the dream vision of Guillaume de Lorris which it claims simply to extend and ends with the depiction of a sexual act that seems to throw the book s whole structure into confusion The more closely one reads this works Peter L Allen contents the harder it is to understand them Didactic heavy handed and problematic they teach would be lovers how to behave in order to have others accomplish their desires yet they also contain vociferous passages that dissuade their protagonists from the practice of this art which they claim leads not only to earthly destruction but also to eternal damnation Readers from the Middle Ages to the present have been troubled by the fact that these texts are both radically self contradictory and fundamentally at odds with the accepted morality of medieval Christian Europe And for decades scholars have tried to determine how these two works are related to what is often referred to as courtly love In The Art of Love Allen persuasive argues that the De amore and the Romance of the Rose are central to the courtly tradition Allen contends that their conflicts and contradictions are not signs of confusion or artistic failure but are instead essential clues which show that the medieval works follow the disruptive structural model of Ovid s first century elegiac Ars amatoria Art of Love and Remedia amoris Cures for Love Andreas s and Jean s works no less than Ovid s teach not the art of love for practicing lovers but the literary art of love poetry and fiction Based squarely on Ovid s poems which were among the most widely read classical texts in medieval Europe the De amore and the Romance of the Rose use the classical tradition in a particularly assertive fashion and suggest a way for fantasies of love to exist even against a background of ecclesiastical prohibition The Laws of Love P. Goodrich,2006-10-30 Your guest at dinner kisses you What does it mean Where does it lead Does kissing necessarily imply more and if so how much These and similar questions of amorous ethics and erotic disquisition are central to our everyday intimate public lives and they are the lost object of the law of love the lex amatoria collated and presented here Scrolls of Love Peter S. Hawkins, Lesleigh Cushing Stahlberg, 2006 Respectful of traditional biblical scholarship this collection of essays aims to move beyond it It brings together two communities that have read their Bibles in isolation from one another in ignorance of the richness of the other's traditions Still Reading Romance Josefine Smith, Kathleen W. Taylor Kollman, 2025-04-01 In a world that commodifies feminism is adapting romance novels for small and big screen projects and the Romance Writers Association is evolving to a more inclusive representative group it is imperative for researchers to reevaluate the cultural assumptions and gender norming work happening in the romance genre It is time to question the cultural capital of traditional archetypes explore the experience of romance readers and question how romance and cultural studies researchers create quantitative qualitative and mixed methods research This work centers around a data set collected with a revised version of Janice Radway's Reading the Romance survey that will be shared with all the authors of this anthology By having access to this pool authors will have the opportunity to explore different elements of reader experience and cultural norms in romance fiction and potentially reflect on changes since Janice Radway's seminal work The norms and negotiations readers experience while consuming romance is especially interesting as romancelandia becomes a more mainstream part of popular culture with the popularity of Bridgerton and romance series like Ice Planet Barbarians exploding on BookTok No other book in romance or popular culture studies identifies a data set as the connecting element and to do so creates an exciting opportunity to create a more inclusive study of popular romance offer truly interdisciplinary research on the question of how readers read romance and generate diverse areas of future scholarship This edited volume explores multiple issues in romance fiction based on survey data from real romance readers An updated version of Janice Radway's influential survey looking at romance readers in the early 1980s this time scholars explore romance readers habits and attitudes in the twenty first century Each contributor in this volume uses the same survey data to make unique statements about gender intersectionality popular fiction and popular culture By using a common data set but approaching it from different perspectives this unique volume is able to apply multiple methodologies to the same subject

Selves and Subjectivities Veronica Thompson, Manijeh Mannani, 2012 As critic Diana Brydon has argued contemporary Canadian writers are not transcending nation but resituating it Drawing together themes of gender and sexuality trauma and displacement performativity and linguistic diversity Selves and Subjectivities constitutes a thought provoking response to the question of what it means to be a Canadian P 4 of cover The Phenomenology of Love and Reading Cassandra Falke, 2018-05-31 The current revival of interest in ethics in literary criticism coincides fortuitously with a revival of interest in love in philosophy The literary return to ethics also coincides with a spate of neuroscientific discoveries about cognition and emotion But without a philosophical grounding this new work cannot speak convincingly about literature's relationship to our ethical lives Jean Luc Marion's articulation of a phenomenology of love provides this philosophical grounding The Phenomenology of Love and Reading accepts Jean Luc Marion's argument that love matters for who we are more than anything more than cognition and more than being itself. Cassandra Falke shows how reading can strengthen our capacity to love by giving us practice in love's habits: attention, empathy, and a willingness to be overwhelmed. Confounding our expectations, literature equips us for the confounding events of love which Falke suggests are not rare and fleeting but rather constitute the most meaningful and durable part of our everyday life. LITTLE WOMEN and THE FEMINIST

