Shelter Is Not Enough Transforming Multistorey Housing:

Shelter is not enough Towers, Graham, 2000-03-29 Estates of multi storey housing present some of the most intractable problems for urban policy Many attempts to deal with these problems have either failed or presented poor value for money Shelter is not enough is an up to date evaluation of the issues It traces the development of multi storey housing in Britain from its early beginnings to the period from the mid 1950s to the early 1970s when most of the contemporary legacy of estates was built The problems in use are examined as are the responses of the authorities faced with mounting technical and social difficulties Drawing on an analysis of past practice a model framework is defined which can help to create successful approaches for the regeneration of multi storey housing From the experience of the development of multi storey housing in Britain its problems and attempted solutions implications are drawn for public policy and a strategic approach is outlined which can reform the estates and reintegrate them into the mainstream urban environment Finally the British experience is placed in a broader context the parallel problems surrounding multi storey estates in Europe and the contribution transformed multi storey estates might make in creating more sustainable cities in the millennium This book provides valuable information for all those involved in urban regeneration academics and students of housing architecture and urban studies development officers designers and others working in the practice of estate regeneration Shelter is Not Enough Graham Towers, 2000-03-29 Estates of multi storey housing present some of the most intractable problems for urban policy Shelter is not enough is an up to date evaluation of the issues Drawing on an analysis of past practice a model framework is defined which can help to create successful approaches for the regeneration of multi storey housing Housing Transformations Bridget Franklin, 2006-08-21 Including illustrated case study examples this original and groundbreaking book explores a wide range of literature combines social theory with elements from the built environment disciplines and explores how and why we build where we do An Introduction to Urban Housing Design Graham Towers, 2013-05-13 1 Unique introductory guide to urban housing design 2 An accessible text that outlines the current debate on urban planning and presents guidance for design solutions 3 Contemporary case studies showcase the best examples for high density housing design London's Aylesbury Estate Michael Romy, 2020-09-18 This book looks beyond the Aylesbury s public face by examining its rise and fall from the perspective of those who knew it based largely on the oral testimony and memoir of residents and former residents youth and community workers borough Councillors officials police officers and architects What emerges is not a simple story of definitive failures but one of texture and complexity struggle and accord family and friends and of rapidly changing circumstances The study spans the years 1967 to 2010 from the estate s ambitious inception until the first of its blocks were pulled down It is a period rarely dealt with by historians of council housing who have typically confined themselves to the years before or after the 1979 watershed As such it demonstrates how shifts in housing policy and broader political economic and social developments came to bear on a working class community for good and more especially for ill Fictions of the City Matthew Taunton, 2009-09-29 Many studies of fictions of city life take the flaneur as the characteristic metropolitan type and streets and plazas as definitive urban spaces Looking at novels and films set in London and Paris from L'Assommoir to Nil By Mouth this book shows that mass housing is equally central to images of the modern city Municipal Dreams John Boughton (Historian), 2018 Introduction How to provide housing for the people origins The world of the future the interwar period If only we will Britain reimaged 1940 51 The needs of the people council housing 1945 56 Get these people out of the slums 1956 68 Anti monumental anti stylistic and fit for ordinary people 1968 79 Rolling back the frontiers of the state 1979 91 Thrown away places 1991 7 A different kind of community 1997 2010 People need homes these homes need people 2010 to the present Poverty Today Issue 56 (September/October 2002) ,

