Race Rhetoric And The Postcolonial:

Race, Rhetoric, and the Postcolonial Gary A. Olson, Lynn Worsham, 1998-12-03 Race Rhetoric and the Postcolonial brings together six scholarly interviews with internationally renowned intellectuals outside of rhetoric and composition whose work has direct implications for scholarship within the discipline Included are interviews with postcolonial theorist Homi Bhabha postcolonial feminist and race theorist Gloria Anzald a African American race scholar Michael Eric Dyson British cultural studies scholar Stuart Hall Argentinean political theorist Ernesto Laclau and French philosopher Chantal Mouffe Race and Religion in the Postcolonial British Detective Story Julie H. Kim, 2005-07-15 In 1929 Ronald Knox a prominent member of the English Detection Club included in his tongue in cheek Ten Commandments for Detective Novelists the rule that No Chinaman must figure in the story In 1983 Ruth Rendell published Speaker of Mandarin reflecting not only a change in British detective fiction but also a dramatic change in the British cultural landscape Like much of the rest of British popular culture the detective novel became more and more ethnically diverse and populated by characters with increasingly varied religious backgrounds Ten essays examine the changing nature of British detective fiction focusing on the shifting view of otherness of such authors as Ruth Rendell Elizabeth George Peter Ackroyd Caroline Graham Christopher Brookmyer Denise Mina and John Mortimer Unlike their American counterparts British detective writers have been until recently overwhelmingly white and the essays here explore how these authors delve into ethnic diversity within a historically homogeneous culture Religion has also played an important role in the genre ranging from the moral certainty of the early part of the 20th century to the skepticism and hostility that is part of contemporary fiction How this transition was made and how it reflects the changing nature of British culture are detailed here Postcolonial Theologies: Divinity and Empire P4011 R5050 Catherine Keller, 2004 A theology in tune with postcolonial theory has the potential to creatively inform and transform ecclesial practice Focusing on the relation of theology to postcolonial theory Postcolonial Theologies brings together a wide diversity of authors many of them fresh and exciting theological voices in essays that are stunningly creative and prophetically lucid All essays are theologically constructive not merely deconstructive or critical in their visions for Christianity Forming a sort of doctrinal landscape they emerge under the themes of theological anthropology shaped by ethnicity class and privilege a Christology that intersects the claims of Christ and empire and a Cosmology that imagines a postcolonial world Identity, Ethics, and Nonviolence in Postcolonial Theory S. Abraham, 2007-04-30 Abraham argues that a theological imagination can expand the contours of postcolonial theory through a reexamination of notions of subjectivity gender and violence in a dialogical model with Karl Rahner She questions of whether postcolonial theory with its disavowal of religious agency can provide an invigorating occasion for Catholic theology The Present State of Scholarship in the History of Rhetoric Lynée Lewis Gaillet, Winifred Bryan Horner, 2010-03-15 Through two previous editions The Present State of Scholarship in Historical and Contemporary Rhetoric has not only introduced new scholars to interdisciplinary research but also become a standard research tool in a number of fields and pointed the way toward future study Adopting research methodologies of revision and recovery this latest edition includes all new material while still following the format of the original and is constructed around bibliographical surveys of both primary and secondary works addressing the Classical Medieval Renaissance and eighteenth through twentieth century periods within the history of rhetoric The Present State of Scholarship in the History of Rhetoric doesn't simply update but rather recasts study in the history of rhetoric The authors experienced and well known scholars in their respective fields redefine existing strands of rhetorical study within the periods expand the scope of rhetorical engagement and include additional figures and their works The globalization and expansion of rhetoric are demonstrated in each of these parts and seen clearly in the inclusion of more female rhetors discussions of historical and contemporary electronic resources and examinations of rhetorical practices falling outside the academy and the traditional canon New to this edition is a cumulative review of twentieth century rhetoric along with a thematic index designed to facilitate interdisciplinary or specialized study and scholarly research across the traditional historical periods As programs incorporating rhetorical studies continue to expand at the university level students and researchers are in need of up to date bibliographical resources No other work matches the scope and approach of The Present State of Scholarship in the History of Rhetoric which carries scholarship on rhetoric into the twenty first century
