such narrative elements do appear in the storyworlds of novels short stories and plays Impossibilities of narrator character time and space are not only common in today s world of postmodernist literature but can also be found throughout the history of literature Examples include the beast fable the heroic epic the romance the eighteenth century circulation novel the Gothic novel the ghost play the fantasy narrative and the science fiction novel among others Unnatural Narrative looks at the startling and persistent presence of the impossible or the unnatural throughout British and American literary history Layering the lenses of cognitive narratology frame theory and possible worlds theory Unnatural Narrative offers a rigorous and engaging new characterization of the unnatural and what it yields for individual readers as well as literary culture Jan Alber demonstrates compelling interpretations of the unnatural in literature and shows the ways in which such unnatural phenomena become conventional in readers minds altogether expanding our sense of the imaginable and informing new structures and genres of narrative engagement

The English Charlemagne Romances ,1879 The Legend of Charlemagne in Medieval England Phillipa Hardman,Marianne Ailes,2017 The first full length examination of the medieval Charlemagne tradition in the literature and culture of medieval England from the Chanson de Roland to Caxton The Matter of France the legendary history of Charlemagne had a central but now largely unrecognised place in the multilingual culture of medieval England From the early claim in the Chanson de Roland that Charlemagne held England as his personal domain to the later proliferation of Middle English romances of Charlemagne the materials are woven into the insular political and cultural imagination However unlike the wide range of continental French romances the insular tradition concentrates on stories of a few heroic characters Roland Fierabras Otinel Why did writers and audiences in England turn again and again to these narratives rewriting and reinterpreting them for more than two hundred years This book offers the first full length in depth study of the tradition as manifested in literature and culture It investigates the currency and impact of the Matter of France with equal attention to English and French language texts setting each individual manuscript or early printed text in its contemporary cultural and political context The narratives are revealed to be extraordinarily adaptable using the iconic opposition between Carolingian and Saracen heroes to reflect concerns with national politics religious identity the future of Christendom chivalry and ethics and monarchy and treason PHILLIPA HARDMAN is Readerin Medieval English Literature retired at the University of Reading MARIANNE AILES is Senior Lecturer in French at the University of Bristol
