The National Space Transportation Policy ,1995 National Space Transportation Policy DIANE Publishing Company,1995-10 A broad assessment of the health and future prospects of the U S space transportation technology and industrial base Examines the Clinton administration policy in light of the implementation plans prepared by NASA DOD and the Transportation and Commerce Dept s Extensive discussion of foreign launch systems and components Identifies 2 additional issues the preservation of long range ballistic missile capabilities after final production in 2005 and the perspective of lower industrial tier firms toward national space transportation policy Charts and tables The national space transportation policy : issues for Congress. ,1995 In responding to the political and military challenges of the Cold War and the urge to explore and exploit outer space the United States developed a capable fleet of space transportation systems for carrying cargo and people into space and for ensuring a credible strategic nuclear deterrent These systems are owned and managed by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration the Department of Defense and private industry In recent years increasing federal budget constraints commercial competition from foreign launch firms and a desire to continue an ambitious space program have created pressures within the United States to reduce the costs of access to space Significantly lower space transportation costs would make the U S space industry more commercially competitive foster the expansion and creation of new space markets and ensure access to space for government payloads and manned missions This report prepared for the House Committee on Science is the first in a broad assessment of the health and future prospects of the U S space transportation technology and industrial base The report focuses on the Clinton Administration s National Space Transportation Policy which was released last fall It examines administration policy in light of the implementation plans prepared by NASA DOD and the Transportation and Commerce Departments As the report notes the new policy brings a welcome measure of order to the sometimes chaotic structure of U S space transportation activities The policy also emphasizes the important contribution private industry can make to the direction and development of U S space transportation capabilities However an analysis of the policy and implementation plans also raises some issues that might be of interest to Congress as it debates space transportation legislation oversight and funding The Future of the U.S. Space Industrial Base United States. Congress. House. Committee on Science, Space, and Technology. Subcommittee on Space,1993 Vision Working Group Report and Scenarios Sheila R. Ronis,2010 The Project on National Security Reform submitted its 2 year study of the national security system Forging a New Shield to the President President elect and Congress on November 26 2008 Before the Project finalized the report s recommendations its Vision Working Group tested the findings against a diverse set of scenarios to determine if the recommendations were robust and effective This volume documents the scenario testing process used by the Vision Working Group and includes the actual pre reform and post reform scenarios and details many other scenario techniques used in the overall study Results revealed that each of the five major findings improved the performance of the current national security system but on the whole the findings concluded that the national security system was at risk of failure and needed serious reform The work of the Vision Working Group has led to the formulation of an additional recommendation The country must establish a mechanism to infuse greater foresight into the Executive Branch and in particular the national security system This proposed mechanism named the Center for Strategic Analysis and Assessment would exist and operate within the Executive Office of the President This volume details the proposed architecture and operation of the Center Administration's Proposal to Seek Modification of the 1972 Anti-Ballistic Missile Treaty (Ex.
