Salaam Bombay:

SALAAM BOMBAY Sooni Taraporevala, 2013-03-01 Mercy in Her Eyes John Kenneth Muir, 2006 Applause Books This is the first book to examine the films of the acclaimed and popular Indian born and Harvard educated filmmaker Mira Nair. A unique voice in cinema today, she is one of the few female directors who made it to the top of a male dominated profession. Her films feature an incomparably sensuous visual style yet at the same time often record the injustice of the disenfranchised and the cross pollination of East and West. Her twin themes of realism and romance make for dazzling cinema. John Kenneth Muir analyzes all of Nair's work including Salaam Bombay 1988 the groundbreaking story of a young boy abandoned by his family on the streets of Bombay, Mississippi Masala 1991 an interracial small town romance between an Indian woman Sarita Choudhury and an African American businessman Denzel Washington, Monsoon Wedding 2001 featuring a Bollywood carnival atmosphere, one of the most successful foreign films ever released in the United States, Hysterical Blindness 2002 the HBO film featuring Uma Thurman and Juliette Lewis looking for love in all the wrong places. The big budget Hollywood adaptation of the Thackeray novel Vanity Fair 2004 starring Reese Witherspoon, Gabriel Byrne and Eileen Atkins.

An Accented Cinema Hamid Naficy, 2018-06-05 In An Accented Cinema Hamid Naficy offers an engaging overview of an important trend in the filmmaking of postcolonial Third World and other displaced individuals living in the West. How their personal experiences of exile or diaspora translate into cinema is a key focus of Naficy's work. Although the experience of expatriation varies greatly from one person to the next, the films themselves exhibit stylistic similarities from their open and closed form aesthetics to their nostalgic and memory driven multilingual narratives and from their emphasis on political agency to their concern with identity and transgression of identity. The author explores such features while considering the specific histories of individuals and groups that engender divergent experiences, institutions and modes of cultural production and consumption. Treating creativity as a social practice, he demonstrates that the films are in dialogue not only with the home and host societies but also with audiences, many of whom are also situated astride cultures and whose desires and fears the filmmakers wish to express. Comparing these films to Hollywood films, Naficy calls them accented. Their accent results from the displacement of the filmmakers, their alternative production modes and their style. Accented cinema is an emerging genre, one that requires new sets of viewing skills on the part of audiences. Its significance continues to grow in terms of output, stylistic variety, cultural diversity and social impact. This book offers the first comprehensive and global coverage of this genre while presenting a framework in which to understand its intricacies.

New York Magazine, 1988-10-24 New York Magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country. With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion, the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea.
