Racism And Ethnicity Critical Issues In New Zealand Society By Spoonley Paul:

Racism and Ethnicity Paul Spoonley, 1988 Meaningful Inconsistencies Neriko Musha Doerr, 2009-07-01 School differentiates students and provides differential access to various human and material resources along a range of axes from elected subjects and academic achievement to ethnicity age gender or the language they speak These categorizations affected throughout the world by neoliberal reforms that prioritize market forces in transforming educational institutions are especially stark in societies that recognize their bi or multicultural makeup through bilingual education A small town in Aotearoa New Zealand with its contemporary shift toward official biculturalism and extensive free marketization of schooling is a prime example Set in the microcosm of a secondary school with a bilingual program this important volume closely examines not only the implications of categorizing individuals in ethnic terms in their everyday life but also the shapes and meaning of education within the discourse of academic achievement It is an essential resource for those interested in bilingual education and its effects on the formations of subjectivities ethnic relations and nationhood Narratives of Migrant and Refugee Discrimination in New Zealand Angela McCarthy, 2022-08-31 This book explores the question of whether the conceptualisation of New Zealand as a welcoming nation is accurate Examining historical and contemporary narratives of migrant and refugee discrimination it considers the economic social political cultural and historical contexts from which discrimination emerges and its repercussions Alert to race and ethnicity gender age class religion and inter ethnic migrant conflict this volume traverses an array of discriminatory practices including xenophobia racism and sectarianism and responses to them With rich evidence fascinating new insights and engagement comparatively and transnationally with global themes of exploitation exclusion and inequalities Narratives of Migrant and Refugee Discrimination in New Zealand will appeal to scholars across the humanities and social sciences with interests in migration and diaspora studies race and ethnicity and refugee studies The Routledge Handbook of Architecture, Urban Space and Politics, Volume II Nikolina Bobic, Farzaneh Haghighi, 2024-11-22 Architecture and the urban are connected to challenges around violence security race and ideology spectacle and data The first volume of this handbook extensively explored these oppressive roles This second volume illustrates that escaping the corporatized and bureaucratized orders of power techno managerial and consumer oriented capitalist economic models is more urgent and necessary than ever before Herein lies the political role of architecture and urban space including the ways through which they can be transformed and alternative political realities constituted The volume explores the methods and spatial practices required to activate the political dimension and the possibility for alternative practices to operate in the existing oppressive systems while not being swallowed by these structures Fostering new political consciousness is explored in terms of the following themes Events and Dissidence Biopolitics Ethics and Desire Climate and Ecology Urban Commons and Social Participation Marginalities and Postcolonialism Volume II embraces engagement across disciplines and offers a wide range of projects and critical analyses across the so called Global North and South This multidisciplinary collection of 36 chapters provides the reader with an extensive resource of case studies and ways of thinking for architecture and urban space to become more emancipatory Chapter 1 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution CC BY 4.0 license Political Expression and Ethnicity Kayleen M. Hazlehurst, 1993-02-28 Examination of the political manifestation of Maori ethnicity no Australian reference New Zealand Books in Print, 1999

Maori and the State Richard S. Hill, 2010-04-01 Presenting the most recent research and written by an expert in the field this examination explores the principal interrelationships between the British Crown and the Maori people in the 1950s and 1960s when Crown assimilation policies intensified and during the 1970s when the pressure of the Maori renaissance encouraged policies and goals based on biculturalism A subject central to New Zealand's culture this is an important and historical analysis of the country and the wider issue of indigenous peoples rights Australasia and South Pacific Islands Bibliography John Thawley, 1997-02-20 This selective bibliography of nearly 6 000 items concentrates on monographs published during the last fifty years updating other major bibliographies on the Australasian and South Pacific region A London Bibliography of the Social Sciences, 1931 Vols 1-4 include material to June 1 1929 Mixed Race Identities in Asia and the Pacific Zarine L. Rocha, 2015-10-08 Mixed race is becoming an important area for research and there is a growing body of work in the North American and British contexts However understandings and experiences of mixed race across different countries and regions are not often explored in significant depth New Zealand and Singapore provide important contexts for investigation as two multicultural yet structurally divergent societies Within these two countries mixed race describes a particularly interesting label for individuals of mixed Chinese and European parentage This book explores the concept of mixed race for people of mixed Chinese and European descent looking at how being Chinese and or European can mean many different things in different contexts By looking at different communities in Singapore and New Zealand it investigates how individuals of mixed heritage fit into or are excluded from these communities Increasingly individuals of mixed ancestry are opting to identify outside of traditionally defined racial categories posing a challenge to systems of racial classification and to sociological understandings of race As case studies Singapore and New Zealand provide key examples of the complex relationship between state categorization and individual identities The book explores the divergences between identity and classification and the ways in which identity labels affect experiences of mixed race in everyday life Personal stories reveal the creative and flexible ways in which people cross boundaries and the everyday negotiations between classification heritage experience and nation in defining identity The study is based on qualitative research including in depth interviews with people of mixed heritage in both countries Filling an important gap in the literature by using an Asia Pacific dimension this study of race and ethnicity will appeal to students and scholars of mixed race studies ethnicity Chinese diaspora and cultural anthropology Whitaker's Books in Print, 1998 Histories,

