Louqsor Temple Du Ka Royal:

Current Research in Egyptology 2006 Maria Cannata, 2007-07-01 The Seventh annual Current Research in Egyptology Symposium CRE 2006 was held on 6-8 April 2006 at the University of Oxford and brought together graduate and postgraduate students of Egyptology from institutions world wide. A total of 44 students presented their new and on going research on a variety of topics including archaeology, art and architecture, history and society, literature and language, religion, museum studies, scientific analysis, history of Egyptology and egyptomania spanning the entire period of Egyptian history from Predynastic to Coptic times. The papers published here cover the same wide range of research areas and multi disciplinary approaches. The Supreme Council of Antiquities, 2010-01-01 A regular Egyptological forum for scholarly discussion of the various aspects of ancient Egyptian art, objects and collections, conservation and museology. Concepts in Middle Kingdom Funerary Culture Rune Nyord, 2019-05-20 Concepts in Middle Kingdom Funerary Culture presents a collection of archaeological and philological papers discussing how ancient Egyptians thought and how modern scholars may think about Egyptian funerary practices of the early 2nd millennium BCE. Targeting the concepts used by modern scholars, the papers address both general methodological questions of how concepts should be developed and used and more specific ones about the history and presuppositions behind particular Egyptological concepts. In so doing, the volume brings to the fore occasionally problematic intellectual baggage that have hindered understanding as well as highlighting new promising avenues of research in ancient Egyptian funerary culture in the Middle Kingdom and more broadly. New and insightful suggestions are made, many of which challenge the basic frames of reference of Western Egyptological study from funerary practice to issues of identity. The methodological models should be of considerable interest to those studying aspects of the HB and ancient Levant related to funerary culture where studies have often tended towards the etic. David Beadle, Journal for the Study of the Old Testament 44:5, 2020. From the Field of Offerings Sue D'Auria, Peter Lacovara, 2023-06-01 This Memorial volume honors the life and work of Prof Lanny David Bell, April 30, 1941–August 26, 2019, a leading scholar in Egyptology and a beloved teacher and colleague to so many. It includes a biography of Dr Bell along with contributions from eminent scholars on the topics of ancient art, archaeology, religion, and philology. Ancient Egyptian Temple Ritual Katherine Eaton, 2014-03-14 Large state temples in ancient Egypt were vast agricultural estates with interests in mining, trading, and other economic activities. The temple itself served as the mansion or palace of the deity to whom the estate belonged, and much of the ritual in temples was devoted to offering a representative sample of goods to the gods. After ritual performances, produce was paid as wages to priests and temple staff and presented as offerings to private mortuary establishments. This redistribution became a daily ritual in which many basic necessities of life for elite Egyptians were produced. This book evaluates the influence of common temple rituals not only on the day-to-day lives of ancient Egyptians but also on their special events, economics, and politics. Author Katherine Eaton argues that a study of these daily rites ought to be the first step in analyzing the structure of more complex societal processes

7. Ägyptologische Tempeltagung René Preys, 2009 Building a temple implies the mastering of different technicalities such as the commissioning and payment of the building process procuring and transporting building material the organization of work and the practical execution of building and decoration projects But building a temple is also translating a religious idea into stone From the design to the consecration of the temple every stage in the process answers to a set of rules that enables the building to function as a temple The aim of the 7th Tempeltagung was to examine the relation between the technical and the theological demands of temple building How was architecture influencing the ritual how did ritual texts reflect the act of construction What was the relation between the mythical temple and the actual temple Who made the decisions and who executed them What technical and theological considerations lay at the base of the choice of material and of form In other words how did the technical aspects of building influence the theological ideas how was building a temple structuring religion
