directed by DeMille who became one of the biggest names of the silent era With films such as The Squaw Man Brewster s Millions Joan the Woman and Don t Change Your Husband he was the creative backbone of what would become Paramount Studios In 1923 he filmed his first version of The Ten Commandments and later a second biblical epic King of Kings both enormous box office successes Although his reputation rests largely on the biblical epics he made DeMille s personal life was no morality tale He remained married to his wife Constance for more than fifty years but for most of the marriage he had three mistresses simultaneously all of whom worked for him He showed great loyalty to a small group of actors who knew his style but he also discovered some major stars among them Gloria Swanson Claudette Colbert and later Charlton Heston DeMille was one of the few silent era directors who made a completely successful transition to sound In 1952 he won the Academy Award for Best Picture with The Greatest Show on Earth When he remade The Ten Commandments in 1956 it was an even bigger hit than the silent version He could act too in Billy Wilder s classic film Sunset Boulevard DeMille memorably played himself In the 1930s and 1940s DeMille became a household name thanks to the Lux Radio Theater which he hosted But after falling out with a union he gave up the program and his politics shifted to the right as he championed loyalty oaths and Sen Joseph McCarthy s anticommunist witch hunts As Scott Eyman brilliantly demonstrates in this superbly researched biography which draws on a massive cache of DeMille family papers not available to previous biographers DeMille was much more than his clich d image A gifted director who worked in many genres a devoted family man and loyal friend with a highly unconventional personal life a pioneering filmmaker DeMille comes alive in these pages a legend whose spectacular career defined an era
