The Myth and Identity of the Romantic Artist in European Literature Elena Anastasaki, 2022-08-04 This study addresses the question of artistic identity and the myth of the artist as it has been shaped by the artists themselves While the term artist is to be understood in a broad sense the focus of this study is the literature of the Romantic tradition Identity is largely perceived as a construct and a central hypothesis of this book concerns its aesthetic value and the ways it creates dominant narratives of self perception that produce powerful myths The construction of the artist's identity be it collective or personal rests on a series of aesthetic praxes Caught between the mythic idealisation of poetic genius and its social devaluation the Romantic artist seeks to create a place for himself and in doing so he engages in his own mythmaking This process is studied in an interdisciplinary perspective approaching texts and writers from different traditions The study analyses various typologies of the artist numerous mythmaking strategies as well as several postural techniques all of which have sketched major direct or indirect fictional self portraits in the European tradition Using the Decoding The Disciplines Framework for Learning Across the Disciplines Janice Miller-Young, Jennifer Boman, 2017-06-22 Decoding the Disciplines a program designed to help instructors increase learning in their courses provides a framework for identifying and remedying course elements that are most problematic for students

Decoding is a seven step process in which instructors

- 1 identify a bottleneck of learning
- 2 make explicit the mental operations required to overcome the obstacle
- 3 model the required steps for students
- 4 give them practice at these skills
- 5 deal with emotional bottlenecks that interfere with learning
- 6 assess the success of their efforts and
- 7 share the results

Providing detailed information so that readers may develop effective models of practice this volume provides examples and evidence of the ways the framework has been applied across disciplines and used to inform teaching curriculum and pedagogical research initiatives It outlines how various communities of practice got started describes the analyses of three different collections of Decoding interviews extends the Decoding framework using different theoretical lenses and connects the learning to practical applications for teachers and scholars in higher education This is the 150th volume of this Jossey Bass higher education series It offers a comprehensive range of ideas and techniques for improving college teaching based on the experience of seasoned instructors and the latest findings of educational and psychological researchers

Religious Identities and the Global South Felix Wilfred, 2021-01-04 This book offers a comprehensive and interdisciplinary account of religious identities in the Global South Drawing on literature in various fields Felix Wilfred analyzes how religious identities intersect with the processes of globalization modernity and postmodernity He illustrates how the study of religion in the Global North often revolves around questions of secularism and fundamentalism whereas a neo Orientalist quality often attends study of religion in the Global South These approaches and theorizing fail to incorporate the experiences of lived religion in the South especially in Asia Historically the religions in the South have played a highly significant role in resistance to the domination by the colonial forces an important reason for the continued attachment of the peoples of the South to their religious universe This book puts the two regions and their scholarly norms in conversation with one another exploring the social political cultural and economic implications

Narratives of Identity in Alban Berg's 'Lulu' Silvio J. dos Santos, 2014 This book explores the crossroads between autobiographical narratives and musical composition in Alban Berg's Lulu unveiling aspects of encoded social customs gender identity and personal experiences within musical structures Exploring the crossroads between autobiographical narrative and musical composition this book examines Berg's transformation of Frank Wedekind's Erdgeist and Die B chse der Pandora the plays used in the formation of the libretto for Lulu according to notions of gender identity social customs and the aesthetics of modernity in the Vienna of the 1920s and 1930s While Berg modernized several aspects of the plays and incorporated serial techniques of composition from Arnold Schoenberg he never let go of the idealistic Wagnerian perspectives of his youth In fact he went as far as reconfiguring aspects of Richard Wagner's life as an ideal identity to be played out in the compositional process In composing the opera Berg also reflected on the most important cultural figures in fin de siècle Vienna that affected his worldview including Karl Kraus Emil Lucka Otto Weininger and others Combining analysis of Berg's correspondence numerous sketches for Lulu and the finished work with interpretive models drawn from cultural studies and philosophy this book elucidates the ways in which Berg grappled at the end of his life with his self image as an incorrigible romantic and explains aspects of his musical language that have been considered strange or anomalous in Berg scholarship Silvio J dos Santos is assistant professor of musicology at the University of Florida Reading the Contemporary Author Aliso Gibbons, 2023

Cognitive Approaches to Old English Poetry Antonina Harbus, 2012 Offers an entirely new way of interpreting and examining Anglo Saxon texts via theories derived from cognitive studies A major thoughtful study applying new and serious interpretative and critical perspectives to a central range of Old English poetry Professor John Hines Cardiff University Cognitive approaches to literature offer new and exciting ways of interpreting literature and mentalities by bringing ideas and methodologies from Cognitive Science into the analysis of literature and culture While these approaches are of particular value in relation to understanding the texts of remote societies they have to date made very little impact on Anglo Saxon Studies This book therefore acts as a pioneer mapping out the new field explaining its relevance to Old English Literary Studies and demonstrating in practice its application to a range of key vernacular poetic texts including Beowulf The Wanderer and poems from the Exeter Book Adapting key ideas from three related fields Cognitive Literary Cultural Studies Cognitive Poetics and Conceptual Metaphor Theory in conjunction with more familiar models derived from Literary Analysis Stylistics and Historical Linguistics allows several new ways of thinking about Old English literature to emerge It permits a systematic means of examining and accounting for the conceptual structures that underpin Anglo Saxon poetics as well as fuller explorations at the level of mental processing of the workings of literary language in context The result is a set of approaches to interpreting Anglo Saxon textuality through detailed studies of the concepts mental schemas and associative logic implied in and triggered by the evocative language and meaning structures of surviving works ANTONINA HARBUS is Professor in the Department of English at Macquarie University Sydney Australia

