Fighting for the Higher Law Peter Wirzbicki, 2021-03-26 How important black abolitionists joined famous Transcendentalists to create a political philosophy to fight slavery In Fighting for the Higher Law Peter Wirzbicki explores how important black abolitionists joined famous Transcendentalists to create a political philosophy that fired the radical struggle against American slavery In the cauldron of the antislavery movement antislavery activists such as William C Nell Thomas Sidney and Charlotte Forten and Transcendentalist intellectuals including Ralph Waldo Emerson and Henry David Thoreau developed a Higher Law ethos a unique set of romantic political sensibilities marked by moral enthusiasms democratic idealism and a vision of the self that could judge political questions from higher standards of morality and reason The Transcendentalism that emerges here is not simply the dreamy philosophy of privileged white New Englanders but a more populist movement one that encouraged an uncompromising form of politics among a wide range of Northerners black as well as white working class as well as wealthy Invented to fight slavery it would influence later labor feminist civil rights and environmentalist activism African American thinkers and activists have long engaged with American Transcendentalist ideas about double consciousness nonconformity and civil disobedience When thinkers like Martin Luther King Jr or W E B Du Bois invoked Transcendentalist ideas they were putting to use an intellectual movement that black radicals had participated in since the 1830s

Why We Teach Now Sonia Nieto, 2015-04-28 Why We Teach Now dares to challenge current notions of what it means to be a highly qualified teacher la No Child Left Behind and demonstrates the depth of commitment and care teachers bring to their work with students families and communities This sequel to Nieto's popular book Why We Teach features powerful stories of classroom teachers from across the country as they give witness to their hopes and struggles to teach our nation's children Why We Teach Now offers us the voices of teachers like 42 year veteran Mary Ginley who wonders Why would anyone with any brains and imagination ever want to be a teacher Who then answers her own question affirmatively It's because somehow even today even with all the insanity all the rules all the poorly designed textbooks all the directives to teach to the test there are kids out there who need good teachers At a time when politicians policymakers and philanthropists are quick to denigrate teachers work and arrogantly speak for the profession Why We Teach Now offers teachers the room and respect to speak for themselves Once again Nieto gives teachers and those who care about education the inspiration and energy to embrace their role as advocates a role that is vital not only for the well being of students but also for the future of the profession and our nation Praise for Why We Teach These pieces reveal the passion and hope that keep people in the classroom Inspiration and information Why We Teach raises our understanding of the dedication that fuels people's commitment to this profession Rethinking Schools This collection of essays written by teachers from across the country demonstrates exactly why there is hope for our public schools Their words reveal why in spite of bureaucracy and low pay they continue to teach This book should be required reading for college students planning to enter the profession Teachers already in the classroom whether for five years or twenty five will be encouraged and inspired VOYA

Thoreau and the Language of Trees Richard Higgins, 2017-04-04 Trees were central to Henry David Thoreau's creativity as a writer his work as a naturalist his thought and his inner life His portraits of them were so perfect it was as if he could see the sap flowing beneath their bark When Thoreau wrote that the poet loves the pine tree as his own shadow in the air he was speaking about himself In short he spoke their language In this original book Richard Higgins explores Thoreau's deep connections to trees his keen perception of them the joy they gave him the poetry he saw in them his philosophical view of them and how they fed his soul His lively essays show that trees were a thread connecting all parts of Thoreau's being heart mind and spirit Included are one hundred excerpts from Thoreau's writings about trees paired with over sixty of the author's photographs Thoreau's words are as vivid now as they were in 1890 when an English naturalist wrote that he was unusually able to preserve the flashing forest colors in unfading light Thoreau and the Language of Trees shows that Thoreau with uncanny foresight believed trees were essential to the preservation of the world The Question of Peace in Modern Political Thought Toivo Koivukoski, David Edward Tabachnick, 2015-04-08 The essays in The Question of Peace in Modern Political Thought address the contribution that political theories of modern political philosophers have made to our understandings of peace The discipline of peace research has reached a critical impasse where the ideas of both realist peace and democratic peace are challenged by contemporary world events Can we stand by while dictators violate the human rights of citizens Can we impose a democratic peace through the projection of war By looking back at the great works of political philosophy this collection hopes to revive peace as an active question for political philosophy while making an original contribution to contemporary peace research and international relations The Sounds of Place Denise Von Glahn, 2021-09-14 Composers like Charles Ives Duke Ellington Aaron Copland and Ellen Taaffe Zwilich created works that indelibly commemorated American places Denise Von Glahn analyzes the soundscapes of fourteen figures whose place pieces tell us much about the nation's search for its own voice and about its ever changing sense of self She connects each composer's feelings about the United States and their reasons for creating a piece to the music while analyzing their compositional techniques tunes and styles Approaching the compositions in chronological order Von Glahn reveals how works that celebrated the wilderness gave way to music engaged with humanity's influence benign and otherwise on the landscape before environmentalism inspired a return to nature themes in the late twentieth century Wide ranging and astute The Sounds of Place explores high art music's role in the making of national myth and memory Henry David Thoreau and the Critics Jeanetta Boswell, Sarah Crouch, 1981
