The Qur'an in Christian-Muslim Dialogue Corrie Block, 2013-10-08. Offering an analysis of Christian-Muslim dialogue across four centuries, this book highlights those voices of ecumenical tone which have more often used the Qur'an for drawing the two faiths together rather than pushing them apart and amplifies the voice of the Qur'an itself. Finding that there is tremendous ecumenical ground between Christianity and Islam in the voices of their own scholars, this book ranges from a period of declining ecumenism during the first three centuries of Islam to a period of resurging ecumenism during the most recent century until now. Among the ecumenical voices in the Christian-Muslim dialogue, this book points out that the Qur'an itself is possibly the strongest of those voices. These findings are cause for and evidence of hope for the Christian-Muslim relationship that although agreement may never be reached, dialogue has led at times to very real mutual understanding and appreciation of the religious other. Providing a tool for those pursuing understanding and mutual appreciation between the Islamic and Christian faiths, this book will be of interest to scholars and students of Islam, the Qur'an, and the history of Christian-Muslim relations.

Contemporary Qur'ānic Hermeneutics Georges Tamer, 2025-04-21. This project presents the hermeneutical approaches to the Qur'an of the most prominent Qur'anic scholars in Islamic intellectual history. Not only scholars who wrote commentaries on the Qur'an in the narrow sense of the word tafsir are to be presented but also those who dealt hermeneutically with the Qur'an in various ways. The Handbook of Qur'anic Hermeneutics is the first book that discusses all the hermeneutical fields of the Qur'an. It will be published in seven volumes.

The Shi'i World Farhad Daftary, Ameen Sajoo, Shainool Jiwa, 2015-09-25. I.B. Tauris in association with the Institute of Ismaili Studies. The world's 200 million Shi'i Muslims express their faith in a multiplicity of ways united by reverence for the ahl al-bayt, the family of the Prophet. In embracing a pluralistic ethic, fourteen centuries of Shi'i Islam have given rise to diverse traditions and practices across varied geographic and cultural landscapes. The Shi'i World is a comprehensive work authored by leading scholars from assorted disciplines to provide a better understanding of how Shi'i communities view themselves and articulate their teachings. The topics range from Shi'i Islam's historical and conceptual foundations, formative figures, and intellectual, legal, and moral traditions to its devotional practices, art, and architecture, literature, music, and cinema, as well as expressions and experiences of modernity. The book thus provides a panoramic perspective of the richly textured narratives that have shaped the social and moral universe of Shi'i Muslims around the globe. This fourth volume in the Muslim Heritage Series will appeal to specialists and general readers alike as a timely resource on the prevailing complexities not only of the Muslim world but also of the dynamic Shi'i diasporas of Europe and North America.

The Qur'ân's Self-Image Daniel Madigan, 2018-06-05. Islam is frequently characterized as a religion of the book, and yet Muslims take an almost entirely oral approach to their scripture. Qur'an means recitation and refers to the actual words Muslims believe were revealed to Muhammad by God. Many recite the entire sacred text from memory and it was some years after the Prophet's death that it was first put in book form. Physical books play no part in Islamic ritual. What does the Qur'an mean then when it so often calls itself kitab a term usually taken both by Muslims and by Western scholars to mean book. To answer this question Daniel Madigan reevaluates this key term kitab in close readings of the Qur'an's own declarations about itself. More than any other canon of scripture the Qur'an is self-aware. It observes and discusses the process of its own revelation and reception; it asserts its own authority and claims its place within the history of revelation. Here Madigan presents a compelling semantic analysis of its self-awareness, arguing that the Qur'an understands itself not so much as a completed book but as an ongoing process of divine writing and re-writing as God's authoritative response to actual people and circumstances. Grasping this dynamic responsive dimension of the Qur'an is central to understanding Islamic religion and identity. Madigan's book will be invaluable not only to Islamicists but also to scholars who study revelation across religious boundaries.

Interfaith Relationships and Perceptions of the Other in the Medieval Mediterranean Sarah Davis-Secord, Belen Vicens, Robin Vose, 2021-12-16

This book is a collaborative contribution that expands our understanding of how interfaith relations both real and imagined developed across medieval Iberia and the Mediterranean. The volume pays homage to the late Olivia Remie Constable's scholarship and presents innovative thought provoking interdisciplinary investigations of cross-cultural exchange ranging widely across time and geography. Divided into two parts, Perceptions of the Other and Interfaith Relations, this volume features scholars engaging with church art literature historiography scientific treatises and polemics in order to study how the religious Other was depicted to serve different purposes and audiences. There are also microhistories that examine the experiences of individual families classes and communities as they interacted with one another in their own specific contexts. Several of these studies draw their source material from church and state archives as well as jurisprudential texts and span the centuries from the late medieval to early modern periods.