Beyond Narrative Coherence Matti Hyvärinen, 2010 Beyond Narrative Coherence reconsiders the way we understand and work with narratives Even though narrators tend to strive for coherence they also add complexity challenge canonical scripts and survey lives by telling highly perplexing and contradictory stories Many narratives remain incomplete ambiguous and contradictory Obvious coherence cannot be the sole moral standard the only perspective of reading or the criterion for selecting and discarding research material Beyond Narrative Coherence addresses the limits and aspects of narrative dis coherence by offering a rich theoretical and historical background to the debate Limits of narrative coherence are discussed from the perspective of three fields of life that often threaten the coherence of narrative illness arts and traumatic political experience The authors of the book cover a wide range of disciplines such as psychology sociology arts studies political science and philosophy Qualitative Research David Silverman,2010-11-17 Lecturers click here to request an electronic inspection copy no waiting for the post to arrive This hugely successful textbook has been fully updated and revised to make it even more accessible and comprehensive than previous editions New chapters have been added on a range of key topics including grounded theory research ethics and systematic review This book draws on a stellar list of leading qualitative researchers each of whom is writing on their own specialized area in qualitative research but doing so in a way that is clear and accessible to students and those new to the field of qualitative methods All chapters also have added features such as internet links questions for readers and recommended readings Alongside its engaging and accessible style these new features make Qualitative Research the ideal textbook for all students working within this field This is a comprehensive and accessible first text on qualitative methods that boasts a who's who of leading qualitative methodologists and is a must have book for any student involved in doing research

Identity Revisited and Reimagined Sangeeta Bagga-Gupta,Aase Lyngv  r Hansen,Julie Feilberg,2017-07-06 In contrast to other studies on identity this book takes its point of departure in the complexities that characterize and shape both individuals and societies past and present Its chapters challenge demarcated fields of study and conceptions of identity as gender identity as functional disability identity as race and identity as or based upon language groupings The contributions take a social practices perspective in their exploration of the performance living and doing of identity positions across time and space Many of the contributions take an intersectional stance and the majority report upon empirically driven studies that examine the ways in which micro level analyses of naturally occurring human communication contribute to our understanding of identification processes Specifically they study the ways in which more recent dialogical and social theoretical analytical frameworks allow for attending to the complexity and dynamics of identity processes the ways in which institutional settings media settings community of practices and affinity spaces provide affordances and obstacles for different types of identity positions and the ways in which shifts in identity positions can be traced across time and space

Intercultural Experience and Identity Lily Lei Ye,2018-06-13 This book examines the identity formation and negotiation of Chinese doctoral students in the UK and the opportunity for self transformation this experience offers As the largest group of international students in the English speaking world Mainland Chinese students encounter a range of difficulties and prospects that may be relevant to the wider international student community Using extensive qualitative and empirical data the author explores the narratives of eleven Chinese doctoral students at two British universities through a sociological perspective Balancing analysis with solid theoretical framework and the voices of the students themselves the author moves away from essentialism and othering instead shining a light on the effects of globalisation internationalisation and recent policy strategies This volume will be of interest and value to students and scholars of comparative and international education identity formation intercultural communication the sociology of education and study abroad

Turning Points Ansgar Nünning, Kai Marcel Sicks, 2012-10-30 At times of crisis and revolution such as ours diagnoses of crucial junctures and ruptures turning points in the continuous flow of history are more prevalent than ever Analysing literary cinematic and other narratives the volume seeks to understand the meanings conveyed by different concepts of turning points the alternative concepts to which they are opposed when used to explain historical change and those contexts in which they are unmasked as false and over simplifying constructions Literature and film in particular stress the importance of turning points as a sensemaking device as part of a character s or a community s cultural memory while at the same time unfolding the constructive and hence relative character of turning points Offering complex reflections on the notion of turning points literary and filmic narratives are thus of particular interest to the present volume

Communication and Metacommunication in Human Development Jaan Valsiner, Angela Uchoa Branco, 2006-01-01 The book is divided into three parts In Part I basic conceptual and theoretical issues concerning communication and metacommunication are presented Part II continues the coverage with the issues of communication and metacommunication Those are extended as each chapter puts forward new insights and contextualizes them within the realms of teaching learning processes early adaptation to nursery school contexts and of the analysis of processes occurring at a particular dimension of human development gender identity Part III provides further conceptual and theoretical elaborations on the phenomena from the unique viewpoints of scholars with diverse backgrounds which definitely furnish scientific discussion over the issue with fresh and productive ideas Throughout the chapters the reader is supplied with empirical projects conducted in different research laboratories each study granting novel illustrations of methodological approaches to analyze the complexities of communication and metacommunication processes and their relevant constitutive roles in specific contexts
