Creative Neighbourhoods Graeme Beedham, Alvin Wade, 2005-06-01

With the backing of the Arts Council England and the Housing Corporation the authors wanted to document the incredible community arts projects they found in the UK and highlight them as case studies to demonstrate the wide range of projects from small to large and how they can positively impact on communities The main part of the book comprises of 15 fantastic case studies and the benefits the community gained from these projects There is also a very helpful section on how to organise and run your own arts project Packed with brilliant full colour photographs this is an excellent book for anyone interested in the study and application of community arts projects or how to start one Handbook of Research on Nonprofit Economics and Management Bruce A. Seaman, Dennis R. Young, 2018-06-29 Building on the success of the first edition this thoroughly revised and expanded edition explores 1 areas of general agreement from previous research 2 areas of conflicting results and unexplored questions 3 the relative roles of theory data availability and empirical analysis in explaining gaps in our knowledge and 4 what must be done to improve our knowledge and extend the literature Selected original chapters addressing especially challenging topics include the value of risk management to nonprofit decision making nonprofit wages theory and evidence the valuation of volunteer labor property tax exemption for nonprofits when is competition good for the third sector and product diversification and social enterprise international perspectives the application of experimental research and the macroeconomic effects of the nonprofit sector Accounting for Culture Caroline Andrew, 2005-03-30 Many scholars practitioners and policy makers in the cultural sector argue that Canadian cultural policy is at a crossroads that the environment for cultural policy making has evolved substantially and that traditional rationales for state intervention no longer apply The concept of cultural citizenship is a relative newcomer to the cultural policy landscape and offers a potentially compelling alternative rationale for government intervention in the cultural sector Likewise the articulation and use of cultural indicators and of governance concepts are also new arrivals emerging as potentially powerful tools for policy and program development Accounting for Culture is a unique collection of essays from leading Canadian and international scholars that critically examines cultural citizenship cultural indicators and governance in the context of evolving cultural practices and cultural policy making It will be of great interest to scholars of cultural policy communications cultural studies and public administration alike Ideological, Social and Cultural Aspects of Events Omar Moufakkir, Tomas Pernecky, 2014-12-10 There is an ever growing importance of events in modern society and until now existing literature on events has been dominated by the economic perspective Social and Cultural Aspects of Events addresses the social and cultural side of events and explores the role they have in fostering change and community development It examines the transformatory function of events in the context of development studies as phenomena that can promote and facilitate human development including social societal and individual change This book provides vital and timely exploration and encourages the study of more diverse themes within event management Community Arts and Culture Initiatives in Singapore Zdravko Trivic, 2020-09-15 What Can Space Do for the Arts What Can Arts Do for Space and What

Can Arts and Space Do for the Community Through the lenses of creative placemaking and neighbourhood arts ecology Trivic re examines the position of community arts in the spatial social and cultural landscape Emphasising urban design considerations of complex interdependent relationships between arts space and people he re explores the role of community based arts activities in shaping urban neighbourhoods enriching public life and empowering communities This is divided into an analysis of spatial opportunities for the arts in the neighbourhood and a study of the impacts of bringing arts and culture activities into local neighbourhoods and communities using Singapore s nodal approach as a developed case study Using spatial opportunity analysis the book demonstrates a step by step procedure for identification and evaluation of the neighbourhood spaces that work best for community arts and culture activities In the study of impacts Trivic proposes a holistic framework for capturing and evaluating the non economic impacts of arts and culture on space society well being education and participation An invaluable template for arts event organisers and artists to assess and maximise the outcomes of their creative efforts in local neighbourhoods as well as an important reading for students and practitioners of neighbourhood planning urban design and creative placemaking
