Gender and Colonialism Lorena Rizzo, 2012-12-29 This book deals with colonialism on a Namibian periphery and considers both the German colonial period as well as South African rule in the country The marginality of the Kaoko region within this colonial topography of power is analysed as a dynamic and fractured feature where power relations and constellations remained highly contested The dynamics of gender within a regional society constituted of men and women African and European receive special attention within frameworks engaging with colonial photography oral histories and gendered visions Knowing - Unknowing, 2024-08-26 This book emerges at a time when critical race studies postcolonial thought and decolonial theory are under enormous pressure as part of a global conservative backlash However this is also an exciting moment where new horizons of knowledge appear and new epistemic practices e g symmetry collaboration undisciplining gain traction Through our critical engagements with structural relational and personal aspects of knowing and unknowing we work towards a greater multiplicity of knowledges and practices Calling into question the asymmetrical global economy of knowledge and its uneven division of intellectual labour our interdisciplinary volume explores what a decolonial horizon could entail for African Studies at the crossroads Contributors are Akosua Adomako Ampofo Eric A Anchimbe Edwin Asa Adjei Susan Arndt Muiyiwa Falaiye Katharina Greven Christine Hanke Amanda Hlengwa Catherine Kiprop El sio Macamo Nelson Maldonado Torres Cassandra Mark Thiesen Lena Naumann Thando Njovane Samuel Ntewusu Anthony Okerege Zandisiwe Radebe Elelwani Ramugondo Eleanor Schaumann Breweries, Politics and Identity: The History Behind Namibian Beer Tycho van der Hoog, 2019-09-25 Namibian beer is celebrated as an inextricable part of Namibian nationalism both within its domestic borders and across global markets But for decades on end the same brew was not available to the black population as a consequence of colonial politics This book aims to explain how a European style beer has been transformed from an icon of white settlers into a symbol of the independent Namibian nation The unusual focus on beer offers valuable insight into the role companies play in identity formation and thus highlights an understudied aspect of Namibian history namely business state relations What Colonialism Ignored Moyo, Sam, Mine, Yoichi, 2016-03-02 As Julius Nyerere once noted Africa has largely been the continent of peace though this fact has not been widely publicised In reality Africa possesses dynamic potentials for resolving contradictions and violent ruptures that colonial authorities post colonial states and global actors have failed to capture and capitalise upon Drawing on the everyday experience of rural and urban people in Zimbabwe South Africa Namibia and Zambia this book brings into conversation leading Japanese scholars of Southern Africa with their African colleagues The result is an exploration in comparative perspective of the fascinating richness of bottom up African potentials for conflict resolution in Southern Africa a region burdened with the legacy of settler capitalism and contemporary neoliberalism The book is a pacesetter on how to think and research Africa in fruitful collaboration and with an ear to the nuances and complexities of the dynamic and lived realities of Africans Historical

Dictionary of South Africa Christopher Saunders, Peter Limb, 2020-12-15 As the most influential and powerful country on the entire continent of Africa an understanding of South Africa's past and its present trends is crucial in appreciating where South Africans are going to and from where they have come South Africa changed dramatically in 1994 when apartheid was dismantled and it became a democratic state Since 2000 when the previous edition appeared further big changes occurred with the rise of new political leaders and of a new black middle class There were also serious problems in governance in public health and the economy but with a remarkable popular resilience too This third edition of Historical Dictionary of South Africa contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 600 cross referenced entries on important personalities as well as aspects of the country's politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about South Africa

Lyrical Nationalism in Post-Apartheid Namibia Wendi A. Haugh, 2014-06-25 When Namibia gained its independence from South Africa in 1990 the new government began dismantling the divisive apartheid state and building a unified nation state What does this new nation look like from the perspective of ordinary citizens In Lyrical Nationalism in Post Apartheid Namibia Wendi Haugh provides an ethnographic portrayal of the nation as imagined by people living in the former ethnic homeland of Ovamboland with a particular focus on the lyrics of songs composed and performed by Catholic youth The author argues that these youth draw on conflicting ideologies hierarchical and egalitarian nationalist and cosmopolitan from multiple sources to construct a multi faceted sense of national identity She reveals how their vision of the nation framed as neutrally national is deeply rooted in specific local histories and cultures