The politics of housing Peter Shapely, 2017-10-03 Exploring the politics of housing during 1890 1990 this fascinating study examines the interaction not only of national and local politics but also of local factors such as civic culture key local players local discourse and geographical and demographic problems This book argues that increasingly tenants acted as consumers of a public service and it questions the way in which notions of consumerism shaped responses to the housing debate An analysis of the impact of legislation on housing policy in different cities is provided as well as a more detailed account of the politics of housing in Manchester including the Victorian legacy the emergence of local government intervention post war overspill estates new system built flats and their rapid deterioration rising tenant anger and protests and the beginning of a new approach based on consultation and partnerships The book will be of value to anyone studying urban history politics governance civic culture social policy and society Social Housing and Urban Renewal Paul Watt, Peer Smets, 2017-08-15 Contemporary urban renewal is the subject of intense academic and policy debate regarding whether it promotes social mixing and spatial justice or instead enhances neoliberal privatization and state led gentrification This book offers a cross national perspective on contemporary urban renewal in relation to social rental housing History of Technology Volume 25 Ian Inkster, 2016-09-30 The technical problems confronting different societies and periods and the measures taken to solve them form the concern of this annual collection of essays It deals with the history of technical discovery and change and explores the relationship of technology to other aspects of life social cultural and economic showing how technological development has shaped and been shaped by the society in which it occurred Urban Politics and Space in the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries Barry M. Doyle, 2009-10-02 This book addresses the increasing regionalisation of urban governance and politics in an era of industrialisation suburbanisation and welfare extension It provides an important reassessment of the role structure and activities of urban elites highlighting their vitality and their interdependence and demonstrating the increasing regionalisation of municipal politics as towns sought to promote themselves extend services and even expand physically onto a regional level Moreover it explores the discourses surrounding space in which gender class morality and community all feature prominently How urban space and its uses were defined and redefined became key political weapons across the regions of England in the nineteenth century and these chapters show how a range of sources maps poems songs paintings illustrated journalism social investigations historical texts were employed by contemporaries to shape the urban and its image often by placing it in a regional context or contributing to the creation of a regional image and identity This collection illustrates the continuing vitality of the study of urban politics and governance and presents a rare attempt to place English urban history in a regional context Barry Doyle has assembled an impressive team of experts on urban politics to examine not just party politics but the wider machinery of government the boards agencies and committees that shaped British towns and cities after 1830 Space and place were contested and negotiated and a distinctive sense of local identity emerged In so doing the collection challenges some of the generalisations about the governance of urban Britain and reminds us that despite a shrinking globe the local and regional are crucial to our everyday lives The book should be read by all interested in and especially those working for local government Professor Richard Rodger University of Edinburgh In Urban Politics and Urban Space in the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries Regional Perspectives Barry Doyle brings together nine original essays by both established and younger authors to explore three inter related themes in urban history politics space and region from the early to mid nineteenth century to the mid twentieth century The book is conveniently divided into three sections dealing with structures of politics politics institutions and urban management and governance discourses and space Each of the contributions to this volume promises to both enrich our knowledge of specific moments in British politico urban development through the study of discrete developments in time and space and to open up and extend the debate on the British variant of urban modernity Each examines the ways in which local power space and regional relations developed and changed between the early nineteenth and mid twentieth century Localities their politics and communal identities are never really far from a national context indeed they largely shaped it as these essays make clear Doyle is to be commended for his endeavour not just as the editor but in particular for his introduction to the volume In a richly referenced essay that comes in at just over seven and half thousand words he casts a panoramic view over the field in the last few decades making connections where few contemporary urban historians care to tread Doyle gives us a forceful challenge to what he sees as a particularly English malaise in this period namely that of failing to recognise the potential of regional and local government to shape and manage the major reallocation of space and power a vital sphere of public life that is contemporary to our own times It is a masterly and well informed piece of writing that will set the standard for some years to come Professor Anthony McElligott University of Limerick

Estate Regeneration and Its Discontents Paul Watt, 2021-03-31 It is widely accepted that London is in the midst of a serious housing crisis manifested most obviously in city s soaring rents While the causes of this crisis are manifold many people have come to argue that the diminished role of public housing which includes council estates is a major contributing factor Yet the bitter irony is that at a time of such massive housing shortages London s council estates are disappearing from the city s skyline in the name of renewal and regeneration In The Life and Death of London's Council Estates Watt provides a systematic policy and sociological account of the transformation of council housing in London over the last three decades drawing on extensive fieldwork interviews and statistical and documentary analysis undertaken in several London boroughs The book explores what this dramatic shift in housing implies for ever widening inequality in London's distribution of wealth

