Race Masculinity And Schooling:

EBOOK: Race, Masculinity and Schooling Louise Archer, 2003-12-16 a welcome and valuable contribution because of Archer's ability to reveal for her readers the complex and dynamic ways in which young Muslim Asian boys in England construct their identities Through a careful analysis she demonstrates how stereotypes and inequalities have a real impact on the ways in which these young people negotiate their identities reminding us of the importance of reading identities within their different contexts an important and refreshing book Journal of Education Policy Muslim boys are currently hot topics of social and educational debate they have been associated with global terrorism fundamentalism urban rioting and within the context of schooling they appear to be suffering from disproportionately high rates of exclusion and low rates of achievement and post 16 progression This timely and innovative book examines the issues in detail foregrounding Muslim boys own views of their lives and schooling The book explores the complex interplay between race ethnicity religion masculinity and social class within Muslim boys lives Attention is also given to the role of the teacher researcher within the boys production of masculine identities The book draws on illuminating new research data and reviews a wide range of literature on masculinity and race ethnicity to enable readers to engage with complex social inequalities within the context of secondary schooling

The Agony of Masculinity Pierre W. Orelus, 2010 Drawing on critical race theory and empirical data from case studies involving fifty men of African descent this book presents a new perspective on black masculinity maleness sexism and institutional racism The book situates black masculinity in a racial socio historical and postcolonial context to provide innovative ways of understanding the profound effects of institutional racism Although its focus is primarily on people of African descent the book addresses issues concerning all races and ethnicities explores the harmful effects of sexism and homophobia on women and queer people and proposes practical steps that can be taken to fight against socio economic inequality and injustice that is racially gender and sexually based Given the practical nature and interdisciplinary dimension of this book readers and educators studying race racism sexism and gender issues will find it germane to their needs and their classes

Black Masculinities and Schooling Tony Sewell, 1997 This is a book about sex and gender as much as race and racism That these concepts are interrelated in the experience of African Caribbean boys is demonstrated by this ethnographic study of an inner city boys comprehensive school

