Modification Of Lipid Metabolism:

Modification of Lipid Metabolism Edward G. Perkins, 2012-12-02 Modification of Lipid Metabolism is a collection of proceedings presented at the Symposium on Modification of Lipid Metabolism held during the American Chemical Society meeting in Atlantic City New Jersey on September 10-11, 1974. The symposium provided a forum for discussing advances in the modification of lipid metabolism and tackled topics ranging from the effect of dietary rapeseed oil on cardiac tissue to inborn errors of lipid metabolism and lysosomal storage disorders. Comprised of 10 chapters, this book begins with an overview of advances in the composition, structure, and functions of lipids in metabolic pathways, followed by a discussion on the effect of dietary rapeseed oil on cardiac tissue. The reader is then introduced to genetic lipid storage diseases along with their diagnosis and treatment. Viral modification of cell surface glycosphingolipids as an important factor in contact inhibition of cell growth and division is also examined. Subsequent chapters deal with different approaches to the problem of obesity, dietary regulation of lipid storage, and the use of a metabolic inhibitor to reduce lipid storage. The importance of perinatal nutrition factors in the environment that may affect tissue lipids and their metabolism, and phase transitions in membranes, and the effect of temperature changes on changes in lipids and proteins of membranes. This monograph should be of interest to practitioners in the fields of biology, biochemistry, and food science and nutrition.

Edward George Perkins, Lloyd Allen Witting, American Chemical Society, 1975 New Strategies for Reversing Cancer Therapy Resistance Yue Du, Shengxi Chen, Xiujun Liu, Lulu Wang, 2024-04-26 Amazing anticancer therapy advancements have been made in the last decade due to tremendous innovations. Nonetheless, drug resistance remains a major challenge that limits the effectiveness of anticancer therapies, causing cancer recurrence and metastasis and being a major cause of cancer-related death. Drug resistance can be caused by complex molecular mechanisms such as gene mutations, epigenetic dysregulation, microenvironment alterations, etc. Many clinical strategies, including combination therapies and epigenetic drugs, have been used to avoid or reverse drug resistance effectively. However, the progression of cancers in patients under treatment or the lack of response of cancer patients indicate that current approaches to overcome resistance are far from sufficient and more work is needed. Enzymes of Lipid Metabolism II Louis Freysz, Henri Dreyfus, Raphaël Massarelli, Shimon Gatt, 2013-04-17 This book presents the proceedings of the 2nd meeting on Enzymes of Lipid Metabolism which took place in Strasbourg in October 1985. It is a sequel to the first conference bearing this title which took place also in the vicinity of Strasbourg in March 1977. In either case, the meetings were coorganized by L. Freysz of Strasbourg, France, and S. Gatt of Jerusalem, Israel. The present meeting was set up as a joint NATO Advanced Research Workshop and CNRS INSERM International Symposium. The conference was guided by two principles namely that science has no boundaries neither has the study of lipid metabolism Participants came from Europe the USA Israel and Japan and represented areas of research in lipid metabolism involving fatty acids cholesteryl esters glycerol and sphingolipids The experimental approaches utilized purified enzymes artificial and biological membranes as well as a variety of cells primary or cultured lines A session was also devoted to modification of lipid enzymes and metabolism resulting from inherited inborn defects such as the lipid storage diseases which are caused by genetic modification of degradative enzymes of lipid metabolism A second type of disease stemming from a defect in a cell organelle ie the peroxisome was also discussed The eight and one and a half years which elapsed since the previous meeting highlighted the changing emphasis of research in lipid metabolism

Structured and Modified Lipids Frank D. Gunstone, 2001-04-27 This text addresses critical topics in the expanding market and production for lipids It combines novel and traditional methods from technological and biological perspectives to achieve the most effective pathways for production of modified lipids The book is organized into three sections exploring development new production methods and successful products and uses

Pandey,Manoj Prasad,Amita Pandey,Maik Boehmer,2016-08-08 Abiotic stresses such as high temperature low temperature drought and salinity limit crop productivity worldwide Understanding plant responses to these stresses is essential for rational engineering of crop plants In Arabidopsis the signal transduction pathways for abiotic stresses light several phytohormones and pathogenesis have been elucidated A significant portion of plant genomes Arabidopsis and rice were mostly studied encodes for proteins involves in signaling such as receptor sensors kinases phosphatases transcription factors and transporters channels Despite decades of physiological and molecular effort knowledge pertaining to how plants sense and transduce low and high temperature low water availability drought water submergence microgravity and salinity signals is still a major question for plant biologist One major constraint hampering our understanding of these signal transduction processes in plants has been the lack or slow pace of application of molecular genomic and genetics knowledge in the form of gene function In the post genomic era one of the major challenges is investigation and understanding of multiple genes and gene families regulating a particular physiological and developmental aspect of plant life cycle One of the important physiological processes is regulation of stress response which leads to adaptation or adjustment in response to adverse stimuli With the holistic understanding of the signaling pathways involving not only one gene family but multiple genes or gene families plant biologist can lay a foundation for designing and generating future crops which can withstand the higher degree of environmental stresses especially abiotic stresses which are the major cause of crop loss throughout the world without losing crop yield and productivity Therefore in this e Book we intend to incorporate the contribution from leading plant biologists to elucidate several aspects of stress signaling by functional genomics approaches Handbook of Dialysis Therapy, E-Book Allen R.