Quran 5 Joseph C. Codsi, 2010-04-29

The Forbidden Rumi and I Rumi is a great Muslim mystic and poet. His faith in God does not deter him from riding the winds of dangerous thinking.

and free expression His most audacious poems were published in a collection called The Forbidden Rumi I have chosen one of them and interspersed its verses between the chapters of my book I wanted to let some fresh air in my dry discussion of the Quranic text You see the fifth chapter of the Quran was the last one to have been composed It discusses theological questions and lacks the poetic rhythm of the much shorter chapters of the early days I am neither a poet nor a mystic I am not even a Muslim And yet I feel I have something in common with a Rumi I do not let the requirements of Islamic tradition the strict rules of modern scholarship and the taboos of our time constrict my freedom to say what I think and to explain my forbidden views I do so however in a friendly manner and without any animosity My study of the Quran is based on knowledge not on faith My purpose is not to provide spiritual ammunition to the faith It is much more prosaic I propose a new way of reading the Quranic text Instead of seeing in it a divine revelation I see in it the work of a man called Muhammad I do what is forbidden for a believer But I recognize the believer's right to see in the Book the very words of God Qur'an

Commentary and the Biblical Turn Samuel Ross, 2024-02-19 The Qur'an and the Bible have been called intertwined scriptures due to the Qur'an's frequent invocation of biblical narratives and figures But what is the history of Muslims exegetical engagement with the biblical text Through a comprehensive survey of more than 170 Qur'an commentaries Samuel Ross traces the longitudinal history of the Bible in tafsir Offering detailed case studies and rich in historical context Ross's narrative culminates in the remarkable late nineteenth and early twentieth century biblical turn Global in scope this development has not only generated new Muslim views of the Bible but even new interpretations of the Qur'an itself This monograph has been awarded the annual BRAIS De Gruyter Prize in the Study of Islam and the Muslim World Ideas,

Images, and Methods of Portrayal Sebastian Günther, 2005-05-01 This volume deals with the genesis of selected classical Arabic texts as the products of different milieus and the implications which these texts had for Islamic societies in medieval times It explores the concepts and images which Muslim scholars from the 8th to the 14th century presented in their writings and in particular ponders the ways in which these authors used specific methods of portrayal either overtly or more subtly to advance their ideas The fresh theoretical and methodological approaches applied in this book facilitate the understanding of how medieval Muslim writers expressed their views and more importantly why they expressed them in the way they did This helps disclose for example how the images of historically or religiously significant figures in Arabic Islamic culture have been developed and shaped in the process of their literarization The Quranic Jesus Carlos Andrés Segovia, 2018-11-19 Is it possible to rethink the multilayered and polyvalent Christology of the Qur'an against the intersecting of competing peripheral Christianities anti Jewish Christian polemics and the making of a new Arab state in the 7th century Near East To what extent may this help us to decipher moreover the intricate redactional process of the quranic corpus And can we unearth from any conclusions as to the tension between a messianic oriented and a prophetic guided religious thought buried in the document By analysing first the typology and plausible date of the Jesus texts contained in the Qur'an which implies moving far beyond both the habitual chronology of the Qur'an and the common thematic division of the passages in question and by examining in the second place the Qur'an's earliest Christology via its later and indeed much better known Muhamadan kerygma the present study answers these crucial questions and thereby sheds new light on the Qur'an's original sectarian milieu and pre-canonical development

Muslims and Others Jacques Waardenburg, 2008-08-22 Jacques Waardenburg writes about relations between Muslims and adherents of other religions After illuminating various aspects of Islam from an outside point of view in his volume Islam published in 2002 by de Gruyter his second volume changes the perspective The author shows how Muslims perceived non Muslims particularly Christianity and the West but also Judaism and Asian religions in many centuries of religious dialogue and tensions The main focus is on Muslim minorities in Western countries and on religious dialogues of which he provides first hand knowledge through his participation in several important dialogue meetings After 50 years of research and personal involvement Waardenburg aims at a mutual understanding and reconciliation of Islam and other religions particularly Christianity both on an international level as well as on a more local level where old and new Christian and Muslim Europeans live together

The Crucifixion and the Qur'an Todd Lawson, 2014-10-01 The first book to examine the controversial Qur'anic phrase which divides Christianity and Islam According to the majority of modern Muslims and Christians the Qur'an denies the crucifixion of Jesus and with it one of the most sacred beliefs of Christianity However it is only mentioned in one verse They did not kill him and they did not crucify him rather it only appeared so to them and contrary to popular belief its translation has been the subject of fierce debate among Muslims for centuries This innovative work is the first book devoted to the issue delving deeply into largely ignored Arabic sources which suggest that the origins of the conventional translation may lie within the Christian Church Arranged along historical lines and covering various Muslim schools of thought from Sunni to Sufi The Crucifixion and the Qur'an unravels the crucial dispute that separates the World's two principal faiths