Masculinities at School Nancy Lesko, 2000 Despite the trend toward gender studies in the social sciences studies of masculinity have been largely absent from educational research This volume presents a collection of the current critical scholarship on the creation of masculinities in schools relations among competing definitions of masculinity and femininity and linkages between masculinity and school practices With contributions from the leading scholars in the field Nancy Lesko studies masculinities in North American Australian and British schools This book covers all levels of schooling from preschool to graduate school and school settings from computer labs to football fields This fascinating addition to Sage's Research in Men and Masculinities Series provides a thoughtful examination of how masculinities are constructed among teachers students and administrators locating these analyses within broader social economic and ideological contexts Masculinities at School is a must read for scholars of education sociology men s studies and gender studies      Race, Masculinity and Schooling Louise Archer,2003 This work explores the complex interplay between race ethnicity religion masculinity and social class within Muslim boys lives Attention is also given to the role of the teacher researcher in relation to the boys constructions of Muslim masculinities      Feminism and 'The Schooling Scandal' Christine Skelton,Becky Francis,2009-01-13 Brings together feminist contributions from two generations of educational researchers to provide a comprehensive overview of contemporary research and theory emerging from second wave feminism and assesses their impact on pupils and teachers in today s schools and classrooms      International Encyclopedia of Men and Masculinities ,      Migrant Youth, Schooling and Identity Nils Hammarén,Biörn Ivemark,Live Stretmo,2024-07-08 This volume provides a broad outlook on migrant youth and schooling in Sweden Denmark Norway Iceland and the United Kingdom It explores empirically how these young people who range from the first to the third generation position themselves in relation to school friendships language use aspirations and the expectations placed upon them The book also examines the role of a variety of professionals street level bureaucrats and other key actors in framing representing problematizing and ultimately contributing to shaping the experiences of these young people Contemporary contextual challenges for educational advancement are particularly highlighted as are key issues of cultural representation and recognition Several contributions also focus on sub groups within the immigrant origin population that have so far only received a limited attention in the literature such as youth in rural areas LGBT youth first in family college students and youth who transition out of anti school subcultures The contributors stem from a variety of disciplines ranging from Education and Youth Studies to Social Work and Sociology and tackle many innovative themes such as peer violence special needs education and artistic interventions among many others Through this original perspective and comparative outlook the book makes an important contribution to the literature on youth migration identity and education It will interest undergraduate students in several areas of the social sciences teachers and other professionals who work with children and young people      Understanding and Teaching Holocaust Education Paula Cowan,Henry Maitles,2016-12-05 The Holocaust is a controversial and difficult teaching topic that needs to be approached sensitively and with an awareness of the complex and emotive issues involved This book offers pragmatic pedagogical and classroom based guidance for teachers and trainee teachers on how to intelligently teach holocaust education in a meaningful and age appropriate way Key coverage includes Practical approaches and useful resources for teaching in schools Holocaust education and citizenship Holocaust remembrance as an educational opportunity How to explore the topic of anti semitism in the classroom Exploring international perspectives on holocaust education      Masculinities In Mathematics Mendick, Heather,2006-06-01 We desperately need more people with good mathematical qualifications to fill many posts in numerate occupations yet the numbers choosing to continue studying mathematics have fallen over the last 10 years This book is important as it investigates how mathematics is aligned with masculinity and hence is not attractive to a significant part of the population It is also challenging scholarly and a thoroughly good read It reports the results of carefully designed research on gender and choice and includes some fascinating individual case studies It should make us all reflect on what we are doing and how we can repair the damage Margaret Brown Professor of Mathematical Education King's College London The book speaks to me as one of those texts that will become seminal in mathematics education It is original refreshing and despite a complicated plot points to some ways forward It is engagingly written if at times perhaps a little bit no nonsense in tone It will be of interest to teachers and teacher educators as well as providing a theoretical stance that should inform future research British Educational Research Journal The study of mathematics together with other gendered subjects such as science and engineering usually attracts more male than female pupils particularly at more advanced levels In this book Heather Mendick explores this phenomenon addressing the important question of why more boys than girls choose to study mathematics She combines new research with an original theoretical approach to argue that doing mathematics is doing masculinity The book illuminates what studying mathematics means for both students and teachers and offers a broad range of insights into students' views and practices In addition to the words of young people learning mathematics the masculinity of mathematics is explored through historical material and cinematic representations Heather Mendick discusses the ways in which the alignment of mathematics with masculinity creates tensions for girls and women doing the subject These tensions are sensitively explored through interviews with young men and women to show how doing mathematics fits or conflicts with their gender identities Finally the book explores the implications for teachers including ways to promote gender equity in mathematics education This is key reading for students on courses in gender and education mathematics education gender and curriculum and social justice

Understanding Education Sharon Gewirtz, Alan Cribb, 2009-09-28 Who should be educated when by whom and how What purposes should education serve Why does education matter These fundamental questions of value are not always seen as central to the sociology of education However this book argues that they are pivotal and provides a sophisticated and engaging introduction to the field that is designed to open up these important debates It draws attention to the many points of disagreement that exist between major thinkers in the sociology of education and the values on which their ideas are based By involving readers in crucial questions about the potential contribution of sociology to education policies and practices it aims to bridge the divide between education as it is talked about by academics and the concerns of policymakers and educators who have to make practical decisions about what is to be done Chapter by chapter the book introduces competing approaches in the sociology of education structural functionalism symbolic interactionism Marxism feminism critical race theory and poststructuralism It shows how these can be applied to major themes such as social reproduction the politics of knowledge multicultural education identity and teachers' work Throughout the authors emphasise the importance of understanding social and educational values and the ways in which these underpin and impact upon the work of both academics and educators
