Reluctant African:

The Reluctant African Louis E. Lomax, 1960 The author traveled throughout Africa to understand how to BE an African he had to learn to think black feel black act black love black demonstrably suspect everything and anything nonblack and talk black a new jargon peculiar to African nationalists a patois designed to adulate everything black to deprecate everything white He was learning this condition him to feel and understand the anguish of a troubled people of an even more troubled land

Forgotten African American Firsts Hans Ostrom, J. David Macey Jr., 2023-03-16 Winner of the 2024 RUSA Outstanding Reference Award This book introduces students to African American innovators and their contributions to art entertainment sports politics religion business and popular culture While the achievements of such individuals as Barack Obama Toni Morrison and Thurgood Marshall are well known many accomplished African Americans have been largely forgotten or deliberately erased from the historical record in America This volume introduces students to those African Americans whose successes in entertainment business sports politics and other fields remain poorly understood Dr Charles Drew whose pioneering research on blood transfusions saved thousands of lives during World War II Mae Jemison an engineer who in 1992 became the first African American woman to travel in outer space and Ethel Waters the first African American to star in her own television show are among those chronicled in Forgotten African American Firsts With nearly 150 entries across 17 categories this book has been carefully curated to showcase the inspiring stories of African Americans whose hard work courage and talent have led the course of history in the United States and around the world

The Life and Times of Louis Lomax Thomas Aiello, 2021-02-15 Syndicated television and radio host Serial liar Pioneering journalist Convicted criminal Close ally of Malcolm X and Martin Luther King Jr Publicity seeking provocateur Louis Lomax's life was a study in contradiction In this biography Thomas Aiello traces the complicated and fascinating arc of Lomax's life and career showing how the contradictions tumult and inconsistencies that marked his life reflected those of 1960s America Aiello takes readers from Lomax's childhood in the Deep South to his early confidence schemes to his emergence as one of the loudest and most influential voices of the civil rights movement Regardless of what political position he happened to take at any given moment Lomax preached the art of deliberate disunity in which the path to democracy could only be achieved through a diversity of opinions Engaging and broad in scope The Life and Times of Louis Lomax is the definitive study of one of the civil rights era's most complicated important and overlooked figures

The African American Voice in U.S. Foreign Policy Since World War II Michael L.

Krenn, 2019-08-08 Following World War II America was witness to two great struggles The first was on the international front and involved the fight for freedom around the globe as millions of people in Asia and Africa rose up to throw off their European colonial masters In the decades following 1945 dozens of new nations joined the ranks of independent countries Following the Civil War the African American voice in U S foreign affairs continued to grow In the late nineteenth century a few African Americans such as Frederick Douglass even served as U S diplomats to the black republics of Liberia and Haiti When America began its overseas thrust during the 1890s African American opinion was divided

African-American Orators Richard Leeman, 1996-08-28 This long needed sourcebook assesses the unique styles and themes of notable African American orators from the mid 19th century to the present of 43 representative public speakers from W E B Du Bois and Ida B Wells Barnett Martin Luther King Jr and Jesse Jackson to Barbara Jordan and Thurgood Marshall The critical analyses of the oratory of a broad segment of different types of public speakers demonstrate how they have stressed the historical search for freedom upheld American ideals while condemning discriminatory practices against African Americans and have spoken in behalf of black pride This biographical dictionary with its evaluative essays sources for further reading and speech chronologies is designed for broad interdisciplinary use by students teachers activists and general readers in college university institutional and public libraries

The African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights Volume 2 Nat Rubner, 2023 Landmark study of the African Charter on Human and Peoples Rights Documents on one side the international community s inability to foist a human rights system upon Africa and on the other the process within the OAU now African

