Shimmering Color:

Speaking of Colors and Odors Martina Plümacher, Peter Holz, 2007-01-01 How to speak of colors and odors In many cases we have to think about an adequate description of a perceived odor or shade of color Words are not fluently available The contributions discuss color and odor perception and its linguistic representation from different disciplinary angles from neurobiology neuropsychology psycholinguistics cognitive linguistics and philosophy They show that linguistic representation of colors and odors depends highly on cultures of communication Experts are skilled in discerning finer differences between their sense impressions and have at their disposal a special language which non experts do not master The color and odor vocabulary is rare if there is no cultural habit to communicate the very sense impression In cases where individuals have to speak of their sensory experiences more precisely they often turn to metaphors The contributions discuss the lack of inter individual conventions of naming and describing odors compared to the more expanded linguistic representation of colors

What Color Is the Sacred? Michael Taussig, 2024-05-31 Over the past thirty years visionary anthropologist Michael Taussig has crafted a highly distinctive body of work Playful enthralling and whip smart his writing makes ingenious connections between ideas thinkers and things An extended meditation on the mysteries of color and the fascination they provoke What Color Is the Sacred is the next step on Taussig's remarkable intellectual path Following his interest in magic and surrealism his earlier work on mimesis and his recent discussion of heat gold and cocaine in My Cocaine Museum this book uses color to explore further dimensions of what Taussig calls the bodily unconscious in an age of global warming Drawing on classic ethnography as well as the work of Benjamin Burroughs and Proust he takes up the notion that color invites the viewer into images and into the world Yet as Taussig makes clear color has a history a manifestly colonial history rooted in the West's discomfort with color especially bright color and its associations with the so called primitive He begins by noting Goethe's belief that Europeans are physically averse to vivid color while the uncivilized revel in it which prompts Taussig to reconsider colonialism as a tension between chromophobes and chromophiliacs And he ends with the strange story of coal which he argues displaced colonial color by giving birth to synthetic colors organic chemistry and IG Farben the giant chemical corporation behind the Third Reich Nietzsche once wrote So far all that has given colour to existence still lacks a history With What Color Is the Sacred Taussig has taken up that challenge with all the radiant intelligence and inspiration we've come to expect from him
