encounter and acts of theatricalization In chapter 2 Going Native Becoming Modern she examines literary modernism s fascination with the Indian poet and a series of Yiddish translations of Indian chants that appeared in the modernist journal Shriftn in the 1920s In the third chapter Red Jews Rubinstein considers the work of Jewish writers from the left including Tillie Olsen Michael Gold Nathanael West John Sanford and Howard Fast and in chapter 4 Henry Roth Native Son Rubinstein focuses on Henry Roth s complicated appeals to Indianness The final chapter First Nations addresses contemporary contestations between Jews and Indians over cultural and territorial sovereignty in literary and political discourse as well as in museum spaces As Rubinstein considers how Jews used the figure of the Indian to feel at home in the United States she enriches ongoing discussions about the ways that Jews negotiated their identity in relation to other cultural groups Students of Jewish studies and literature will enjoy the unique insights in Members of the Tribe

Strangers at Home Rita Keresztesi, 2005-01-01 Strangers at Home reframes the way we conceive of the modernist literature that appeared in the period between the two world wars This provocative work shows that a body of texts written by ethnic writers during this period poses a challenge to conventional notions of America and American modernism By engaging with modernist literary studies from the perspectives of minority discourse postcolonial studies and postmodern theory Rita Keresztesi questions the validity of modernism's claim to the neutrality of culture She argues that literary modernism grew out of a prejudiced racially biased and often xenophobic historical context that necessitated a politically conservative and narrow definition of modernism in America With the changing racial ethnic and cultural makeup of the nation during the interwar era literary modernism also changed its form and content Contesting traditional notions of literary modernism Keresztesi examines American modernism from an ethnic perspective in the works of Harlem Renaissance immigrant and Native American writers She discusses such authors as Countee Cullen Nella Larsen Zora Neale Hurston Anzia Yezierska Henry Roth Josephina Niggli Mourning Dove D Arcy McNickle and John Joseph Mathews among others Strangers at Home makes a persuasive argument for expanding our understanding of the writers themselves as well as the concept of modernism as it is currently defined

Werner Sollors Reader Werner Sollors, 2025-01-31 Born in Silesia raised in the Frankfurt area and educated in Berlin Werner Sollors has spent most of his career at Harvard University in the United States and is regarded in Cornel West's words as one of the finest scholars that we have on race and cultural hybridity in both this country and the world This Reader offers the first comprehensive overview of the work of a central figure in the field of ethnic studies The pieces collected here range from Puritan New England to contemporary Germany from Exodus to Mary Antin's Promised Land from the Curse of Ham to Teju Cole They attest to Sollors' deep historical sensibilities his attention to textual detail and his awareness of the costs and opportunities of both cosmopolitan ideals and particularist commitments whilst addressing a central question why does modernisation take the form of ethnicisation in many places around the globe The collected essays are complemented by a detailed introduction by Daniel G Williams which foregrounds some of the key emphases and tensions in Sollors' writings

Consuming Silences Myles Weber, 2005 J D Salinger was an author in 1951 when he published The Catcher in the Rye Is he one now Was Henry Roth an author during the sixty years that separated Call It Sleep his literary debut from his second novel Mercy of a Rude Stream To show us how silence can be produced and consumed as a literary text Myles Weber takes a provocative look at four revered authors who battled writer's block or simply ceased publishing The careers of Tillie Olsen Henry Roth J D Salinger and Ralph Ellison suggest that an unproductive twentieth century author could command serious critical attention and remain a literary celebrity by offering the public volumes of silence which became read and admired like any other text Weber sees periods of nonpublication as texts that are consumed by the literary public and sometimes produced deliberately by inactive writers and their handlers However his aim is not to criticize individual authors but to reveal connections between literature as a commodity and authorship as a profession As Weber looks at the particular circumstances of each author's silence he brings to them an understanding of such topics as the cult of celebrity intellectual property law the complicity of the media and the academy in engendering and then maintaining an author's silence and mass production and distribution By helping us to look in new ways at authorial silence not just as a biographical fact or a creative problem but also as a marketing opportunity Consuming Silences injects energy into debates about the nature of literary production and the cultural place of authors who do not publish The Modern Jewish Canon Ruth R. Wisse, 2003-04-15 What makes a great Jewish book In fact what makes a book Jewish in the first place Ruth R Wisse eloquently fields these questions in The Modern Jewish Canon her compassionate insightful guide to the finest Jewish literature of the twentieth century From Isaac Babel to Isaac Bashevis Singer Elie Wiesel to Cynthia Ozick Wisse's The Modern Jewish Canon is a book that every student of Jewish literature and every reader of great fiction will enjoy The Languages of World Literature Achim Höltzer, 2024-03-04 This volume opens the series of papers presented at the Vienna Congress of AILC ICLA 2016 beginning with eight keynotes Thirty four further papers are dedicated to the central theme of the conference the linguistic side of world literature under different focal points The volume further contains five roundtables the papers of a workshop of the UNESCO memory of the world's programme a presentation of the avldigital de platform as well as several bibliographically enriched overviews of the special lexicography of comparative literature up to date versions of the ICLA publications and an example of multiple translations of a famous modern classic The Legal Studies Forum, 2003