Union that eventually brought it into being and determined its content The African Charter on Human and Peoples Rights ACHPR which was proposed in 1979 adopted in 1981 and came into effect in 1986 was the first non Western declaration of human rights and the first official statement of an African human rights perspective With Africa largely absent in 1948 when the Universal Declaration of Human Rights UDHR was adopted it stands in stark historical reproach to the Western conception of universal human rights as a pivotal document in the decolonisation of the continent This book for the first time presents a comprehensive account of the development of the ACHPR which is key to a proper understanding of its fundamental nature Through documenting its process of construction it becomes possible to understand how Africans themselves understood the process and the issues involved and how the ACHPR became a political text asserted by African leaders and not a continuum of a so called universal human rights tradition The result is a radical repositioning of the underlying context of the ACHPR one of the most important documents in modern African history of how it came to be and how it should therefore be understood Volume 2 describes the process through which the ACHPR came into being Analysing the role of Western governments the UN and NGOs it shows that contrary to the prevailing view of African human rights commentators their influence was limited and at times counter productive That in fact the formulation of the ACHPR was a profoundly political process that was primarily a product of an African desire to instigate its own human rights perspective as a counter to the human rights universalism advanced by the Western post war human rights tradition African Yearbook of International Law African Association of International Law,2000

The Routledge Handbook of African Theology Elias Kifon Bongmba,2020-05-25 Theology has a rich tradition across the African continent and has taken myriad directions since Christianity first arrived on its shores This handbook charts both historical developments and contemporary issues in the formation and application of theologies across the member countries of the African Union Written by a panel of expert international contributors chapters firstly cover the various methodologies needed to carry out such a survey Various theological movements and themes are then discussed as well as biblical and doctrinal issues pertinent to African theology Subjects addressed include Orality and theology Indigenous religions and theology Patristics Pentecostalism Liberation theology Black theology Social justice Sexuality and theology Environmental theology Christology Eschatology The Hebrew Bible and the New Testament The Routledge Handbook of African Theology is an authoritative and comprehensive survey of the theological landscape of Africa As such it will be a hugely useful volume to any scholar interested in African religious dynamics as well as academics of Theology or Biblical Studies in an African context African Cultures and Literatures Gordon Collier,2013 Besides searching book reviews an interview with the writer Tijan M Sallah a full report on the 6th Ethiopian International Film Festival and a stimulating selection of creative writing including a showcase of recent South African poetry this issue of Matatu offers general essays on African women s poetry anglophone Cameroonian literature and Zimbabwean fiction of the Gukurahundi period along with studies of J M Coetzee Kalpana Lalji Ngugi wa Thiong o Aminata

The African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights [2 Volume Set] Nat Rubner, 2023 A landmark study of the African Charter on human and peoples rights one of the most important documents in modern African history that positions it within the African Lives Matter struggle to assert an African identity rather than as simply a human rights document This set describes its underlying African origins and how the principles of the OAU influenced its path and content

Raising an African Child in America: from the Perspective of an Immigrant Nigerian Mom Marcellina Ndidi Oparaoji, 2015-07-25 Like other African born immigrants I came to the shores of America from Nigeria West Africa some twenty plus years ago as a young adult freshly married to my Nigerian immigrant spouse All we knew was what we learnt from our parents and community growing up Except for what we read in books about the outside world we had no idea what lay ahead surviving in another environment outside our Third World Our parents had sent us forth to study some more in an environment different from what we were used to in so many ways We had to make success of this opportunity that was costing them so much Immigrant Nigerians coming to America are then faced with questions of how to raise their children Should their offsprings be raised as Nigerians Americans or to help them benefit from both worlds as Nigerian Americans Who decides the parents the children or the society What will be the fate of the next generation to come