IMAGINATION Janice M. Alberghene, Beverly Lyon Clark, 2014-04-08 Raising key questions about race, class, sexuality, age, material culture, intellectual history, pedagogy, and gender, this book explores the myriad relationships between feminist thinking and Little Women, a novel that has touched many women's lives. A critical introduction traces 130 years of popular and critical response, and the collection presents 11 new essays, two new bibliographies, and reprints of six classic essays. The contributors examine the history of illustrating Little Women, Alcott's use of domestic architecture as codes of female self-expression, the tradition of utopian writing by women, relationship to works by British and African American writers, recent thinking about feminist pedagogy, the significance of the novel for women writers, and its implications from the vantage points of middle-aged scholar, parent, and resisting male reader. Philosophy and Love Linnell Secomb, 2007-05-11 Philosophy and Love introduces historical and contemporary philosophical reflections on love. It brings together philosophy with cultural analysis to provide an accessible and engaging account of conventional theories of love as well as the controversial reformulations evident in same-sex desire, cross-cultural love, and internet romance. Starting with Plato but focusing especially on contemporary European philosophy, this book introduces figures such as Nietzsche, Beauvoir, Irigaray, Derrida, and Fanon. Explaining these philosophical approaches in clear and accessible terms, Philosophy and Love also engages with cultural productions ranging from Sappho to Frankenstein and from Hiroshima Mon Amour to Desperate Housewives, enabling an exchange between philosophical and cultural theories. Love stories are also central to this interdisciplinary book, revealing the ethical and the political as well as the personal implications of lover's discourses. Embracing both the sentimental and the political, this deconstructive reading discloses the paradoxes, conflicts, and intensities of the love relation. Going Beyond Words Lois Huey-Heck, 2010-10 Book CD This book offers spiritual practices that have their roots in ancient tradition and have been adapted and refined to be relevant and accessible to anyone interested in spiritual unfolding. Utilising word, image, sound, and silence to engage our cognitive, emotional, and physical intelligences, the practices encourage and celebrate the ongoing process of spiritual transformation. The practices are designed to expand our repertoire of ways to be present to ourselves, to each other, to the cosmos, and to the Holy, in other words, ways to do our part in serving the Great Work. This practical book is illustrated with black and white images by the author. It is small enough to carry around in a shoulder bag or jacket pocket and comes with an audio CD containing background music for the practices, timed intervals for meditation, contemplation, prayer, and verbal instructions. You will find it easy to begin the practice of engaging your whole self in your spiritual journey Connections: Year B, Volume 3 Joel B. Green, Thomas G. Long, Luke A. Powery, Cynthia L. Rigby, Carolyn J. Sharp, 2021-04-20 Designed to empower preachers as they lead their congregations to connect their lives to Scripture Connections features a broad set of interpretive tools that provide commentary and worship aids on the Revised Common Lectionary This nine volume series offers creative commentary on each reading through the lens of its connections to the rest of Scripture and then seeing the reading through the lenses of culture film fiction ethics and other aspects of contemporary life Commentaries on the Psalms make connections to other readings and to the congregation s experience of worship Connections is published in partnership with Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary Love, history and emotion in Chaucer and Shakespeare Andrew James Johnston, Russell West-Pavlov, Elisabeth Kempf, 2016-02-05 This collection of essays explores medieval and early modern Troilus texts from Chaucer to Shakespeare The contributions show how medieval and early modern fictions of Troy use love and other emotions as a means of approaching the problem of tradition As these texts reflect on their own traditionality they highlight both the affective nature of temporality and the role of affect in scrutinising tradition itself Focusing on a specific textual lineage that bridges the conventional period boundaries the collection participates in an exchange between medievalists and early modernists that seeks to generate a dialogic encounter between the periods with the aim of further dismantling the rigid notions of chronology and periodisation that have kept medieval and early modern scholarship apart
