Campbell, 1993 the book a better informed person Race and News Christopher P. Campbell, Kim M. LeDuff, Cheryl D. Jenkins, Rockell A. Brown, 2013-07-03 The history of American journalism is marked by disturbing representations of people and communities of color from the disgraceful stereotypes of pre civil rights America to the more subtle myths that are reflected in routine coverage by journalists all over the country Race and News Critical Perspectives aims to examine these journalistic representations of race and in doing so to question whether or not we are living in a post racial world By looking at national coverage of stories like the Don Imus controversy Hurricane Katrina Barak Obama's presidential candidacy and even the Virginia Tech shootings readers are given an opportunity to gain insight into both subtle and overt forms of racism in the newsroom and in national dialogue The book itself is divided into two sections with the first examining the journalistic routine and the decisions that go into covering a story with or without relation to race The second section comprised of case studies explores the coverage of national stories and how they have impacted the dialogue on race and racism in the United States As a whole the collection of essays and studies also reflects a variety of research approaches With a goal of contributing to the discussion about race and its place in American journalism this broad examination makes Race and News an ideal text for courses on cultural diversity and the media as well as making it valuable to professional journalists and journalism students who seek to improve their approach to coverage of diverse communities Resistance Advocacy as News Benjamin Rex LaPoe II, Victoria L. Tilt? David Niven,2002-09-30 Nine in ten Americans believe the media are biased Trust in journalists ranks beneath that in lawyers and even the media themselves regularly portray their own industry as slanted toward Democrats and liberals. These perceptions however do not coincide with reality as David Niven reveals in his bold new take on an often debated subject. Tilt The Search for Media Bias presents the first comprehensive review of the charges the evidence and the effects beginning with a simple but altogether overlooked premise to measure media bias or fairness one has to have a fair baseline with which to compare coverage Using situations in which presidents governors mayors and members of Congress from different political parties have produced the same results in office Tilt compares media coverage of Democrats and Republicans in situations in which they clearly deserved equal treatment The lack of evidence for partisan media bias is only part of the story The media cover allegations of bias as if their industry has already been tried and convicted while the American people readily accepted the premise that their main sources of information are selfishly slanted toward reporters personal political agendas Niven's findings unmistakable and consistent reveal that when the output of politicians is the same media coverage follows a conclusion that is as provocative as it is timely and necessary Prime Time Prisons on U.S. TV Bill Yousman, 2009 In the current era of rampant incarceration and an ever expanding prison industrial complex this crucial book breaks down the distorted and sensationalistic version of imprisonment found on U S television Examining local and national television news broadcast network crime dramas and the cable television prison drama Oz the book provides a comprehensive analysis of the stories and images of incarceration most widely seen by viewers in the U S and around the world The textual analysis is augmented by interviews with individuals who have spent time in U S prisons and jails their insights provide important context while encouraging readers to critically reflect on their own responses to television images of imprisonment Appropriate for both undergraduates and postgraduates Prime Time Prisons on U S TV is useful for courses in media criticism media literacy popular culture television studies and criminology Say It Loud!