A New Paradigm of the African State M. Muiu, G. Martin, 2009-01-05 Offers a historical multidisciplinary perspective on African political systems and institutions ranging from Antiquity Egypt Kush and Axum to the present with particular focus on their destruction through successive exogenous processes including the Atlantic slave trade imperialism colonialism and neo colonialism or globalization Elements of African Bioethics in a Western Frame B. Tangwa,2010-11-01 For millennia Africans have lived on the African continent in close contact with the diversities of nature floral faunal and human and in so doing they have developed cultures values attitudes and perspectives to the problems ethical and otherwise that have arisen from the existential pressures of their situation The problem however is that such values and perspectives do not necessarily form coherent ethical theories Theory making is a second order activity requiring a certain amount of leisure and comfort which the existential conditions of life on the African continent have not easily permitted in the retrospect able past The elements of African bioethics are to be found in its cultural values traditions customs and practices These are research able highlight able and usable by those who would The bioethical problems of our current global existential situation are such that all possible solutions no matter their provenance ought to be tried Western culture has far too loud a voice combined with deaf ears in contemporary ethical discourse But it should never be forgotten that other cultures have their own word to say and that alternative values ways of thinking and practices exist and attempt should always be made to bring these out and to highlight them if they could possibly contribute to the satisfactory solution of a global problem This book brings together various papers on bioethical issues and problems written at different times some previously published each of which attempts to bring out some African elements perspective or concern The African narrative style predominates through these essays but their framing conforms more or less to the Western paradigm for presenting academic issues AF Press Clips United States Department of State. The African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights U. Oji Umzurike,2023-08-28 This book is an in depth study of the African Charter of Human and Peoples Rights written with the insight of an insider It assesses the effectiveness of the Charter and of the African Commission on Human and Peoples Rights in its formative years It also compares the Charter with other major human rights instruments The author asserts that respect for human rights made the existence of African societies possible despite the eras of gross violation The survival of African societies indeed their continued development depends on respect for human rights While conceding the universality of human rights the author underscores African specificities and peculiarities He discusses the proper limits of exclusively internal matters as often claimed by African spokesmen and puts forward the legitimate concerns of the international community as an effective check to arbitrariness and other violations The book will be of special interest to international lawyers law students the judiciary and foreign office officials The human rights activist will find it particularly useful in dealing with the African situation

Impacts of Incarceration on the African American Family Othello Harris,R. Robin Miller, The criminal justice system has driven a wedge between black men and their children African American men are involved in the criminal justice system whether through incarceration probation or parole at near epidemic levels At the same time the criminal justice system has made little or no institutional efforts to maintain or support continuing relationships between these men and their families

Consequently African American families are harmed by this in countless ways from the psychological physical and material suffering experienced by the men themselves to losses felt by their mates children and extended family members The volume opens with an introduction and brief review by R Robin Miller Sandra Lee Browning and Lisa M Spruance outlining the impacts of incarceration on the African American family Brad Tripp explores changes in family relationships and the identity of incarcerated African American fathers Mary Balthazar and Lula King discuss the loss of the protective effect of marital and nonmarital relationships and its impact on incarcerated African American men and the implications for African American men and those who work with them in the helping professions Theresa Clark explores the relationship between visits by family and friends and the nature of inmate behavior In a research note Olga Grinstead Bonnie Faigeles Carrie Bancroft and Barry Zack investigate the actual costs families incur to maintain contact with family members be it emotional social or financial Patricia E O Connor uses data from sociolinguistic interviews of male inmates from a maximum security prison to study how some of these men manage to continue to fulfill the fatherhood role long distance In a concluding chapter Sandra Lee Browning Robin Miller and Lisa Spruance focus on actions of the criminal justice system that undermine the black family on reasons that black male inmate fathers are studied so rarely and discuss the role restorative justice may play This insightful volume fills a void in the literature on the role of African American men in the functioning of families It will be of interest to students of African American studies social workers and policy makers

State-Building and Multilingual Education in Africa Ericka A. Albaugh, 2014-04-24 This book explains why many governments in Africa are including African languages alongside European languages as media of instruction in elementary schools It argues that a number of factors have combined to make multilingual education attractive France has changed its foreign policy toward its former colonies language NGOs are transcribing more languages and pressure toward democracy makes African leaders look for ways to divide the opposition
