exams PSA determinations and ultrasound guided prostate biopsies many cases are missed Suffice it to say that prostate cancer is a widely occurring disease in men and early detection and treatment are extremely important When I trained in Urology under Dr Reed Nesbit at the University of Michigan from 1956 to 1959 the diagnosis of prostate cancer was made by a rectal examination and an acid phosphatase determination If there was a small nodule in the prostate then an anterior posterior X ray of the pelvis was obtained to look for possible bony metastases If the acid phosphatase was normal and there was no evidence of a bony metastasis the prostate was exposed through the perineal approach and a biopsy of the nodule was obtained and sent for frozen section to Pathology to determine if it was indeed a cancer of the prostate If the biopsy came back positive the surgeon then proceeded to do a radical perineal prostatectomy In those days we usually did eight to ten radical perineal prostatectomies yearly Many times the nodule that was biopsied was benign and the incision was simply closed
