Secular Congregation:

The Congregation in a Secular Age (Ministry in a Secular Age Book #3) Andrew Root, 2021-01-19 Churches often realize they need to change. But if they're not careful, the way they change can hurt more than help. In this culmination of his well-received Ministry in a Secular Age trilogy, leading practical theologian Andrew Root offers a new paradigm for understanding the congregation in contemporary ministry. He articulates why congregations feel pressured by the speed of change in modern life and encourages an approach that doesn't fall into the negative traps of our secular age. Living in late modernity means our lives are constantly accelerated, and calls for change in the church often support this call to speed up. Root asserts that the recent push toward innovation in churches has led to an acceleration of congregational life that strips the sacred out of time. Many congregations are simply unable to keep up, which leads to burnout and depression. When things move too fast, we feel alienated from life and the voice of a living God. The Congregation in a Secular Age calls congregations to reimagine what change is and how to live into this future, helping them move from relevance to resonance.

Organized Secularism in the United States Ryan T. Cragun, Christel Manning, Lori L. Fazzino, 2017-11-07 There has been a dramatic increase in the percentage of the US population that is not religious. However, there is to date very little research on the social movement that is organizing to serve the needs of and advocate for the nonreligious in the US. This is a book about the rise and structure of organized secularism in the United States. By organized secularism, we mean the efforts of nonreligious individuals to build institutions, networks, and ultimately a movement that serves their interests in a predominantly religious society. Researchers from various fields address questions such as: What secularist organizations exist? Who are the members of these organizations? What kinds of organizations do they create? What functions do these organizations provide for their members? How do the secularist organizations of today compare to those of the past? And what is their likely impact on the future of secularism? For anyone trying to understand the rise of the nonreligious in the US, this book will provide valuable insights into organized efforts to normalize their worldview and advocate for their equal treatment in society.

Congregations in America Mark Chaves, 2009-07-01 This book provides a comprehensive overview of the most significant form of collective religious expression in America: local congregations. Among its more surprising findings, the book reveals that despite media focus on the political and social activities of religious groups, the arts are far more central to the workings of congregations.

Religion, Secularism, and Political Belonging Leerom Medovoi, Elizabeth Bentley, 2021-03-08 Working in four scholarly teams focused on different global regions—North America, the European Union, the Middle East, and China—the contributors to Religion, Secularism, and Political Belonging examine how new political worlds intersect with locally specific articulations of religion and secularism. The chapters address many topics, including the changing relationship between Islam and politics in Tunisia after the 2010 revolution, the influence of religion on the sharp turn to the political right in Western Europe, understandings of Confucianism as a form of secularism, and the alliance between evangelical Christians and neoliberal business elites in the United States since the 1970s This volume also provides a methodological template for how humanities scholars around the world can collaboratively engage with sweeping issues of global significance Contributors Markus Balkenhol Elizabeth Bentley Kambiz GhaneaBassiri David N Gibbs Ori Goldberg Marcia Klotz Zeynep Kurtulus Korkman Leerom Medovoi Eva Midden Mohanad Mustafa Mu chou Poo Shaul Setter John Vignaux Smith Pooyan Tamimi Arab Ernst van den Hemel Albert Welter Francis Ching Wah Yip Raef Zreik

Religion and Secular Modernity in Russian Christianity, Judaism, and Atheism Ana Siljak, 2024-11-15 Religion and Secular Modernity in Russian Christianity Judaism and Atheism is a multifaceted account of the engagement between religion and the secular in Russia's Christian Jewish and atheist traditions Ana Siljak brings together an interdisciplinary group of leading scholars to present unique perspectives on the secularization dynamic in Russia and the Soviet Union telling stories about theologians sects churches poets and artists From the Jewish Christian priest Alexander Men to the cross dressing poet Zinaida Gippius to the Soviet promoter of Yiddish theater Solomon Mikhoels Religion and Secular Modernity in Russian Christianity Judaism and Atheism gives a voice to a variety of actors who have grappled with the possibilities of faith and unbelief in an industrialized modern and seemingly secular world Now more than ever as one narrative of Russia's religious history dominates official Russian accounts alternative perspectives of the relationship between Russian religion and secularism should be highlighted and emphasized

Origins, Foundations, Sustainability and Trip Lines of Good Governance: Archaeological and Historical Considerations Gary M. Feinman, Richard Edward Blanton, Stephen A. Kowalewski, Lane Fargher Navarro, 2022-10-05 Until recently scholarly consensus across the social sciences and history adhered to the view that the incorporation of citizen voice in governance e.g. democracy was an entirely Western phenomenon that mostly is a product of the emergence of rational thought and the modern world. These views are now empirically questioned and subject to serious reconsideration. Yet even researchers who recognize a broader temporal span for democratic or good governance draw fundamental distinctions between these political forms in the past and present. Building on the collective action theories in particular those focused on fiscal financing, the editors of this Research Topic outline fundamental characteristics: internal financing, equitable taxation, checks on power, and a functioning bureaucracy at the core of good governance, which are neither the sole project of the contemporary West nor tied to any specific ideological construct or form of leadership. Even elections can no longer be conceived as assurance of good governance. At this time of global challenges to democracy, understanding the comparative history of good governments, their core institutions, how they worked, their foundations, what led to their downfalls, and the factors that prompted their sustenance or their collapses are extremely important to document. The historical trends and coactive processes that underpinned those human cooperative arrangements which fostered growth and general well-being require comparative focus if we are to draw on the wealth of human history to help craft better governance in the future and forestall the tripwires that lead to its failures. We welcome contributions which focus on: Diachronic examinations of changes in the fiscal foundations of governance and their impacts on governance; Comparative analysis of governmental variability and its relationship to collective action and its fiscal financing; Cross-temporal studies of shifts in the degree of good governance and relations to inequality, sustainability, bureaucracy, public goods and services, and fiscal financing; The importance of social compacts and contracts in representative government and how these are sustained and break down; Alternatives and supplements to elections as means of assessing subaltern voices; The relationship between governance and inequality over time and across space; Differences in modes of political collapse and their relationship to governance, fiscal financing, and responses of principals; The role of public ritual in good versus autocratic governments; Variance in communication and computation in good versus autocratic governments; The relationship between comparative governance and the uses and spatial distributions of community, urban space, residential and non-residential architecture; sprawl versus compact settlement; The relationship between comparative governance and neighborhood organization; Was there one or many episodes of enlightenment? The relationship between governance and coactive processes including considerations of demographic growth, patterns of migration, well-being, economic growth; The relationship between slave labor and governance; spot resources and governance; Non-hierarchical and egalitarian forms of governance in non-state

societies Indigenous inspirations and influences on the Constitution of the United States Collective action and establishment of early cities Our aim for this Research Topic is to compile a series of research essays drawn from a broad cross regional and cross temporal sample of historical settings to explore issues and themes relevant to the history and processes that have been at the heart of good governance World Christian Trends Ad30-ad2200 (hb) ,2001 A Powerful Presence
