and the best practices they represented and a commanding knowledge of the inner workings of farms and rural residents. Most importantly however they had a knack with people. In many cases they were given the cold shoulder at first by the farmers they were sent to help. However through old fashioned can-do perseverance and a dogged determination to make a difference in the lives of people these county Extension agents slowly inched the state forward one farmer at a time. Their story is a history lesson on what agriculture was like at the turn of the twentieth century and a lesson to us all about how patient outreach and dedicated engagement backed by proven science from university research reshaped and modernized Indiana agriculture. Farmers' Bulletin, 1921
