Narrating The Holocaust:

Narrating the Nation Stefan Berger, Linas Eriksonas, Andrew Mycock, 2008-10-01 A sustained and systematic study of the construction erosion and reconstruction of national histories across a wide variety of states is highly topical and extremely relevant in the context of the accelerating processes of Europeanization and globalization However as demonstrated in this volume histories have not of course only been written by professional historians Drawing on studies from a number of different European nation states the contributors to this volume present a systematic exploration of the representation of the national paradigm In doing so they contextualize the European experience in a more global framework by providing comparative perspectives on the national histories in the Far East and North America As such they expose the complex variables and diverse actors that lie behind the narration of a nation

Narrating the Past A. Robinson, 2011-10-04 In recent years controversy has surrounded the narrative turn in history and the historical turn in fiction This book clarifies what is at stake tracing connections between historiography and life writing arguing that the challenges posed in representing the past illuminate issues which are central to all literary narrative

Narrating the American West,
Narrating Trauma Ronald Eyerman, Jeffrey C. Alexander, Elizabeth Butler Breese, 2015-10-23 Through case studies that examine historical and contemporary crises across the world the contributing writers to this volume explore the cultural and social construction of trauma How do some events get coded as traumatic and others which seem equally painful and dramatic not Why do culpable groups often escape being categorised as perpetrators These are just some of the important questions answered in this collection Some of the cases analysed include Mao's China the Holocaust the Katyn Massacre and the Kosovo trauma Expanding the pioneering cultural approach to trauma this book will be of interest to scholars and postgraduate students of sociology

Narrative Retellings Marina Lambrou, 2020-12-10 Narrative Retellings presents pioneering work at the intersection of stylistics and narrative study to provide new insights into the diverse forms of fictional and factual narratives and their retellings Common types of retelling such as translation adaptation textual intervention and reader responses are reconceptualised in the chapters and fresh insights are offered into experiences retold as autofiction witness statements and advertorials on social media From modernising the most cherished novels of Jane Austen to deciphering conflicting testimonials following the Hillsborough disaster this volume reveals the complexities involved in all forms of narrative retellings As such it makes a valuable contribution to the interdisciplinary study of stylistics and to the understanding of narrative texts

Narrative Theory: Special topics Mieke Bal,2004 The Novel and Europe Andrew Hammond,2016-10-05 This book examines the ways in which fiction has addressed the continent since the Second World War Drawing on novelists from Europe and elsewhere the volume analyzes the literary response to seven dominant concerns ideas of Europe conflict borders empire unification migration and marginalization offering a ground breaking study of how modern and contemporary writers have participated in the European debate The sixteen essays view the chosen writers not as representatives of national literatures but as participants in transcontinental discussion that has occurred across borders cultures and languages In doing so the contributors raise questions about the forms of power operating across and radiating from Europe challenging both the institutionalized divisions of the Cold War and the triumphalist narrative of continental unity currently being written in Brussels

Narrative Concerns Todd Davis,Kenneth Womack,2025-08-20 Bridging existing gaps between postmodern theory fiction and ethics Narrative Concerns Ethical Criticism in Literature Music and Film offers an innovative critical analysis of the ways in which fictional narratives impact our lives as well as of the evolving nature of our understanding of the ethical possibilities inherent in postmodern humanism The wide array of writers directors and musicians examined in Narrative Concerns include Steven Spielberg Quentin Tarantino Jean Rhys John Irving Norman Maclean Anthony Burgess Kurt Vonnegut James Cameron Beyonc and Mary Oliver These creators frequently explore our postmodern preoccupation with the void in new and often innovative ways from their challenging perceptions of the family humor and narrative design to their examinations of the past the power of history and the redemptive nature of humanity Davis and Womack read their works to demonstrate a fascinating assortment of literary characters in the act of generating new conceptions of selfhood underscore how a given text s construction affects our understanding of the ethically motivated acts of authorship and storytelling and address the powerful bonds of human community By challenging the very nature in which we conduct literary and theoretical studies ethical criticism thus offers useful forays into a wide range of disciplines from feminism and gender studies to cultural criticism and the dynamics of race and ethnicity

The Architecture of Narrative Time Erica Wickerson, 2017-06-02 Time matters to all of us It dominates everyday discourse diaries schedules clocks working hours opening times appointments weekdays and weekends national holidays religious festivals birthdays and anniversaries But how do we as unique individuals subjectively experience time The slowness of an hour in a boring talk the swiftness of a summer holiday the fleetingness of childhood the endless wait for pivotal news these are experiences to which we all can relate and of which we commonly speak How can a writer not only report such experiences but also conjure them up in words so that readers share the frustration the excitement the anticipation are on tenterhooks with a narrator or character or in melancholic mourning for a time long since passed which we never experienced ourselves Erica Wickerson suggests that the evocation of subjective temporal experience occurs in every sentence on every page at every plot turn in any narrative The Architecture of Narrative Time offers a new template for understanding narrative time that combines close readings with analysis of the structural overview It enables new ways of reading Thomas Mann but also new ways of conceptualising narrative time in any literary work not only in Mann's fiction and not only in texts that foreground the narration of time The range of Mann's novels novellas and short stories is compared with other nineteenth and twentieth century works in German and in English to suggest a comprehensive approach to considering time in narrative

Fables of the Law Daniela Carpi, Marett Leiboff, 2016-10-24 The latest development concerning the metaphorical use of the fairy tale is the legal perspective The law had and has recourse to fairy tales in order to speak of the nomos and its subversion of the politically correct and of the various means that have been used to enforce the law Fairy tales are a fundamental tool to examine legal procedures and structures in their many failings and errors Therefore we have privileged the term fables of the law just to stress the ethical perspective they are moral parables that often speak of justice miscarried and justice sought Law and jurists are creators of fables on the view that law is born out of the facts ex facto ius oritur so that there is a need for narrative coherence both on the level of the case and the level of legislation or turned the other way around what does it mean if no such coherence is found This is especially of interest given the influx of all kinds of new technologies that are fabulous in themselves and hard to incorporate in traditional doctrinal schemes and thus in the construction of a new reality