Sustainable Development and Planning VIII C.A. Brebbia, S.S. Zubir, A.S. Hassan, 2017-01-30 The 8th International Conference on Sustainable Development and Planning is part of a series of biennial conferences on the topic of sustainable regional development which began in Greece in 2003 The papers included in these proceedings report on the latest advances from scientists specialising in the range of subjects included within sustainable development and planning Planners environmentalists architects engineers policy makers and economists have to work together in order to ensure that planning and development can meet our present needs without compromising the ability of future generations The use of modern technologies in planning gives us new potential to monitor and prevent environmental degradation Problems related to development and planning which affect both rural and urban areas are present in all regions of the world and accelerated urbanisation has resulted in both the deterioration of the environment and quality of life Urban development can also intensify problems faced by rural areas such as forests mountain regions and coastal areas which urgently require solutions in order to avoid irreversible damage The papers in the book cover the following topics City planning Regional planning Rural developments Sustainability and the built environment Sustainability indicators Policies and planning Environmental planning and management Energy resources Cultural heritage Quality of life Community planning and resilience Sustainable solutions in emerging countries Sustainable tourism Learning from nature Transportation Social and political issues and Community planning

Radical Tenderness Andrea Brady, 2024-05-09 Radical Tenderness argues for the importance of poetry in negotiating political and social catastrophes through a focus on the unusual intimacies of committed writing How do poets negotiate between the personal and the public the bedroom and the street the family and class or communal ties How does contemporary lyric with its emphasis on the feelings and perceptions of the individual subject speak to moments of shared crisis What can poetry tell us about how care shapes our experiences of history How do the intimacies found in protest on strike in riots and in spaces of oppression transform individual lives and political movements Through a series of focussed readings of four twenty first century poets Caleb Femi Bhanu Kapil Juliana Spahr and Anne Boyer Radical Tenderness reflects the perspectives provided by intimate poetries on the shared political emergencies of poverty war ecological catastrophe racism and illness

Housing in African Cities Margot Rubin, Sarah Charlton, Neil Klug, 2023-11-27 This edited collection from across the African continent offers a diverse set of analytical accounts that engage with the urban governance dynamics drivers and impacts of a wide variety of housing initiatives These include insights into the relationships between parties and actors undertaking developments or whose housing activities impact on the city The book illustrates issues of power distribution the visions or agendas motivating these actions and the instruments used to advance them It considers the rise of mega housing projects private sector driven residential developments unobtrusive transformations of existing building stock establishment and upgrading of informal settlements and state driven low cost housing schemes It surfaces the contestation collaborations and conflicts as well as the power relations that operate within cities and which are made visible on cityscapes Housing and human settlement scholars as well as those interested in urban politics and governance dynamics in the global south and across the African continent will find much to appreciate in this volume

The Town Planning Review Patrick Abercrombie, 2002 Defensible Space on the Move Loretta Lees, Eleanor Warwick, 2022-02-02 Both theoretically informed and empirically rich Defensible Space makes an important conceptual contribution to policy mobilities thinking to policy and practice and also to practitioners handling of complex spatial concepts Critically examines the geographical concept Defensible Space which has been influential in designing out crime to date and has been applied to housing estates in the UK North America Europe and beyond Evaluates the movement mobility mobilisation of defensible space from the US to the UK and into English housing policy and practice Explores the multiple ways the concept of defensible space was interpreted and implemented as it circulated from national to local level and within particular English housing estates Critiquing and pushing forwards work on policy mobilities the authors illustrate for the first time how transfer mechanisms worked at both a policy and practitioner level Drawing on extensive archival research oral histories and in depth interviews this important book reveals defensible space to be ambiguous uncertain in nature neither proven or disproven scientifically Housing, 2000 International Bibliography of Book Reviews of Scholarly Literature Chiefly in the Fields of Arts and Humanities and the Social Sciences, 2001