Milk: God's Feet, 2023-04-13 The title of this book originates from the self description of Namibian Evangelists in their own words African evangelists of the Rhenish Mission Society RMS played a crucial but mostly overlooked role in shaping the spiritual and social networks that transformed indigenous communities from the early nineteenth century The author draws from a wide range of German Namibian and South African archival sources that have been supplemented with a large number of interviews to explore the history of the indigenous evangelists of the RMS African supporters were often the first heralds of the new religion at remote villages and cattle posts before the white strangers made an appearance The Namibian evangelists familiarity with the traditional culture and the local vernacular endowed them with a credibility that many of the European newcomers found difficult to acquire By interweaving mission and church history between 1820 and 1990 with a biographical approach the author brings a hidden chapter in Namibian history to life Hans Martin Milk born in southern Africa grew up in Namibia and lived there until he left into Exile in the 1970s He returned to Namibia after independence to teach in Kavango During this time he started his historical research on the RMS and the Kavango

Forged in Genocide William Blakemore Lyon, 2024-07-22 Forged in Genocide traces the early history of colonial capitalism in Namibia with a central focus on migrants who came to be key to the economy during and as a result of the German genocide of the Herero and Nama 1904

1908 It posits that Namibia far from being a colonial backwater of the early 20th century became highly integrated into the labor flows and economies of West and Southern Africa and even for a time was one of the most sought after regions for African migrants because of relatively high wages and numerous opportunities resulting from the war's demographic devastation paired with an economic frenzy following the discovery of diamonds In highlighting the life stories of migrants in Namibia from regions as diverse as the Kru coast of Liberia the Eastern Cape of South Africa and the Ovambo polities of Northern Namibia this work integrates micro history into larger African continental trends Building off of written sources from migrants themselves and utilising the Namibian Worker Database constructed for this project this book explores the lives of workers in early colonial Namibia in a way that has hereto not been attempted Population Politics in the

Tropics Samuël Coghe, 2022-02-03 The book analyses how depopulation anxieties and transimperial connections shaped medical demographic and administrative interventions in Portuguese Angola The Oxford Handbook of Historical

Ecology and Applied Archaeology Christian Isendahl, Daryl Stump, 2019-01-10 The Oxford Handbook of Historical Ecology and Applied Archaeology presents theoretical discussions methodological outlines and case studies describing the field of overlap between historical ecology and the emerging sub discipline of applied archaeology to highlight how modern environments and landscapes have been shaped by humans Historical ecology is based on the recognition that humans are not only capable of modifying their environments but that all environments on earth have already been directly or indirectly modified This includes anthropogenic climate change widespread deforestations and species extinctions but also very local alterations the effects of which may last a few years or may have legacies lasting centuries or more With contributions from anthropologists archaeologists human geographers and historians this volume focuses not just on defining human impacts in the past but on the ways that understanding these changes can help inform contemporary practices and development policies Some chapters present examples of how ancient or current societies have modified their environments in sustainable ways while others highlight practices that had unintended long term consequences The possibilities of learning from these practices are discussed as is the potential of using the long history of human resource exploitation as a method for building or testing models of future change The volume offers overviews for students researchers and professionals with an interest in conservation or development projects who want to understand what practical insights can be drawn from history and who seek to apply their work to contemporary issues Photography and History in Colonial Southern Africa Lorena

Rizzo, 2019-09-16 This book studies the relationship between photography and history in colonial Southern Africa using a series of encounters with Southern African photographic archives to reflect on photography as a distinct historical form Through use of private and public archives images produced by African itinerant photographers white settlers and colonial state institutions this book explores the relationship between photography and history in colonial Southern Africa Late nineteenth century Cape Colonial prison albums police photographs from German Southwest Africa African studio portraits identity documents travel permits and passports from the 1920s and 1930s visual studies of whiteness and blackness authored by settler photographers South African dompas photographs from the 1950s and 1960s and aerial photography from the Eastern Cape in the mid twentieth century are examined to highlight the ways in which photographic images cut across conventional institutional boundaries and complicate rigid distinctions between the private and the public the political and the aesthetic the colonial and the vernacular or the subject and the object Photography and History in Colonial Southern Africa argues that rather than understanding photographs as a means of preserving and recreating the past in the present we can value them for how they evoke at once the need for and the limits of historical reconstruction This book will be of interest to students and scholars of colonial history photographic history visual media and African studies Settler

