Seeing Things as They Are Duncan Reyburn,2017-08-31 The jovial journalist philosopher and theologian G K Chesterton felt that the world was almost always in permanent danger of being misjudged or even overlooked and so the pursuit of understanding insight and awareness was his perpetual preoccupation Being sensitive to the boundaries and possibilities of perception he believed that it really was possible albeit in a limited way to see things as they are Duncan Reyburn marrying Chesterton s unique perspective with the discipline of philosophical hermeneutics aims to outline what Chesterton can teach us about reading interpreting and participating in the drama of meaning as it unfolds before us in words and in the world Chesterton s unique interpretive approach seems to be the implicit fascination of all Chesterton scholarship to date and yet this book is the first to comprehensively focus on the issue By taking Chesterton back to his philosophical roots via his marginalia his approach to literary criticism his Platonist Thomist metaphysics and his Roman Catholic theology Reyburn explicitly and compellingly tackles the philosophical assumptions and goals that underpin his unique posture towards reality

Memoir of Rev. Henry Bacon Eliza Ann Bacon, 1857 Family Affairs Mary Abbott, 2003-09-02 The decades between the close of World War I and the end of the Thatcher era have changed and challenged family life in England dramatically. The Depression and World War II shifted priorities and behaviour, as did the Welfare State, the Pill, and Women's Lib. Later on, what threatened a family's respectability in the 1920s is often commonplace today: abortion, contraception, the single-parent family, or gay relationships. Family Affairs explores the secret life of English families from 1920 to 1990. Mary Abbott takes the reader into her subjects' homes and hearts and provokes readers to reflect on families past and speculate on families' future. A product of intense original research of primary and secondary sources, this volume is a useful contribution to the history of the family.

George Lansbury John Shepherd, 2002-09-19 The most lovable figure in modern politics was how A. J. P. Taylor described the Christian pacifist George Lansbury. At 73 he took over the helm of the Labour Party of only 46 MPs in the Depression years of the 1930s. Throughout a remarkable life, Lansbury remained an extraordinary politician of the people, associated with a multitude of crusades for social justice. He resigned from Parliament to support Votes for Women and for the next ten years edited the fiery Daily Herald. In 1921 Lansbury led the Poplar Rates Rebellion when thirty Labour councillors went willingly to prison in defiance of the government, the courts, and their own party leadership. As Labour leader, Lansbury was known universally as a committed socialist, an implacable opponent of capitalism and imperialism. He never sought personal wealth, travelled everywhere by public transport, and made his home in impoverished East London. His final years were spent in a tireless international peace crusade to prevent the drift towards another world war. In this major new biography, John Shepherd draws on an impressive range of research to reconstruct the life of a charismatic Labour pioneer. He reaffirms George Lansbury's standing at the heart of Old Labour and his importance to British politics as a whole.

The autobiography of Thomas Anthony Methuen [ed.] with a memoir by T.P. Methuen Thomas Anthony Methuen, 1870 History, Historians, and Autobiography Jeremy D. Popkin, 2005-05-09 Though history and autobiography both claim to tell true stories about the past, historians have traditionally rejected first-person accounts as subjective and therefore unreliable. What then asks Jeremy D. Popkin in History, Historians, and Autobiography are we to make of the ever-increasing number of professional historians who are publishing stories of their own lives? And how is this recent development changing the nature of history writing, the historical profession, and the genre of autobiography? Drawing on the theoretical work of contemporary critics of autobiography and the philosophy of Paul Ricoeur, Popkin reads the autobiographical classics of Edward Gibbon and Henry Adams and the memoirs of contemporary historians such as Emmanuel Le Roy Ladurie, Peter Gay, Jill Ker Conway, and many others. He reveals the contributions historians' life stories make to our understanding of the human experience Historians autobiographies he shows reveal how scholars arrive at their vocations the difficulties of writing about modern professional life and the ways in which personal stories can add to our understanding of historical events such as war political movements and the traumas of the Holocaust An engrossing overview of the way historians view themselves and their profession this work will be of interest to readers concerned with the ways in which we understand the past as well as anyone interested in the art of life writing      Serial Memoir N.

Stamant,2014-06-23 Serial Memoir chronicles the phenomenon of seriality in memoir a transition in life writing toward repeated acts of self representation in the later twentieth century Such a shift demonstrates a new way to understand and represent constantly shifting subjectivities and their ambivalent relationship to the concept and structure of the archive
