Shooting War Photography And The American Experience Of Combat:

Shooting War Susan D. Moeller, 1987 Clifford Martin: Navy Photographer Olivia Lahs-Gonzales, Clifford R. Martin, Joel Enger, Edinburgh Companion to the First World War and the Arts Ann-Marie Einhaus, 2017-05-24 A new exploration of literary and artistic responses to WW1 from 1914 to the present This authoritative reference work examines literary and artistic responses to the wars upheavals across a wide range of media and genres from poetry to pamphlets sculpture to television documentary and requiems to war reporting Rather than looking at particular forms of artistic expression in isolation and focusing only on the war and inter war period the 26 essays collected in this volume approach artistic responses to the war from a wide variety of angles and where appropriate pursue their inquiry into the present day In 6 sections covering Literature the Visual Arts Music Periodicals and Journalism Film and Broadcasting and Publishing and Material Culture a wide range of original chapters from experts across literature and the arts examine what means and approaches were employed to respond to the shock of war as well as asking such key questions as how and why literary and artistic responses to the war have changed over time and how far later works of art are responses not only to the war itself but to earlier cultural production Key Features Offers new insights into the breadth and depth of artistic responses to WWI Establishes links and parallels across a wide range of different media and genres Emphasises the development of responses in different fields from 1914 to the present A New History of War Reporting Kevin Williams, 2019-12-23 This book takes a fresh look at the history of war reporting to understand how new technology new ways of waging war and new media conditions are changing the role and work of today s war correspondent Focussing on the mechanics of war reporting and the logistical and institutional pressures on correspondents the book further examines the role of war propaganda accreditation and news management in shaping the evolution of the specialism Previously neglected conflicts and correspondents are reclaimed and wars considered as key moments in the history of war reporting such as the Crimean War 1854 56 and the Great War 1914 18 are re evaluated The use of objectivity as the yardstick by which to assess the performance of war correspondents is questioned The emphasis is instead placed on war as a messy business which confronts reporters and photographers with conditions that challenge the norms of professional practice References to the demise of the war correspondent have accompanied the growth of the specialism since the days of William Howard Russell the so called father of war reporting This highlights the fragile nature of this sub genre of journalism and emphasises that continuity as much as change characterises the work of the war correspondent A thematically organised historically rich introduction this book is ideal for students of journalism media and communication American Media and the Memory of World War II Debra Ramsay, 2015-02-11 For three generations of Americans World War II has been a touchstone for the understanding of conflict and of America s role in global affairs But if World War II helped shape the perception of war for Americans American media in turn shape the understanding and memory of World War II Concentrating on key popular films television series and digital games from the last two decades this book explores the critical influence World War II continues to exert on a generation of Americans born over thirty years after the conflict ended It explains how the war was configured in the media of the wartime generation and how it came to be repurposed by their progeny the Baby Boomers In doing so it identifies the framework underpinning the mediation of World War II memory in the current generation s media and develops a model that provides insight into the strategies of representation that shape the American perspective of war in general

Why America Fights explores how the U S government has sold war aims designed to rally public support throughout the 20th century Warring Visions Thy Phu, 2021-10-18 In Warring Visions Thy Phu explores photography from dispersed communities throughout Vietnam and the Vietnamese diaspora both during and after the Vietnam War to complicate narratives of conflict and memory While the visual history of the Vietnam War has been dominated by American documentaries and war photography Phu turns to photographs circulated by the Vietnamese themselves capturing a range of subjects occasions and perspectives Phu s concept of warring visions refers to contrasts in the use of war photos in North Vietnam which highlighted national liberation and aligned themselves with an international audience and those in South Vietnam which focused on family and everyday survival Phu also uses warring visions to enlarge the category of war photography a genre that usually consists of images illustrating the immediacy of combat and the spectacle of violence pain and wounded bodies She pushes this genre beyond such definitions by analyzing pictures of family life weddings and other quotidian scenes of life during the war Phu thus expands our understanding of how war is waged experienced and resolved

War and Virtual War , 2021-10-25 If the practice of war is as old as human history so too is the need to reflect upon war to understand its meaning and implications The Pre Socratic philosopher Heraclitus asserted in 600BC that War polemos is justice thus inaugurating a long philosophical tradition of consideration of the morality of war In recent times the increased specialisation of academic disciplines has led a to a fragmentation of the thematic of war within the academy the topic of war is as likely to be addressed by sociologists cultural theorists psychologists and even computer scientists as it is by historians philosophers or political scientists This diversity of disciplinary approaches to war is undoubtedly fruitful in itself but can lead to an isolation of respective disciplinary analyses of war from each other In July 2002 at Mansfield College Oxford an inter disciplinary conference on war entitled War and Virtual War was held so as to redress some of this disciplinary isolationism and to forge an integrative dialogue on war in all its facets The papers in this volume were nominated by delegates as the most paradigmatic of the ethos of the original project and the most successful in achieving its aims of inter disciplinarity and critical dialogue Inside War Fabio Armao, 2016-02-22 The post Cold War era was characterised by both the recurrence of state wars and the spread of forms of organised violence other than wars Asymmetric warfare between alliances led by the USA and groups of insurgents such as those witnessed in Afghanistan and Iraq coexist alongside domestic conflicts such as that of former Yugoslavia and more recently Libya and Syria and still other conflicts involving gangs mafias or narco traffickers The massive military industrial complexes conceived in the context of the threat of nuclear Armageddon are still there of course but they now coexist with irregular armies of insurgents carrying out massacres through the use of light weapons and improvised explosives devices This book oppose the idea that this situation prefigures

