Racism And Cultural Diversity In The Mass Me:

'Sleepwalking to segregation'? Nissa Finney, Ludi Simpson, 2009-01-21 In the context of renewed debates about diversity and cohesion this book interrogates contemporary claims about race and migration It demonstrates that many of the claims are myths presenting evidence in support of and in opposition to them in an accessible yet academically rigorous manner The book combines an easy to read overview of the subject with innovative new research It tackles head on questions about levels of immigration the contribution of immigrants minority self segregation ghettoisation and the future diversity of the population The authors argue that the myths of race and migration are the real threat to an integrated society and recommend that focus should return to problems of inequality and prejudice

Bilingualism and Multiculturalism in Greek Education Nikos Gogonas, 2010-04-16 Bilingualism and Multiculturalism in Greek Education investigates the factors affecting language maintenance shift among second generation Albanian and Egyptian migrant pupils in Athens Using a combined quantitative and qualitative methodology it explores the influence of three sets of variables on language maintenance These are a ethnolinguistic vitality defined by the demography status and institutional support of each group in Greece as well as migrant and Greek pupils perceptions regarding these factors b migrant parents attitudes to language maintenance and their role in language transmission in the home and c the attitudes of teachers and the institutional approaches of mainstream Greek education to linguistic and cultural diversity Results indicate that knowledge of Greek is common among today s children of Albanian and Egyptian immigrants and preference for that language is dominant bilingualism varies slightly between Albanian and Egyptian second generation pupils with Egyptians being more dominant in the parental language due to their higher degree of identification with their ethnic group in comparison to the Albanian pupils the school context plays a significant role in the ability of second generation youths to achieve and maintain bilingual fluency

Migration, Transnationalism, and Faith in Missiological Perspective Kirsteen Kim,Alexia Salvatierra,2022-04-04 Los Angeles is a global crossroads of migrating communities that presents a case study of migration transnationalism and interfaith engagement with significant implications for thinking and practice in other global hubs This book weaves together contributions from internationally recognized scholars who were brought together for the 2020 Missiology Lectures at Fuller Theological Seminary They examine historical waves of migration European Protestant Asian Latino a and Muslim into Southern California and use sociological missiological and theological methods to understand the experience of migration and its effects both on those who move and those who are already there The result shows how migrants are inspired and sustained by faith and spiritual resources how migration challenges faith communities about their identity and attitudes to others how faith communities in turn impact the migration landscape through immigrant integration and public advocacy and how migration forges new transnational and global ways of being in community and innovative religious movements The contributors put forward a mission theology of migration and suggest mission practices in response to the suffering caused by forced migration and the injustices of immigration systems

Cultural Hegemony in the United States Lee Artz, Bren Ortega Murphy, 2000-06-23 Popular usage equates hegemony with dominance a meaning far from Antonio Gramsci's original concept where hegemony appears as a contested culture that meets the minimum needs of the majority while serving the interests of the dominant class This text is the first to present cultural hegemony in its original form as a process of consent resistance and coercion Hegemony is illustrated with examples from American history and contemporary culture including practices that represent race gender and class in everyday life U S cultural hegemony depends in part on how well media government and other dominant institutions popularize beliefs and organize practices that promote individualism and consumerism Corporate dominance and market values reign only through the consent of the majority which for the time being finds material political and cultural benefit from existing social relations As deep social contradictions undermine brittle hegemonic relations the subordinate majority including blacks women and workers will seek a new cultural hegemony that overcomes race gender and class inequality

Making Sense of Mass Education Gordon Tait, 2018-11-29 Making Sense of Mass Education provides an engaging and accessible analysis of traditional issues associated with mass education The book challenges preconceptions about social class gender and ethnicity discrimination highlights the interplay between technology media popular culture and schooling and inspects the relevance of ethics and philosophy in the modern classroom The third edition has been comprehensively updated to include the latest research statistics and legal policies Each chapter challenges and breaks down common myths surrounding each topic encouraging pre service teachers to think critically and reflect on their own beliefs The inclusion of a new chapter on alternative education reflects the ever changing Australian educational landscape In Making Sense of Mass Education Gordon Tait expertly blurs disciplinary boundaries drawing on sociology cultural studies history philosophy ethics and jurisprudence to provide a comprehensive understanding of the fundamental concepts of mass education
