Writing Women's History Elizabeth Anne Payne, 2011-09-13 Contributions by Laura F Edwards Crystal Feimster Glenda E Gilmore Jacquelyn Dowd Hall Darlene Clark Hine Mary Kelley Markeeva Morgan Anne Firor Scott Laurel Thatcher Ulrich and Deborah Gray White Anne Firor Scott's The Southern Lady From Pedestal to Politics 1830-1930 stirred a keen interest among historians in both the approach and message of her book Using women's diaries letters and other personal documents Scott brought to life southern women as wives and mothers as members of their communities and churches and as sometimes sassy but rarely passive agents She brilliantly demonstrated that the familiar dichotomies of the personal versus the public the private versus the civic which had dominated traditional scholarship about men could not be made to fit women's lives In doing so she helped to open up vast terrains of women's experiences for historical scholarship This volume based on papers presented at the University of Mississippi's annual Chancellor Porter L Fortune Symposium in Southern History brings together essays by scholars at the forefront of contemporary scholarship on American women's history Each regards The Southern Lady as having shaped her historical perspective and inspired her choice of topics in important ways These essays together demonstrate that the power of imagination and scholarly courage manifested in Scott's and other early American women historians work has blossomed into a gracious plentitude

The Natural History of the Traditional Quilt John Forrest, Deborah Blincoe, 2011-01-19 Traditional quilts serve many purposes over the course of a useful life Beginning as a beautiful bed covering a quilt may later function as a ground cover at picnics until years of wear relegate it to someone's ragbag for scrap uses Observing this life cycle led authors John Forrest and Deborah Blincoe to the idea that quilts like living things have a natural history that can be studied scientifically They explore that natural history through an examination of the taxonomy morphology behavior and ecology of quilts in their native environment the homes of humans who make use keep and bestow them The taxonomy proposed by Forrest and Blincoe is rooted in the mechanics of replicating quilts so that it can be used to understand evolutionary and genetic relationships between quilt types The morphology section anatomizes normal and abnormal physical features of quilts while the section on conception and birth in the life cycle discusses how the underlying processes of replication intersect with environmental factors to produce tangible objects This methodology is applicable to many kinds of crafts and will be of wide interest to students of folklore anthropology and art history Case studies of traditional quilts and their makers in the Catskills and Appalachia add a warm human dimension to the book