Colonialism in the Twentieth Century Caroline Elkins, Susan Pedersen, 2012-11-12 Postcolonial states and metropolitan societies still grapple today with the divisive and difficult legacies unleashed by settler colonialism Whether they were settled for trade or geopolitical reasons these settler communities had in common their shaping of landholding laws and race relations in colonies throughout the world By looking at the detail of settlements in the twentieth century from European colonial projects in Africa and expansionist efforts by the Japanese in Korea and Manchuria to the Germans in Poland and the historical trajectories of Israel Palestine and South Africa and analyzing the dynamics set in motion by these settlers the contributors to this volume establish points of comparison to offer a new framework for understanding the character and fate of twentieth century empires Conservation and Mobile Indigenous Peoples Dawn Chatty, Marcus Colchester, 2002

Includes statistics Deep hiStories , 2021-11-22 Deep hiStories represents the first substantial publication on gender and colonialism in Southern Africa in recent years and suggests methodological ways forward for a post apartheid and postcolonial generation of scholars The volume s theorizing which is based on Southern African regional material is certain to impact on international debates on gender debates which have shifted from earlier feminisms towards theorizations which include sexual difference subjectivities colonial and postcolonial discourses and the politics of representation Deep hiStories goes beyond the dichotomies which have largely characterized the discussion of women and gender in Africa and explores alternative models of interpretation such as genealogies of voice These genealogies transcend the conventional binaries of visibility and invisibility speaking and silence Works covering South Africa from the eighteenth to the twentieth century and Zimbabwe Namibia and Cameroon in the twentieth include Colonial readings of Foucault Ideologies of domesticity Torture and testimony of slave women Women as missionary targets Gender and the public sphere Race science and spectacle Male nursing on mines Infanticide insanity and social control Fertility and the postcolonial state Literary reconstructions of the past Gender blending and code switching De colonizing the queer The collection includes diverse research on the body in Southern Africa for the first time It brings new subtleties to the ongoing debates on culture civility and sexuality dealing centrally with constructions of race and whiteness in history and literature It is an important resource for teachers and students of gender and colonial studies      "Where We Used to Plough" Christiane Naumann, 2017 This book offers a historically and ethnographically informed case study of environmental governance institutional and land use change and livelihood strategies in a former homeland in the South African Free State province Based on rich archival material the author reconstructs how the state invented a degradation narrative and used it as legitimation for the regulation of human environment relations during the twentieth century In addition the study investigates how people today make a living in a post agrarian society characterized by low agricultural production diversification of non farm incomes and declining population numbers declining population numbers Author Christiane Naumann is a lecturer at the Department of Social and Cultural Anthropology at the University of Cologne      Administration and Taxation in Former Portuguese Africa Philip J. Havik, Alexander Keese, Maciel Santos, 2015-06-18 This book addresses a notable gap in the knowledge of Portuguese colonial administration and the policies implemented in the main territories of its third African empire Angola Mozambique and Guinea In recent years the question of colonial taxation has become a topic in the academic debate on colonial empires and has led to a comparative long term focus on its impact in African societies Given that former Portuguese colonies in Africa have been largely absent from this debate this book      Exploring Curriculum Landscapes in Africa Oscar Koopman, Karen J. Koopman, Wally Lumadi, Samuel Amponsah, 2025-06-13 This book examines post colonial curriculum transformation across seven African nations These are South Africa Egypt Cameroon Nigeria Zimbabwe Namibia and Ghana It investigates whether these educational systems have truly decolonized their curricula or still remain rooted in Western frameworks despite achieving political independence Through analysis of curriculum policies and teaching practices the authors explore educational reform dynamics in post colonial African contexts The book evaluates how successfully these systems have incorporated indigenous knowledge and local ways of knowing versus continuing to propagate Western paradigms The work provides both theoretical and empirical analysis of challenges and opportunities in rebuilding African education systems that reflect local cultural values while addressing modern educational needs      Women Writing Africa Margaret J. Daymond, 2003 Essential this distinctive series presents 120 southern African texts that are rich evocative Library Journal      Parents and Caregivers Across Cultures Brien K. Ashdown, Amanda N.