Power and Loss Andrew Sharp, P.G. McHugh, 2015-12-29 From the 1970s onwards M ori began a concerted effort to confront P keh with the wrongs done during the colonisation of New Zealand They made highly contested claims for reparation of past wrongs and the restitution of their political power putting history at the heart of their claims This process of drawing on the past is examined by a wide range of writers both M ori and P keh and all highly respected thinkers in history law and philosophy Histories Power and Loss offers an incisive analysis that is relevant to any country where political and legal relations between indigenous peoples and colonisers are being scrutinised New Zealand Books in Print 1998 Bowker, 1998-02 More than 20 000 titles from New Zealand book trade associations literary awards agents booksellers libraries others From D W Thorpe ANZJS ,1992 Cinema, Cross-Cultural Collaboration, and Criticism D. Thornley, 2014-11-07 Cinema Cross Cultural Collaboration and Criticism provides a platform for a new politics of criticism a collaborative ethos for a different kind of relationship to cross cultural cinema that invites further conversations between filmmakers and audiences indigenous and others Tongans Overseas Helen Morton Lee, 2003-01-31 Since the late 1960s Tongans have been leaving their islands in large numbers and settling in many different nations Tongans Overseas is a timely look at their settlement experiences as they relate to cultural identity particularly among the younger generations raised outside Tonga What does being Tongan mean to these young people Why do some proudly proclaim and cherish their Tongan identities while others remain ambivalent confused or indifferent Helen Morton Lee s innovative research offers insights into these and many other questions revealing the complexities of identity construction in the context of migration and the varied ways in which individuals seek a sense of belonging Using both traditional ethnographic fieldwork and newly popular Internet discussion forums where young Tongans speak their minds and describe their experiences Lee has produced the most comprehensive study of Tongan migrants to date Throughout the book diasporic Tongans speak eloquently about their lives and case studies of families and individuals bring the analysis to life Lee explores tensions within overseas communities especially the intergenerational conflicts that are contributing to the alienation of many young Tongans today The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 1993 Global Hakka Jessieca Leo, 2015-08-25 In Global Hakka Hakka Identity in the Remaking Jessieca Leo offers a needed update on Hakka history and a reassessment of Hakka identity in the global and transnational contexts Leo gives fresh insights into concepts such as ethnicity identity Han Chineseness overseas Chinese and migration in relation to Hakka identity Globalization transnationalism deterritorialization and migration drive the rapid transformation and reformation of Hakka identity to the point of no return Dehakalization through cultural adaptation or genetic transfer has created an elastic identity in the global Hakka and different kinds of Hakka communities around the world Jessieca Leo convincingly shows that the concept of being Hakka in the twenty first century is better referred to as Hakkaness a quality determined by lifestyle and personal choices Among the Chinese tradition long resisted the idea of migration In practice however there were many layers of adaptation to different circumstances The Hakka have been exceptional in having always been conscious of their migratory successes This book explores with great sensitivity how Hakka history outside China influences the way they respond to the new global environment Combining careful scholarship with self discovery Jessieca Leo captures the processes by which one group of Chinese became migrants who consider migration as normal Her fascinating and original work takes the study of the Hakka to a higher level and offers fresh insights for understanding how other migratory Chinese are transforming tradition today Professor Wang Gungwu National University of Singapore New Zealand Society Paul Spoonley, David G. Pearson, Ian F. Shirley, 1990 New Zealand Society introduces the reader to a sociological understanding of contemporary New Zealand society Sociology is a discipline which offers new and critical insights on the way in which society works It provides an exciting area of study and the best of New Zealand sociology is provided here as specialist contributors discuss their particular areas of interest family community urban rural class racism and ethnicity gender the state social policy health education politics the media crime and deviance work leisure arts and population This book is based on the earlier and very successful New Zealand Sociological Perspectives 1982 It contains material which is easily understood and it covers all the major areas and issues of contemporary society

The New New Zealand Paul Spoonley, 2020-08-13 In this timely book New Zealand's best known commentator on population trends Distinguished Professor Paul Spoonley shows how as New Zealand moves into the 2020s the demographic dividends of the last 70 years are turning into deficits Our population patterns have been disrupted More boomers fewer children an ever bigger Auckland and declining regions are the new normal We will need new economic models new ways of living Spoonley says It is not a crisis even if at times it feels like it but rather something that needs to be understood and responded to But I fear that policy makers and politicians are not up to the challenge That would be a crisis
