Hodgkinson, 2013-11-11 One of the major tasks facing researchers practitioners and funders is the development of empirical tools to measure the inherent worth of nonprofit organizations as well as the sector as a whole Renowned scholars present chapters on the state of the art of performance measurement in the nonprofit sector and seek to establish a framework for a long term research agenda to identify quantify and self assess those qualities that make the nonprofit sector unique Managing Nonprofit Organizations in a Policy World Shannon K. Vaughan, Shelly Arsneault, 2013-01-08 If nonprofits influence policy make policy are affected by policy and are subject to policy then shouldn't every nonprofit manager fully understand the policy world in which they operate In explicitly tying the policy realm to management skills Shannon Vaughan and Shelly Arsneault's foundational book sheds new light on how nonprofit managers can better navigate policymaking and regulatory contexts to effectively lead their organizations Managing Nonprofit Organizations in a Policy World provides a comprehensive overview of the nonprofit sector and the policy environment with a focus on skills and strategies managers can use to advance the causes of their organizations Abundant examples and rich case studies explore the complexity of the policy nonprofit relationship and highlight both management challenges and successes While coverage of the nuts and bolts is in here what sets this book apart is tying everyday management to the broader view of how nonprofits can thrive within the policy ecosystem Measuring Social Change Alnoor Ebrahim, 2019-07-16 The social sector is undergoing a major transformation We are witnessing an explosion in efforts to deliver social change a burgeoning impact investing industry and an unprecedented intergenerational transfer of wealth Yet we live in a world of rapidly rising inequality where social sector services are unable to keep up with societal need and governments are stretched beyond their means Alnoor Ebrahim addresses one of the fundamental dilemmas facing leaders as they navigate this uncertain terrain performance measurement How can they track performance towards worthy goals such as reducing poverty improving public health or advancing human rights What results can they reasonably measure and legitimately take credit for This book tackles three core challenges of performance faced by social enterprises and nonprofit organizations alike what to measure what kinds of performance systems to build and how to align multiple demands for accountability It lays out four different types of strategies for managers to consider niche integrated emergent and ecosystem and details the types of performance measurement and accountability systems best suited to each Finally this book examines the roles of funders such as impact investors philanthropic foundations and international aid agencies laying out how they can best enable meaningful performance measurement Faith, Hope, and Jobs Stephen V.

Monsma,2006-08-04 A front burner issue on the public policy agenda today is the increased use of partnerships between government and nongovernmental entities including faith based social service organizations In the wake of President Bush s faith based initiative many are still wondering about the effectiveness of these faith based organizations in providing services to those in need and whether they provide better outcomes than more traditional government secular nonprofit and for profit organizations In Faith Hope and Jobs Stephen V Monsma and J Christopher Soper study the effectiveness of 17 different welfare to work programs in Los Angeles County a county in which the U S government spends 14% of its entire welfare budget and offer groundbreaking insight into understanding what works and what doesn t Monsma and Soper examine client assessment of the programs their progress in developing attitudes and resources important for finding self supporting employment and their experience in finding actual employment The study reveals that the clients of the more explicitly faith based programs did best in gaining in social capital and were highly positive in evaluating the religious components of their programs For profit programs tended to do the best in terms of their clients finding employment Overall the religiously active respondents tended to experience better outcomes than those who were not religiously active but surprisingly the religiously active and non active tended to do equally well in faith based programs Faith Hope and Jobs concludes with three sets of concrete recommendations for public policymakers social service program managers and researchers Performance

Measurement in Non-Profit Organizations Patrizia Gazzola,Stefano Amelio,2022-09-26 Performance Measurement in Non Profit Organizations The Road to Integrated Reporting addresses the issue of performance measurement in nonprofit companies with the aim of defining a system of useful measures to understand manage and improve the performance of such companies by employing systems theory to examine their conditions of existence and manifestations of life From the proposed company model follows that the system of performance measures should make it possible to keep under control both the productive transformation with the physical technical efficiency indicators and the economic transformation with the economic efficiency indicators and the financial transformation with the financial efficiency indicators and finally the managerial transformation with the effectiveness indicators taking into account the degree of satisfaction of the expectations of the main categories of company stakeholders Readers will understand that economic analysis alone is not sufficient to assess the performance of such organizations but it is necessary to unite it with the analysis of sustainability dimensions It would therefore be appropriate to draw up an integrated report that combines the economic and financial dimensions with the pillars of sustainability as in the case of companies in the second sector There is a gap in the literature in this area that this book aims to fill making it a valuable resource to researchers academics and advanced students interested in performance evaluation of NPOs International Encyclopedia of Civil Society Helmut K. Anheier,Stefan

Mismeasuring Impact Nicole Marwell, Jennifer Mosley,2025-07-15 The hidden dangers of randomized controlled trials The need to demonstrate the effectiveness of nonprofit social programs has led to a rapid rise in the use of randomized controlled trials RCTs for evaluation As a result most nonprofit sector professionals can tell you why nonprofits should do an RCT This book tells you why they probably shouldn't and what to do instead Mismeasuring Impact explores why RCTs are being embraced as the gold standard for nonprofit evaluation despite the high cost and time investment required and the serious problems with using RCTs in a nonprofit context Most RCTs conducted in nonprofits fail to meet required standards for rigor undercutting their accuracy The book describes what happens inside nonprofits when they take part in RCTs the unintended equity issues that arise and why nonprofits feel pressured participate in RCTs despite the problems University of Chicago professors Marwell and Mosley's research is based on extensive interviews with key players nonprofit managers professional program evaluators and program officers in philanthropic foundations The book argues that ultimately RCTs are used to poorly ground nonprofit legitimacy not to foster nonprofit improvement RCTs also privilege program and organizational standardization over the key strengths of nonprofit organizations flexible innovation and responsiveness to community needs Nonprofits and funders need forms of evaluation that lift up these strengths Mismeasuring Impact offers alternative approaches that build strong organizations not just cookie cutter programs and which funders and nonprofits of all sizes can support
