Chronic Illness and Retirement in Jamaica Sudhanshu Handa, Monica Neitzert, 1998-01-01 This paper explores the impact of six noncommunicable chronic diseases (NCCDs) on Jamaicans' decisions to retire. Using the 1991 and 1992 Survey of Living Conditions database, it examines the significantly negative impact that NCCDs have on people remaining in employment. Chapters present findings that suggest the need to integrate health and labor market policies, discuss health transition and the labor market in Jamaica, give data samples and health measures, provide an econometric model, examine NCCDs in respect to gender and other social issues, and present sensitivity analysis on the impact of physical health status on employment.

Progress and Challenges of Nonfinancial Defined Contribution Pension Schemes Robert Holzmann, Edward Palmer, Robert Palacios, Stefano Sacchi, 2019-10-21 The individual account based but unfunded approach to mandated public pension systems is a reform benchmark for all pension schemes promising fair and financially sustainable benefits. Nonfinancial defined contribution (NDC) pension schemes originated in Italy and Sweden in the 1990s, were then adopted by Latvia, Norway, and Poland, envisaged but not implemented in various other countries such as Egypt and Russia, and remain under discussion in many nations around the world such as China and France. In its complete form, the approach also comprises budget-financed basic income provisions and mandated or voluntary funded provisions. Volume 1 of this book offers an assessment of countries that were early adopters, before addressing key aspects of policy implementation and design, review including how best to combine basic income provisions with an NDC scheme, how to deal with heterogeneity in longevity, and how to adjust NDC scheme design and labor market policies to deliver on reform expectations. Volume 2 addresses a second set of issues, including the gender pension gap and what family policies can do about it within the NDC framework, labor market issues, and administrative challenges of NDC schemes, and how countries are coping. The role of communication in these pension schemes, the complexity of cross-border pension taxation, and much more. Progress and Challenges of Nonfinancial Defined Contribution Pension Schemes is the third in a series of books analyzing the progress, challenges, and adjustment options of this reform revolution for mandated public pension systems.

Pension reform is a major issue in many countries The development of the nonfinancial defined contribution pension plan in the 90 s was a major advance in pension design By reporting actual country experiences and exploring properties of plan designs this latest collection of essays is a valuable contribution well worth reading Peter Diamond Professor at Massachusetts Institute of Technology 2010 winner of the Nobel Memorial Prize in Economic Sciences A highly stimulating publication for policy makers and researchers alike It pushes the analytical frontier for policy challenges that all public pension schemes are confronted with but that the nonfinancial defined contribution approach promises to handle best Noriyuki Takayama President Research Institute for Policies on Pension and Aging Tokyo and professor emeritus Hitotsubashi University Tokyo In a changing world where pensions are more than ever linked to labor markets communication tools and flexibility considerations this anthology provides a unique up to date analysis of nonfinancial defined contribution pension schemes By mixing international experiences and theoretical studies it demonstrates the high adaptability of such pension schemes to changing social challenges Pierre Devolder Professor of Finance and Actuarial Sciences Catholic University of Louvain Belgium

Ohidul Haque, 2008-12-11 This book provides an empirical investigation of the employment status of Non English Speaking Background NESB and Australia born women The analysis adds to the work of Australian authors who have found that NESB women are under represented in occupations that have relatively high pay and congenial working conditions and are over represented amongst the unemployed This study develops a definition of primary sector employment from the occupation categories in the 1996 Census and uses the ANU2 occupational prestige scale and earnings data from the Census The book constructed univariate probit models for labour market participation and primary sector employment and unemployment for both groups of women The models were estimated using the 1% sample from the 1996 Australian Census The Census provided useful information regarding labour market status and a range of human capital and demographic variables that were relevant to the analysis These models suggested that NESB women faced disadvantages in the labour market if they had poor English language skills or had arrived in Australia comparatively recently The models tended to support the works of other authors who have found that education and labour market experience were significant in improving the labour market position of individuals
