Comics studies has reached a crossroads Graphic novels have never received more attention and legitimation from scholars but new canons and new critical discourses have created tensions within a field built on the populist rhetoric of cultural studies As a result comics studies has begun to cleave into distinct camps based primarily in cultural or literary studies that attempt to dictate the boundaries of the discipline or else resist disciplinarity itself The consequence is a growing disconnect in the ways that comics scholars talk to each other or more frequently do not talk to each other or even acknowledge each other s work Breaking the Frames Populism and Prestige in Comics Studies surveys the current state of comics scholarship interrogating its dominant schools questioning their mutual estrangement and challenging their propensity to champion the comics they study Marc Singer advocates for greater disciplinary diversity and methodological rigor in comics studies making the case for a field that can embrace more critical and oppositional perspectives Working through extended readings of some of the most acclaimed comics creators including Marjane Satrapi Alan Moore Kyle Baker and Chris Ware Singer demonstrates how comics studies can break out of the celebratory frameworks and restrictive canons that currently define the field to produce new scholarship that expands our understanding of comics and their critics      Cartooning Ivan

Brunetti,2011-03-29 Provides lessons on the art of cartooning along with information on terminology tools techniques and theory      The World of the Book Des Cowley,Clare Williamson,2007 Celebration of the book drawing on the collections of the State Library of Victoria      The Book of My Lives Aleksandar Hemon,2013-03-19 The acclaimed author of The Lazarus Project revisits his youth in Sarajevo and recounts his adjustment to life in North America in this emotional memoir A Finalist for the National Book Critics Circle Award A Kirkus Reviews Best Nonfiction Book of 2013 Aleksandar Hemon s lives begin in Sarajevo a small blissful city where a young boy s life is consumed with street soccer with the neighborhood kids resentment of his younger sister and trips abroad with his engineer cum beekeeper father Here a young man s life is about poking at the pretensions of the city s elders with American music bad poetry and slightly better journalism And then his life in Chicago watching from afar as war breaks out in Sarajevo and the city comes under siege no way to return home his parents and sister fleeing Sarajevo with the family dog leaving behind all else they had ever known and Hemon himself starting a new life his own family in this new city And yet this is not really a memoir The Book of My Lives Hemon s first book of nonfiction defies convention and expectation It is a love song to two different cities it is a heartbreaking paeon to the bonds of family it is a stirring exhortation to go out and play soccer and not for the exercise It is a book not only driven by passions but also built on fierce intelligence devastating experience and sharp insight And like the best narratives it is a book that will leave you a different reader a different person with a new way of looking at the world when you ve finished The Book of My Lives is written with the full force of humanity It will make you think laugh cry and remember yourself If you ve never read Aleksandar Hemon prepare to have your worldview deepened Jonathan Safran Foer You should read Aleksandar Hemon s memoir for the same reason you should read his fiction He is not only a remarkably talented writer but also one of the great social observers a cultural anthropologist who seems at home everywhere and nowhere and who balances despair with hope anger with humor Benjamin Percy NPR

Metamedia Alexander Starre,2015-08-15 Does literature need the book With electronic texts and reading devices growing increasingly popular the codex is no longer the default format of fiction Yet as Alexander Starre shows in Metamedia American literature has rediscovered the book as an artistic medium after the first e book hype in the late 1990s By fusing narrative and design a number of bibliographic writers have created reflexive fictions metamedia that invite us to read printed formats in new ways Their work challenges ingrained theories and beliefs about literary communication and its connections to technology and materiality Metamedia explores the book as a medium that matters and introduces innovative critical concepts to better grasp its narrative significance Combining sustained textual analysis with impulses from the fields of book history media studies and systems theory Starre explains the aesthetics and the cultural work of complex material fictions such as Mark Z Danielewski's House of Leaves 2000 Chip Kidd's The Cheese Monkeys 2001 Salvador Plascencia's The People of Paper 2005 Reif Larsen's The Selected Works of T S Spivet 2009 and Jonathan Safran Foer's Tree of Codes 2010 He also broadens his analysis beyond the genre of the novel in an extensive account of the influential literary magazine McSweeney's Quarterly Concern and its founder Dave Eggers For this millennial generation of writers and publishers the computer was never a threat to print culture but a powerful tool to make better books In careful close readings Starre puts typefaces layouts and cover designs on the map of literary criticism At the same time the book steers clear of bibliophile nostalgia and technological euphoria as it follows writers designers and publishers in the process of shaping the surprising history of literary bookmaking after digitization

Making Literature Now Amy Hungerford, 2016-08-03 How does new writing emerge and find readers today Why does one writer's work become famous while another's remains invisible Making Literature Now tells the stories of the creators editors readers and critics who make their living by making literature itself come alive The book shows how various conditions including gender education business dynamics social networks money and the forces of literary tradition affect the things we can choose or refuse to read Amy Hungerford focuses her discussion on literary bestsellers as well as little known traditional and digital literature from smaller presses such as McSweeney's She deftly matches the particular human stories of the makers with the impersonal structures through which literary reputation is made

Ranging from fine grained ethnography to polemical argument this book transforms our sense of how and why new literature appears and disappears in contemporary American culture      One Man Zeitgeist: Dave Eggers, Publishing and Publicity