the return to an anarchical pre political condition by assuming that new wars are rather the product of the blurring of the public private divide induced by the end of the Cold War together with globalisation As a consequence also the internal and external factors are blurred and ever more permeable and elusive is becoming even the border between war and crime Inside War goes beyond a state centered analysis and adopts an interdisciplinary and multilayered approach and is intended to foster the dialogue among researchers from different fields It places war at the core of analysis assuming that the reality of war is what we make of it and that the only insurmountable limit to our comprehension of war is our way of knowing and representing it Fabio Armao teaches courses in Politics and Globalisation Processes and Criminal Systems He has been Visiting Professor at Cornell University and co convenor of the Standing Group on Organized Crime European Consortium for Political Research Founding member of T wai Torino World Affair Institute he is also member of the Editorial Board of Global Crime His research interests and publications focus on international wars and geopolitics on violent non state actors and transnational organised crime and on urban security

Paying with Their Bodies John M. Kinder,2015-03-23 Christian Bagge an Iraq War veteran lost both his legs in a roadside bomb attack on his Humvee in 2006 Months after the accident outfitted with sleek new prosthetic legs he jogged alongside President Bush for a photo op at the White House The photograph served many functions one of them being to revive faith in an American martial ideal that war could be fought without permanent casualties and that innovative technology could easily repair war s damage When Bagge was awarded his Purple Heart however military officials asked him to wear pants to the ceremony saying that photos of the event should be soft on the eyes Defiant Bagge wore shorts America has grappled with the questions posed by injured veterans since its founding and with particular force since the early twentieth century What are the nation's obligations to those who fight in its name And when does war's legacy of disability outweigh the nation's interests at home and abroad In Paying with Their Bodies John M Kinder traces the complicated intertwined histories of war and disability in modern America Focusing in particular on the decades surrounding World War I he argues that disabled veterans have long been at the center of two competing visions of American war one that highlights the relative safety of US military intervention overseas the other indelibly associating American war with injury mutilation and suffering Kinder brings disabled veterans to the center of the American war story and shows that when we do so the history of American war over the last century begins to look very different War can no longer be seen as a discrete experience easily left behind rather its human legacies are felt for decades The first book to examine the history of American warfare through the lens of its troubled legacy of injury and disability Paying with Their Bodies will force us to think anew about war and its painful costs

Witnesses To War Fay Anderson, Richard Trembath, 2011-04-01 Witnesses to War is a landmark history of Australian war journalism covering the regional conflicts of the nineteenth century to the major conflicts of the twentieth World War I World War II Vietnam and Bosnia through to recent and ongoing wars in Iraq and Afghanistan Fay Anderson and Richard Trembath look at how journalists reported the horrors and politics of war the rise of the celebrity journalist issues of censorship and the ethics of embedding Interviews with over 40 leading journalists and photographers reveal the challenges of covering wars and the impact of the violence they witness the fear and exhilaration the regrets and successes the private costs and personal dangers Witnesses to War examines issues with continued and contemporary relevance including the genesis of the Anzac ideal and its continued use the representation of enemy and race and how technology has changed the nature of conflict reporting

Now Vincent Lavoie, 2003-01-01 While the crisis that took place in photojournalism during the 1960s brought about a significant shift in the practices discourses and institutional structures of press photography it also affected the practices of artists specifically with regard to work devoted to revitalizing the depiction of events The art world attempted to revitalize the historical genre by undertaking its critical rereading in the spirit of restoring a tradition diminished by the mass media The problem may be expressed in these terms How can history be depicted bearing in mind that the media mainly photojournalism and the electronic press have claimed a monopoly of the genre unto themselves At issue is the sizeable problem of mass media omnipotence as an obligatory referential universe for historiographical artistic practices Today it seems impossible to depict the event in any way other than by accentuating or eschewing the formal attributes rhetorical artifices and ideological precepts of the mass media These approaches to addressing historical moments have been examined in this article both because they epitomize contemporary historical writing and for the most part they constitute critical responses to stereotyped depictions of events Above all they represent a paradigm shift the mass media s prerogatives for depicting historical moments has shifted towards the field of art Contemporary depictions of catastrophe crimes sensationalist news items terrorist attacks humanitarian disasters genocides common themes in many of the artistic projects represented in the 8th edition of the Mois de la Photo a Montreal have been especially striking in this respect For of all contemporary events catastrophes are the most likely to be spontaneously propelled to the top of the news roster and the most susceptible to the various inflections of contemporary art photography
