Semonche,2007-07-20 In this gracefully written accessible and entertaining volume John Semonche surveys censorship for reasons of sex from the nineteenth century up to the present He covers the various forms of American media books and periodicals pictorial art motion pictures music and dance and radio television and the Internet The tale is varied and interesting replete with a stock of colorful characters such as Anthony Comstock Mae West Theodore Dreiser Marcel Duchamp Opie and Anthony Judy Blume Jerry Falwell Alfred Kinsey Hugh Hefner and the Guerilla Girls Covering the history of censorship of sexual ideas and images is one way of telling the story of modern America and Semonche tells that tale with insight and flair Despite the varieties of censorship running from self censorship to government bans a common story is told Censorship whether undertaken to ward off government regulation to help preserve the social order or to protect the weak and vulnerable proceeds on the assumption that the censor knows best and that limiting the choices of media consumers is justified At various times all of the following groups were perceived as needing protection from sexually explicit materials children women the lower classes and foreigners As social and political conditions changed however the simple fact that someone was a woman or a day laborer did not support stereotyping that person as weak or impressionable What would remain as the only acceptable rationale for censorship of sexual materials was the protection of children and unconsenting adults For each mode of media Semonche explains via abundant examples how and why censorship took place in America Censoring Sex also traces the story of how the cultural territory contested by those advocating and opposing censorship has diminished over the course of the last two centuries Yet Semonche argues the censorship of sexual materials that continues in the United States poses a challenge to the free speech that is part of the foundation upon which the nation is built Indeed in an era in which sexual images are pervasive and the need for reliable information about sex and sexuality is growing he questions the remaining rationales for censorship and the justification for placing obscenity outside the protection of the U S Constitution

The Horror Film Stephen Prince, 2004-02-09 In this volume Stephen Prince has collected essays reviewing the history of the horror film and the psychological reasons for its persistent appeal as well as discussions of the developmental responses of young adult viewers and children to the genre The book focuses on recent postmodern examples such as The Blair Witch Project In a daring move the volume also examines Holocaust films in relation to horror Part One features essays on the silent and classical Hollywood eras Part Two covers the postWorld War II era and discusses the historical aesthetic and psychological characteristics of contemporary horror films In contrast to horror during the classical Hollywood period contemporary horror features more graphic and prolonged visualizations of disturbing and horrific imagery as well as other distinguishing characteristics Princes introduction provides an overview of the genre contextualizing the readings that follow Stephen Prince is professor of communications at Virginia Tech He has written many film books including Classical Film Violence Designing and Regulating Brutality in Hollywood Cinema 1930-1968 and has edited Screening Violence also in the Depth of Field Series

Security, Territory, Population M. Foucault, 2007-03-28 This book derives from Foucault's lectures at the College de France between January and April 1978 which can be seen as a radical turning point in his thought Focusing on bio power he studies the foundations of this new technology of power over population and explores the technologies of security and the history of governmentality Security, Territory, Population Michel Foucault, 2009-02-03 Foreword Introduction 11 January 1978 18 January 1978 25 January 1978 1 February 1978 8 February 1978 15 February 1978 22 February 1978 1 March 1978 8 March 1978 15 March 1978 22 March 1978 29 March 1978 5 April 1978 Course Summary Course Context Index of Notions Index of Names Air Corps News Letter ,1950 Scents & Sensibility Catherine Maxwell, 2017 Explores Victorian literature through scent and perfume presenting an extensive range of well known and unfamiliar texts in intriguing and imaginative new ways that make us re think literature s relation with the senses A selection of poems essays and fiction exploring these texts with reference to both the little known cultural history of perfume use and the appreciation of natural fragrance in Victorian Britain It shows how scent and perfume are used to convey not merely moods and atmospheres but the nuances of the aesthete or decadent s carefully cultivated identity personality or sensibility Advent Review and Sabbath Herald ,1856 The Pentateuch as Narrative John H. Sailhamer, 2017-03-21 Most scholars studying the first five books of the Bible either attempt to dissect it into various pre pentateuchal documents or at the very least analyze Genesis Exodus Leviticus Numbers and Deuteronomy as separate self contained documents The Pentateuch As Narrative focuses on the narrative and literary continuity of the Pentateuch as a whole It seeks to disclose how the original Jewish readers may have viewed this multivolume work of Moses Its central thesis is that the Pentateuch was written from the perspective of one who had lived under the Law of the Covenant established at Mount Sinai and had seen its failure to produce genuine trust in the Lord God of Israel In this context the Pentateuch pointed the reader forward to the hope of the New Covenant based on divine faithfulness Throughout the commentary Dr Sailhamer pays close attention to and interacts with a wide range of classical and contemporary literature on the Pentateuch written by Jews Catholics and Protestants
