Safe Harbor A Story Of Abuse And Redemption:

Safe Harbor Robert O. Barclay, 2001-11 The story of a mother and son who have to rebuild their lives after their alcoholic and abusive husband father dies The son at fourteen is struggling with the idea of girls and sex The mother after a lifetime of misery is trying to find happiness Both need to learn how to love      Making an Issue of Child Abuse Barbara J. Nelson, 2016-04-23 In this absorbing story of how child abuse grew from a small private sector charity concern into a multimillion dollar social welfare issue Barbara Nelson provides important new perspectives on the process of public agenda setting Using extensive personal interviews and detailed archival research she reconstructs an invaluable history of child abuse policy in America She shows how the mass media presented child abuse to the public how government agencies acted and interacted and how state and national legislatures were spurred to strong action on this issue Nelson examines prevailing theories about agenda setting and introduces a new conceptual framework for understanding how a social issue becomes part of the public agenda This issue of child abuse she argues clearly reveals the scope and limitations of social change initiated through interest group politics Unfortunately the process that transforms an issue into a popular cause Nelson concludes brings about programs that ultimately address only the symptoms and not the roots of such social problems

DeMuth, 2019-08-13 Timely and necessary This book is not only a warning It is an opportunity An opportunity to live out the gospel we so passionately proclaim And it starts with listening J D Greear President of the Southern Baptist Convention Time's Up Addressing the Unspoken Crisis in the Church We like to think the church is a haven for the hurting But what happens when it's not Author and advocate Mary DeMuth urges the church she loves to rise up and face the evil of sexual abuse and harassment with candor and empathy Based on research and survivors stories along with fierce fidelity to Scripture DeMuth unpacks the church's response to sexual violence and provides a healthy framework for the church to become a haven of healing instead of an institution of judgment In the throes of the MeToo movement our response as Christians is vital God beckons us to be good Samaritans to those facing trauma and brokenness in the aftermath of abuse and provide safe spaces to heal DeMuth advocates for a culture of honesty and listening and calls on the church to enter the places where people are hurting In the circle of that kind of empathetic WeToo community the church must become what it's meant to be a place of justice and healing for everyone The Lost Child Complex in Australian Film Terrie Waddell, 2019-03-27 The mythologising of lost and abandoned children significantly influences Australian storytelling In The Lost Child Complex in Australian Film Terrie Waddell looks at the concept of the lost child from a psychological and cultural perspective Taking an interdisciplinary Jungian approach she re-evaluates this cyclic storytelling motif in history literature and the creative arts as the nucleus of a cultural complex a group obsession that as Jung argued of all complexes has us Waddell explores the lost child in its many manifestations as an element of the individual and collective psyche historically related to the trauma of colonisation and war and as key theme in Australian cinema from the industry's formative years to the present day The films discussed in textual depth transcend literal lost in the bush mythologies or actual cases of displaced children to focus on vulnerable children rendered lost through government and institutional practices and adult parental characters developmentally arrested by comforting or traumatic childhood memories The victory winning fixation governing the USA diametrically opposed to the lost child motif is also discussed as a comparative example of the mesmerising nature of the cultural complex Examining iconic characters and events such as the Gallipoli Campaign and Trump's presidency and films such as The Babadook Lion and Predestination this book scrutinises the way in which a culture talks to itself about itself This analysis looks beyond the melancholy traditionally ascribed to the lost child by arguing that the repetitive and prolific imagery that this theme stimulates can be positive and inspiring The Lost Child Complex in Australian Film is a unique and compelling work which will be highly relevant for academics and students of Jungian and post Jungian ideas cultural studies screen and media studies It will also appeal to Jungian psychotherapists and analytical psychologists as well as readers with a broader interest
