During the 1990s, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) have been working to address the problem of illegal dumping of hazardous waste. The EPA has been leading the way in this effort, and the DOJ has been providing legal support. The EPA has been working to identify and locate illegal dumpsites, and the DOJ has been prosecuting the responsible parties. The EPA has also been working to develop and implement regulations to prevent illegal dumping of hazardous waste. The DOJ has been working to ensure that these regulations are enforced. The EPA and the DOJ have been working together to address this problem for many years, and they continue to be committed to this effort.
