Passion In The Wind:

Passion in the Wind A. M. Leduc, 2011 Alan Leduc and Tim Yow circumnavigate the U S and Canada on their motorcycles driving more than 23 000 miles in 48 days Getting Your Second Wind Jan Tilley, 2008-08 In Getting Your Second Wind you won't find instructions on how to lose 100 pounds in a month or how to be happy eating nothing but rabbit food. Instead Jan's wise words will spur you to tap into your motivation and use it to propel you to success. This is a guide to making a fresh start and finding your personal path to wellness. Join Jan on your journey and discover How to clear the clutter and uncover the real you How to identify the passions that drive you How to embrace who you are inside and out How to make wise food and fitness choices How to build a fitness regimen that will keep you motivated How to overcome life's challenges to find contentment How to live with purpose and joy Anyone can enjoy a powerful transformation and find personal fulfillment through deliberately making healthy choices in diet exercise and mental outlook All it takes is commitment and a willingness to change one workout one meal one life lesson at a time So let's go It's time to harness the power of your second wind Rembrandt Is in the Wind Russ Ramsey, 2022-03-22 How do art and faith intersect How does art help us see our own lives more clearly What can we understand about God and humanity by looking at the lives of artists Striving for beauty art also reveals what is broken It presents us with the tremendous struggles and longings common to the human experience And it says a lot about our Creator too Great works of art can speak to the soul in a unique way Rembrandt Is in the Wind is an invitation to discover some of the world's most celebrated artists and works and how each of them illuminates something about God people and the purpose of life Part art history part biblical study part philosophy and part analysis of the human experience this book is nonetheless all story From Michelangelo to Vincent van Gogh to Edward Hopper the lives of the artists in this book illustrate the struggle of living in this world and point to the beauty of the redemption available to us in Christ Each story is different Some conclude with resounding triumph while others end in struggle But all of them raise important questions about humanity's hunger and capacity for glory and all of them teach us to love and see beauty The artists featured in these pages artists who devoted their lives and work to what is good true and beautiful remind us that we can and should do the same Karen Swallow Prior author of On Reading Well Humoring the Body Gail Kern Paster, 2010-11-15 Though modern readers no longer believe in the four humors of Galenic naturalism blood choler melancholy and phlegm early modern thought found in these bodily fluids key to explaining human emotions and behavior In Humoring the Body Gail Kern Paster proposes a new way to read the emotions of the early modern stage so that contemporary readers may recover some of the historical particularity in early modern expressions of emotional self experience Using notions drawn from humoral medical theory to untangle passages from important moral treatises medical texts natural histories and major plays of Shakespeare and his contemporaries Paster identifies a historical phenomenology in the language of affect by reconciling the significance of the four humors as the language of embodied emotion She urges modern readers to resist the influence of post Cartesian abstraction and the disembodiment of human psychology lest they miss the body mind connection that still existed for Shakespeare and his contemporaries and constrained them to think differently about how their emotions were embodied in a premodern world Riding in the Wind James T. Thomas,2003

With My Face to the Wind Linda Anne King,2012-02 Like cancer untreated PTSD can kill if not the body the mind and soul Linda King has portrayed in real time what it is like to live with full blown post traumatic stress disorder With My Face to the Wind is not only for those who have PTSD or those who support friends and family with PTSD but it is also for professionals who want a window into the mind and heart of someone struggling to overcome PTSD With this 2021 revision Linda hopes that readers who have lived with the symptoms of this disorder which often goes undiagnosed will learn coping skills along with hope and faith to continue on their journey Linda King s With My Face to the Wind is an inspiring read like no other Her story is one of the tragedies and triumphs with tears and laughter guiding the way Mrs King knows how to tell her tales and pushes her readers to better themselves by accepting themselves I suggest this book to anyone PTSD suffers mis understood teenagers and those who are perfectly fine This book will lead you to your best self Anna Katherine Beerman While sharing some of her personal tragedies Linda King weaves just enough verifiable psychological content without causing brain freeze to know that she s done her homework Her wit and humor shine through just in the nick of time Rhonda B Holmes Author The WORD Diet What you have written is too powerful to be read in one or two settings As a registered nurse I ve been accustomed to reading professional abstracts and journals quickly and incorporating new learning into my nursing practice It was the unanticipated emotional impact that caused me to read it in small doses spread over a couple of months and your format of introducing that information throughout the book as it coincided with stages in your own emotional journey will make it much easier for individuals affected by PTSD to understand and apply it to their own circumstances Elen Wright R N Songs of Wind and Wave Arthur Leslie Salmon,1916 Wind's Embrace Pasquale De Marco,2025-05-09 Wind s Embrace is a journey into the heart of the wind This book explores the many facets of the wind from its role in nature to its power to inspire and destroy The wind is an unseen force that surrounds us yet we often take it for granted We feel its caress on our skin hear its whisper in the trees and witness its fury in storms But what is the wind and what power does it hold In this book we will learn about the wind s role in the water cycle the pollination of plants and the dispersal of seeds We will also explore the wind s power to create and destroy from the formation of sand dunes to the erosion of coastlines The wind is also a source of inspiration It has been the subject of countless works of art literature and music The wind can evoke feelings of freedom adventure and hope It can also be a reminder of our own mortality and the transience of life The wind is a powerful force that can have a profound impact on our lives It is a force that we should respect and appreciate The wind is a reminder that we are all connected to the natural world and that we are all subject to the forces of nature Wind s Embrace is a beautifully written and thought provoking exploration of the wind This book is a
