The Other Within Daniel Deardorff,2022-11-08 Reveals myth and otherness as keys to restoring self nature and society Shows how myths contain medicine to restore wholeness amidst trauma exile sudden life change disability illness death or grief Synthesizes lessons from shamanic practice quantum physics alchemy soul poetry wildness social justice and the author s lived experience Discloses the blessings of outsiderhood and the gifts and insights gained and contributed to culture by those who are marginalized and outcast There is an other that lives within each of us an exiled part that carries wisdom needed for ourselves and the culture at large Having survived disabling polio as an infant Daniel

Deardorff knows the oppressions of exclusion and outsiderhood. He guides readers on an initiatory journey through ancient myth literature and personal revelation to discover our own true identity. These 10 000 year old stories contain sacred medicine with insights that release imagination and restore wholeness amid trauma, exile, climate chaos, disability, illness, death and grief. Illustrating how archetypal figures of the Other, the Trickster, Daimon, Not I etc. hold paradox, Deardorff teaches us to reframe disparities of self/other, civilization/wilderness, form/deformity and transform the experience of being outcast. Synthesizing lessons from shamanic practice, quantum physics, alchemy, social justice and his own lived experience, Deardorff affirms the disruptive and transgressive forces that break through dogma, conventionality and prejudice. He discloses blessings of outsiderhood and gifts to culture by those who are marginalized. Through mythmaking, mythopoesis, the experience of Otherness, cultural, racial, religious, sexual, physiognomic becomes one of empowerment, a catalyst for human liberation.

Heaven Is Empty Filippo Marsili, 2018-11-01. Offers a new perspective on the relationship between religion and the creation of the first Chinese empires. Heaven Is Empty offers a new comparative perspective on the role of the sacred in the formation of China's early empires, 221 BCE - 9 CE, and shows how the unification of the Central States was possible without a unitary and universalistic conception of religion. The cohesive function of the ancient Mediterranean cult of the divinized ruler was crucial for the legitimization of Rome's empire across geographical and social boundaries. Eventually re-elaborated in Christian terms, it came to embody the timelessness and universality of Western conceptions of legitimate authority while representing an analytical template for studying other ancient empires. Filippo Marsili challenges such approaches in his examination of the reign of Emperor Wu of the Han, 141 - 87 BCE. Wu purposely drew from regional traditions and tried to gain the support of local communities through his patronage of local cults. He was interested in rituals that envisioned the monarch as a military leader who directly controlled the land and its resources as a means for legitimizing radical administrative and economic centralization. In reconstructing this imperial model, Marsili interprets fragmentary official accounts in light of material evidence and noncanonical and recently excavated texts. In bringing to life the courts, battlefields, markets, shrines and pleasure quarters of early imperial China, Heaven Is Empty provides a postmodern and postcolonial reassessment of religion before the arrival of Buddhism and challenges the application of Greco-Roman and Abrahamic systemic identity and exclusionary notions of the sacred to the analysis of pre-Christian and non-Western realities. Heaven Is Empty is a tour de force. It reveals Marsili's bold vision of early Chinese religion and his deft use of critical theory. The book will inspire scholars of early China for generations to come.
