New Directions in Archaeology Kimball, Larry R,1988 New Directions in Archaeology ,1990 Archaeology, Annales, and Ethnohistory ,1992 New Directions in Archaeology ,1995 Guests in the House Mats Roslund,2007-09-30 Mats Roslund discusses the presence of Slavic visitors in the area corresponding to modern Sweden during the period 900 1300 AD Ethnic and cultural identity are seen through the reproduction of a Slav style in every day pottery The interpretation is preceded by an introduction to Slav archaeology and cultural identity expressed in material culture The focus is on a pottery type called Baltic ware Baltic ware has traditionally been regarded as a purely Slavic product reaching Scandinavia through trade and free moving artisans or as a result of co operation between Slavic and Scandinavian potters The aim of the book is to capture the dynamics in the interaction to distinguish regional differences between the two traditions and present a contextual interpretation The Origins and Development of the Andean State Jonathan Haas,Shelia Pozorski,Thomas Pozorski,1987-08-06 This volume brings together research on the evolution of civilisation in the Andean region of South America from the work of sixteen leading scholars at one time actively engaged in fieldwork in Peru Beginning with early chiefdom societies living along the Peruvian coast 2000 years before Christ the authors trace the growing complexity of Andean states and empires over the next 3000 years They examine the accomplishments of the ancient Andeans in the rise of magnificent monumental architecture and the construction of unparalleled prehistoric irrigation systems They also look at the dominant role of warfare in Andean societies and at the collapse of empires in the millennia before the arrival of the Spanish in 1534 Together the contributors provide the first systematic study of the evolution of polities along the dry coastal plains and high mountain valleys of the Peruvian Andes The Archaeology of Contextual Meanings Ian Hodder,1987-08-06 This companion volume to Archaeology as Long term History focuses on the symbolism of artefacts It seeks at once to refine the theory and method relating to interpretation and show with examples how to conduct this sort of archaeological work Some contributors work with the material culture of modern times or the historic period areas in which the symbolism of mute artefacts has traditionally been thought most accessible However the book also contains a good number of applications in prehistory to demonstrate the feasibility of symbolic interpretation where good contextual data survive from the distant past In relation to wider debates within the social sciences the volume is characterised by a concern to place abstract symbolic codes within their historical context and within the contexts of social actions In this respect it develops further some of the ideas presented in Dr Hodder s Symbolic and Structural Archaeology an earlier volume in this series Cultural Identity in the Roman Empire Dr Joanne Berry,Joanne Berry,Ray Laurence,2002-09-11 This provocative and often controversial volume examines concepts of ethnicity citizenship and nationhood to determine what constituted cultural identity in the Roman Empire The contributors draw together the most recent research and use diverse theoretical and methodological perspectives from archaeology classical studies and ancient history to challenge our basic assumptions of Romanization and how parts of Europe became incorporated into a Roman culture Cultural Identity in the Roman Empire breaks new ground arguing that the idea of a unified and easily defined Roman culture is over simplistic and offering alternative theories and models This well documented and timely book presents cultural identity throughout the Roman empire as a complex and diverse issue far removed from the previous notion of a dichotomy between the Roman invaders and the Barbarian conquered New Directions in Archaeological Science Andrew S. Fairbairn, Sue O'Connor, Benjamin Marwick, 2009-02-01 Archaeological Science meetings will have a personality of their own depending on the focus of the host archaeological fraternity itself The 8th Australasian Archaeometry meeting follows this pattern but underlying the regional emphasis is the continuing concern for the processes of change in the landscape that simultaneously effect and illuminate the archaeological record These are universal themes for any archaeological research with the increasing employment of science based studies proving to be a key to understanding the place of humans as subjects and agents of change over time This collection of refereed papers covers the thematic fields of geoarchaeology archaeobotany materials analysis and chronometry with particular emphasis on the first two The editors Andrew Fairbairn Sue O Connor and Ben Marwick outline the special value of these contributions in the introduction The international nature of archaeological science will mean that the advances set out in these papers will find a receptive audience among many archaeologists elsewhere There is no doubt that the story that Australasian archaeology has to tell has been copiously enriched by incorporating a widening net of advanced science based studies This has brought attention to the nature of the environment as a human artefact a fact now more widely appreciated and archaeology deals with these artefacts among others in this way in this publication Hunters in Transition Marek Zvelebil, 2009-06-18 Hunters in Transition analyses the emergence of post glacial hunter gatherer communities and the development of farming
